BAN ON BEER IS APPROVED BY SENATORS

Use of Malt Liquors for Medicinal Purpose Is Outlawed by Action; Measure Is Sent to Harding for Signature

Original Drastic Provision for Search of Homes Without Warrant Is Stricken Out of Law; Twenty-two Vote 'No'

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov 18.—Congressional action on legislation to prohibit the medical prescription of beer and other malt liquors was completed today through adoption by the Senate, 56 to 22, of the conference report. The legislation which would also put additional "teeth" in the nation's prohibition enforcement code now goes to the President, the House having acted last August.

Twelve Republicans and ten Democrats voted against the conference report.

The Republican opponents were Senators Brandegee, Dupont, Edge, Johnson, LaFollette, Lodge, McLean, Penrose, Phipps, Shortridge, Wadsworth and Weller.

The Democrats were Senators Brousard, Gerry, King, Pomerene, Ransdell, Shields, Stanlty, Underwood, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Watson.

33 REPUBLICANS AND 23 DEMOCRATS IN FAVOR.

Two others, Senators Reed, Democrat, Missouri, and Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, were paired against the bill.

Thirty-three Republicans and twenty-three Democrats supported the measure.

The bill will set aside the ruling by former Attorney-General Palmer, who, two days before he retired, informed prohibition enforcement officials that there was nothing in the Volstead act to prohibit the prescription of beer and light wines for medicinal purposes.

The legislation has been before Congress since last June. The House accepted the compromise reached by the conferees in August, but there followed a bitter controversy in the Senate waged by a small, but determined group, who contended that the bill struck a fatal blow at personal rights, because it permitted search and seizure without warrants.

SEARCH OF HOMES IS STRICKEN FROM BILL.

The first draft of the measure authorized the search of private homes without warrants, but this feature was eliminated in conference.

The bill limits physicians to one hundred prescriptions for vinous and spirituous liquors each three months, and specifies that not more than a quart of spirituous or vinous liquors containing in the aggregate more than one-half pint of alcohol may be prescribed for one person in ten days.

Importation of liquors is barred by the bill until the supply on hand in the United States shall no longer be sufficient to meet the current need for non-beverage uses.

It also gives the courts of Hawaii and the Virgin Islands jurisdiction in the enforcement of the national prohibition act as well as the bill passed today.

Fire Hoax Starts; Bombs Dropped

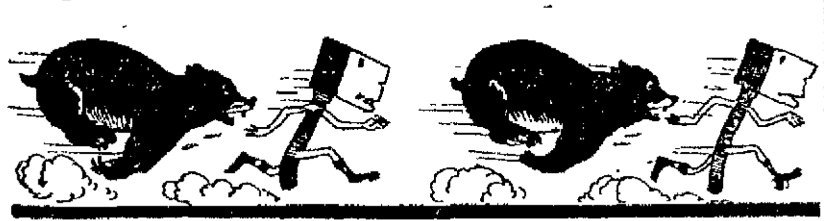
MODESTO, Calif., Nov. 18.—At the annual get-together dinner of the graduates of the University of California and Stanford at the Sylvian clubhouse last night, Berkeley graduates rushed the Stanford section and tore a Cardinal pennant from the wall. Stanford graduates, both men and women, then rushed the Berkeley section and a desperate struggle to regain the colors took place.

The banquet tables were overturned, dishes scattered about the floor and general havoc raised in the melee. Several of the women were roughly handled before the Stanford members regained the pennant which had been torn to shreds.



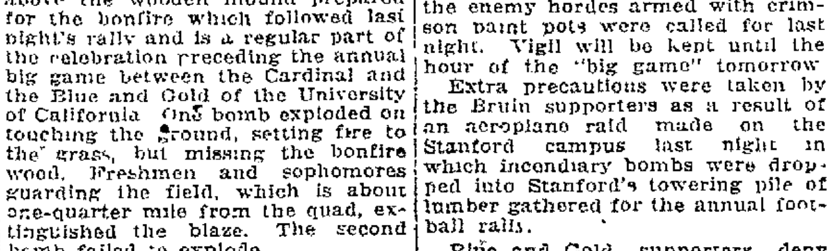
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—Two highly inflammable bombs were dropped on the campus yesterday afternoon from one of two mysterious aeroplanes which circled above the wooden mound prepared for the bonfire which followed last night's rally and is a regular part of the celebration preceding the annual big game between the Cardinal and the Blue and Gold of the University of California. One bomb exploded on touching the ground, setting fire to the grass, but missing the bonfire wood. Freshmen and sophomores guarding the field, which is about one-quarter mile from the quad, extinguished the blaze. The second bomb failed to explode.

The bombing machine descended to within 50 feet of the ground and contained two men. Students attributed the air raid to their rivals, whom they explained had threatened to light the bonfire before Stanford was ready.

"GREEK LETTER ROW" ROUSED BY FIRE HOAX.

BERKELEY, Nov. 18. — A midnight hoax, which ended in calling the fire department and routing 80 members of the Zeta Psi fraternity out of bed, aroused "Greek letter row" at the university early today.

At 1 o'clock this morning students entered the fraternity house and placed pots of red fire in the hallways of all wings of the building. Before lighting the powder, sheets of fly-paper were placed in front of all of the bedroom doorways, and then the alarm was sounded.



With smoke pouring out of the windows of the house, and the men within shouting "fire," the alarm spread and the neighbors turned out to help. When the sleeping students rushed from their rooms with blankets to smother the flames, they became tangled up in the fly-paper, and the panic increased. One student turned in a telephone alarm to the fire department.

After the fire pots had been discovered, and a search had been made of the house, the "Zetes" went back to bed, convinced that the trick had been played on them by members of the Stanford chapter of the organization.

MANY WILL HIKE TO SEE "BIG GAME."

Starting to walk to Palo Alto in order to witness the "big game," several parties of Californians left Berkeley last evening.

Every possible mode of conveyance will be put into service by the collegians, and it is expected that more than 7000 students will make the trip. Railroad tickets were placed on sale today in Berkeley, and the officials of the company state that a crowd of 30,000 is expected to make the trip by rail from San Francisco.

Trucks and auto buses have been hired by some students, and round trip tickets are being sold.

VOLUNTEERS GUARD BERKELEY'S "BIG C."

It's real war today between the Cardinals and Blue and Gold. Volunteers to guard the "Big C" on Charter Hill from further visits by the enemy hordes armed with crimson paint pots were called for last night. Vigil will be kept until the hour of the "big game" tomorrow.

Extra precautions were taken by the Bruin supporters as a result of an aeroplane raid made on the Stanford campus last night in which incendiary bombs were dropped into Stanford's towering pile of lumber gathered for the annual football rally.

Blue and Gold supporters deny responsibility for the aerial raid, which came as the newest form of warfare between the two colleges. Stanford students see the attempt to light the bonfire, however, as a reprisal for a raid on the Berkeley campus night before last, in which Palo Altans succeeded in changing the golden face of the "Big C" on Charter Hill to a fiery red.

Reports shortly before midnight last night that an army of Stanford students was proceeding from Palo Alto to Berkeley to avenge the aerial bombardment of their campus caused students to be routed from bed to stand all-night vigil at the "C." If the invaders made the trip California's numbers scared them away for they failed to launch their offensive in the Berkeley hills.

A serious aspect was given today to college hostilities when a communication was received in Berkeley from Daniel W. Evans, president of the Stanford student body, declaring that any student breaking the "gentlemen's agreement" between the universities regarding the invasion of the two campuses would be summarily punished.

The so-called "gentlemen's agreement" was adopted two years ago, following hostilities of unusual vigor on the part of the two colleges and in which Sather Gate and the Campanile were damaged by coats of red paint and a Stanford student kidnaped in retaliation by Californians and held as "hostage."

Freeholders Will Meet and Plan for Charter Reframing

Meeting unofficially in Oakland tonight the Board of Freeholders will consider, for the first time, the redrafting of the proposed charter to make the boundary lines conform to a city and county of Oakland.

While the board can take no official action until after Monday, when the supervisors are expected to certify the results of the election, the members tonight will be given an outline of the work that is before them, and, in effect, will start upon their task, which will be the drawing of a line around Oakland to separate this city from the balance of the county.

It is expected that the majority of the board will be present at the meeting, although a number, including Lewis Hicks, Greeno Majors, A. W. Beam and Joseph O. McKown, have expressed themselves as opposed to the separate city and county of Oakland or, as in the case of Hicks, to the charter itself.

The position of the freeholders regarding the legal question, Chairman Leon Clark said today, would be that the enabling act means a "majority of the qualified electors who voted." Clark says that it is his personal opinion that the election results will stand legal scrutiny. In the meantime the district attorney's office is making a thorough study of the situation as it will be that office which must defend the act in case a suit brought. A considerable and growing weight of legal opinion expressed today is to the effect that the question is in grave doubt.

In the outside districts there is to be no let-up in the campaign against county division.

The Alameda Chamber of Commerce has voted to continue the battle and will organize a permanent committee to plan the campaign. In the southern end of the county the various chambers of commerce will meet together for a discussion of the new situation and a united expression is expected to result.

Bandit With Two New Charges to Confront Indicates Intention of Seeking Freedom on Mentally Unsound Grounds

Comment of Federal Judge in Former Trial Cited; Injury to Head Related; Robber Is Quizzed As to His Escape

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LOS ANGELES, Nov 18.—That Roy Gardner may make another effort to gain his liberty on the ground he has been irresponsible for his acts because of an injury to his head, was indicated today in despatches from the Arizona city.

One despatch quoted Gardner as declaring he had been adjudged as mentally unbalanced by United States Judge Oscar A. Trippet of Los Angeles, before whom he was tried for the San Diego mail truck robbery more than a year ago.

At his trial before Judge Trippet an attempt was made to show that Gardner had mental lapses due to a blow on the head, but surgeons called to examine the prisoner at the time reported they were not convinced Gardner was mentally irresponsible.

Through his wife, Gardner pleaded that Judge Trippet order him sent to a government hospital at Washington for an operation to relieve pressure upon the brain. Holding that there had been an insufficient showing made, Judge Trippet sentenced Gardner to serve 25 years in the federal penitentiary on McNeil's Island.

STRUCK ON HEAD IN MINE RIOT.

At the time the court remarked that officials at the prison could keep Gardner under observation and would be in a better position to order him sent to a hospital if it appeared he was suffering from a mental disorder.

Gardner told Judge Trippet a story of how he was struck over the head with the handle of a pick during a miners' strike near Bisbee, Ariz.

Mrs Gardner stated at the time that she frequently had noticed that her husband was subject to attacks when he apparently failed to recognize her.

Government officials said here today that they would not be surprised if Gardner made another attempt to be adjudged mentally irresponsible and endeavor to be sent to a government hospital for an operation on his skull.

BANDIT FACES TWO NEW CHARGES.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Two more criminal charges stand against Roy Gardner today.

One accuses him of robbing the postoffice at Maricopa, Ariz., on November 3. The second charges him with attacking 16-year-old Maria Munoz, Mexican girl.

Warrants have been issued against the captured bandit on both charges. Because of them, it was said today that he may also have to stand trial for the episode on a Santa Fe mail train which resulted in his capture.

Nothing of value was stolen in the Maricopa robbery except a watch, which was later pawned. A pawnbroker is said to have identified Gardner as the man who brought him the watch.

J. P. Dillon, United States marshal, and several other officers entertained Gardner at dinner in one of the leading restaurants tonight.

Before the dinner Gardner was taken from the county jail to the federal building to be questioned. This led to reports he had been spirited away.

Third Open Session To Be Held Monday

OBJECTIONS PERIL VITAL NAVY PLANS

Hughes' Proposals Subjected to Bombardment by Both Great Britain and Japan; Important Changes Sought

Concessions to Nippon Are Probable; to Permit a "65 Per Cent" Navy in Holiday; Cut Demanded Afterward

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Nov 18. — Evidences were given in high official quarters today that the American delegation to the armament conferences regard the relative strength of navies as fixed in the American reduction proposal as a fundamental principle the alteration of which might seriously affect the whole negotiations.

American officials pointed out that the ratio was a natural result of applying the principle that the present strength of navies should be preserved in any reductions agreement.

By A. L. BRADFORD.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — The United States today was faced with the difficult task of preventing the scrapping of any vital points of its sweeping program for limitation of naval armaments.

The Hughes program, hailed by the world and accepted "in principle" by Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy in the last open session of the conference on limitation of armament, is now being subjected to a virtual bombardment of suggested modifications by Great Britain and Japan.

BRITAIN AND JAPAN BOTH WANT BIG CHANGES.

The latest development in the campaign to modify the Hughes proposal is that within only a few minutes apart Admiral Baron Kato, ranking member of the Japanese delegation, and a high British spokesman, have made it plain important changes in the American plan are desired by those governments.

Japan's propositions probably will be the harder to reconcile with the Hughes program.

The situation is being given careful consideration by the American delegates and the advisory council.

HERE'S AN OUTLINE OF POWERS' POSITION.

The positions of Japan, Great Britain and America for reduction of navies is as follows:

AMERICA. — As indicated by American construction authorities, this government probably will make concessions to Japan—for the present. This may mean Japan's fleet will be 65 per cent during the holiday, but it is indicated America will insist on a cut to 60 per cent after the holiday. Japan, even with the lower fleet, is strategically better placed than either Britain or America alone, due to the element of distance.

America is opposed to the joint shipyard plan as impairing the holiday idea and as unnecessary. British arguments are deemed invalid.

America is willing to make some cut in submarines—but not much.

JAPAN WANTS "SLIGHTLY GREATER" TONNAGE.

JAPAN.—Japan wants a "slightly greater" tonnage allowance in capital ships in the words of Baron Kato than the 60 per cent of the American-British capital ship proposal.

Under Hughes' proposal, the tonnage basis of capital ship replacement would be 500,000 tons for the United States and Great Britain and 300,000 tons for Japan. The Japanese empire, it is understood, would like to have this 60 per cent increased to 70 per cent, which would make her basic capital ship tonnage 350,000 tons.

Japan is also believed to want the battleship Matsu, the most nearly completed of the latest super-dreadnaughts of her "eight-eight" program, exempted from the Hughes program. The Matsu is a vessel of 33,800 tons, the same displacement as the Negato, today the greatest battleship in the world.

ALLOWANCE ASKED ON "DEFENSIVE" VESSELS.

The Far Eastern Empire wants, too, a tonnage basis allowance in types of vessels "of strictly defensive character," which would "even * * * approximate that of the greater navies," Baron Kato revealed.

The basic tonnage allowance in light cruisers, destroyers and such ships under the American plan, is 450,000 tons for the United States and Great Britain, and 270,000 tons for Japan. Baron Kato was believed to be referring to these types of vessels.

BRITAIN'S MAIN PLEA BASED ON DIVER PLAN.

GREAT BRITAIN—Great Britain would like total abolition of submarines, but realizing she cannot obtain that because of America's opposition, she is tentatively fixing the maximum tonnage at 45,000 tons—5000 tons above what her present submarine supply is.

One prominent naval constructor indicated America may be willing to pair the total tonnage allowed Britain and the United States to 80,000—a 10,000-ton cut.

The British delegation, finding opposition [illegible] Anglo-American shipyard plan, equipped to build a maximum of one capital ship per year during the holiday, has practically disavowed even wanting such a scheme. But "alternative plans" for keeping shipyards in condition to be ready for replacements at the end of ten years are at hand.

American sources say the British plan is traceable chiefly to a desire to test out new inventions during the holiday.

Briand Ready To Pledge Big Slash in Army

By FRANK W. GETTY.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Premier Briand in his speech at the next open session of the arms conference, will agree to further reductions in France's army.

The French premier will promise that France is prepared to "go the absolute limit" in reduction of her land armaments, to conform with world developments at the present conference.

The limit for France is the point where her national security is threatened, and France wants to be the judge of that limit.

France sent her eloquent premier to Washington for just one purpose—to take advantage of the new order of things to appeal to the American people for recognition of France's difficulties and support of France's militarism.

Although the reduction Briand will propose will not be as sweeping as the cut in naval armaments suggested by Great Britain French sources said it would be "considerable, in view of France's situation."

Italy does not approve the large French army, England has felt its influence in trade relations; the American people themselves have somewhat lost sympathy with France in matters relating to the Ruhr and Upper Silesia.

It is to win back American sympathy for France that Briand will speak.

AN JOSE, Nov. 18.—With armed uties and police officers standing ard over a court room packed to doors with Chinese of all ages l walks of life. Joe Art and Ng n, youthful Chinese gunmen ac- sed of the murder of Ho Sing, eran tong leader, were yesterday ernoon held to answer to the su- ior court for their alleged crime. The murder is said to have been t of a tong feud and drew wide- ead attention when the Hip Sing g, of which they are members, rendered the two men to the au- rities because of the fact that they l slain one of their own tong mem- s in order to obtain "head money" m the Suey Sing tong.

Testimony introduced at the pre- inary examination yesterday ded to show that Joe Art and Ng Lun were merely two of four principals involved in the murder, it being charged that there were two Suey Sing men also involved in the slaying of Ho Sing.

The young widow of the veteran Ho Sing sat in the court room throughout the proceedings yesterday, her two children at her side.

Abolish Intrigue With Publicity, Gerard Urges

By JAMES W. GERARD.
Former Ambassador to Germany
(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)
(Written especially for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It is to be hoped Secretary Hughes will not lose sight of the immense advantage given him by the open methods initiated at the first session of the conference.

The bright light of publicity will drive out the slimy snake of intrigue and self-interest. We want Hughes in the open—not others—in whom we have not the same confidence behind closed doors.

The questions before the conference are to be decided by great peoples—who have as much right to hear the discussion affecting their future, their lives and their fortunes and those of their children and children's children as they have to public sessions of the courts—and it has long been considered in every land that publicity in court procedure spells justice.

Star chamber methods prevailed at Versailles. Let us have light in Washington.

NOW FOR AMENDMENTS.

Secretary Hughes' proposition is accepted in principle by Britain and Japan. Now comes the gnawing criticisms to the proposed amendments. Will these nullify the original plan? Probably not. We may take it as settled that there is to be some agreement for a holiday in naval construction.

Meantime and while the delegations of America, Great Britain and Japan prepare propositions for the solution of the questions of Far East, the French delegates are at work on the problem of how they can best introduce their demands before the conference. Those demands are bound up with the question of Germany. Personally, I think that the indemnity placed on Germany is far beyond the power to pay of that country.

FRANCE AND GERMANY

France had nothing, has nothing, to fear from the kind of government now in power, or rather in office, in Berlin—that government is not militaristic and I believe that under such a government Germany would gradually be liberalized and become in thought and in political feeling somewhat like our own United States.

But a people, however industrious, however disciplined, may be maddened by financial ruin—by the prospect of for years being forced or paying great annual tribute to another nation like the slave nations depicted on the bas-reliefs erected by Assyrian conquerors and the tearing away of part of German-Silesia has given the militarists of the old system a peg on which to hang their hammocks—an excuse to stir up hatred, revenge and the spirit of war.

The British, on the contrary, showed a more forgiving as well as a more diplomatic spirit. They were against the partition of Silesia and it is the French who are today the nation most hated in Germany.

We have great admiration, a great sympathy for France, but it is our traditional policy not to make European alliances and in view of the irritation of Germany by certain French statesmen, our people who will probably in a certain manner indicate that it is not our affair to ally ourselves with France against Germany, whether under the guise of an agreement for "protection" or otherwise.

DEBT QUESTION AGAIN.

Nor do I think that another proposition which the French delegation may possibly advance will meet with favor. France, having placed too great an indemnity on the back of Germany and finding that Germany cannot pay, may offer to remit part of an indemnity which it is plain cannot be collected, providing we remit the debt which France owes us. Here again it is probable that our people will feel that our fortunes are not so bound up with Germany, that our policy with regard to the debt owed us by France should not be governed by the policy of France toward Germany.

The French delegation will then say that they must keep a great standing army. As far as we are concerned if they have so dealt with Europe in the hour of their victory that they feel that such an army is necessary, it is again not our affair. It is not our backs that will break under the burden of militarism.

GARDNER TO ASK LIBERTY ON PLEA THAT HE'S INSANE

Bandit Says He Was Stricken On Head in Fight and Has Been "Looney" Since.

do not say that Roy is above falling victim to the blandishments of a woman, but I cannot believe that he would attack a girl.

"It is a frame-up, I believe," she continued. She received a telegram from Gardner not to go to him until she received a letter. "But I cannot wait after this," sobbed the little woman. "I was going to take Baby Jean with me, but after this I cannot do that."

Mrs. Gardner said that she knew her husband, after his escape from McNeil Island, had visited the ranch at Napa where their child Jean is staying. This was after Mrs. Gardner left the ranch and came to San Francisco to go to work and support herself and child.

GARDNER GRILLED CONCERNING ESCAPE.

In an effort to learn if he had influential outside aid in making his escape from McNeil's Island, also whether he was assisted in his flight, once he was outside the prison, by persons who knew his identity, Gardner has been subjected to rigid questioning by federal authorities.

Gardner eats heartily, sleeps well and seems to be enjoying the attentions shown him. He chats freely on most all subjects and has a keen interest in the world's news. He was told today that his wife may arrive here from San Francisco tomorrow. He seemed a little surprised, then became somewhat apathetic, showing but little enthusiasm over the prospect of meeting her in the county jail.

America's Annual Navy Saving Set at $250,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(By the Associated Press).—Savings in next year's naval appropriation bill, should the American naval reduction proposals be adopted, have been estimated roughly by congressional leaders and committee experts at from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Sentiment of Senate and House leaders seemed close to agreement that if the American proposals were adopted the prospective naval budget of around $400,000,000 could be cut in half, and that the greater part of the annual outlay of around $90,000,000 for continuing work on the 1916 building program could be eliminated. Greater savings would come through personnel reduction and savings on pay, subsistence, repairs, yard, enlistments, recruiting and training and other items.

DIVORCE SOUGHT; WIFE TO WORK IN HUSBAND'S OFFICE

Business Must Go On So L. A. Woman Will Continue in Her Position.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19. — Business sometimes makes strange desk fellows.

To illustrate this let there be cited the case of Mrs. Florence Hamlin and, except for a very fragile legal skein still to be cut, her husband-that-was, Harry R. Hamlin.

Hamlin is Los Angeles representative of the W. A. Plummer company, with offices at 908 Van Nuys building. Mrs. Hamlin is office manager.

Some time ago she brought suit for divorce upon the admittedly euphemistic ground of desertion. Yesterday the case was heard by Superior Judge Toland and continued. Fairfax Cosby, her attorney, was instructed to draw up the form of a decree, which appears to be a forecast that it will be granted.

During the pendency of the divorce, now and henceforth, Mrs. Hamlin was, is and will be office manager. She takes orders from a boss to whom in a different sphere she has given orders. Romance is dead, but business must go on. Their talk is of bills of lading, trade discount, consignments, customers, etc., rather than what'll it be for dinner? How's the baby's tooth? and that long schedule of things taht come up within the four walls of the place called home.

Hamlin pays his wife-that-was $100 a month alimony and also hands her the weekly check for being office manager.

They have three children, aged 13, 10 and 8 years. Mrs. Hamlin keeps them.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS DECREASING, DAVIS REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—"Unemployment is decreasing rapidly," Secretary of Labor Davis stated this afternoon.

The secretary announced that there were 403,682 more American wage earners in October than in July in mechanical and manufacturing industries alone.

The automobile industry alone showed a decrease during the period, the secretary said.

BOOTLEGGER FINED $100.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—After two police officers had promised him protection, on payment of $50 a month, and he had refused, two prohibition officers arrested him, according to Howard Newport of 2092 Sutter street, who was fined $100 by Federal Judge Dooling today. He asserted that one of the officers obtained a drink on the plea that he was ill.

HOUSE FAVORS PALM SPRINGS NATIONAL PARK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A bill establishing a national park at Palm Springs at Riverside county, Calif., will be reported favorably to the House tomorrow by the House public lands committee. The proposed park would take in a sixteen-acre tract now occupied by Indians, who would be reimbursed under provisions of the measure by public spirited California citizens.

Twenty years ago today when listening to a phonograph it was only with great difficulty that one could distinguish what it was really trying to reproduce, and no one in those days even pretended that it gave a result that was in any way musical.

but today

when listening to the NEW EDISON—"The Phonograph with a Soul"—even critics are unable to detect the slightest difference between the musical result of the NEW EDISON and that of the voice of the living artist, even when compared side by side.

Thousands of such comparisons have been publicly made before millions of people, which proves this universally acknowledged fact.

LET CHINA SOLVE HER OWN FUTURE, PRESIDENT ASKS

Desire to Manage Own Affairs Voiced in Interview With Northcliffe.

PEKING, Nov. 18 (By the Associated Press).—China's desire to manage her own affairs without interference from other countries was voiced in interviews granted today to Lord Northcliffe noted British publicist, by President Hsu Shi Chang and Premier Chin Yun-Peng. Both emphasized their nation's need of money and both likewise asserted that China was solvent and able to win her way through if given the opportunity.

Chin declared that China was looking for the Washington conference to give her tariff autonomy.

SOLVE OWN PROBLEMS.

The president, who received Lord Northcliffe at his palace, said:

The opening of the Washington conference has been marked by many suggestions advocating foreign control in China, but such procedure would only cause further difficulties and trouble. The Chinese people should be allowed to solve their own internal problems. China's present troubles should be regarded by foreigners not only as peculiar to China, but as the natural step in the evolution of the government established when the monarchy was overthrown after having been endured for centuries. Similar difficulties were experienced in France after the revolution and England and the United States had long periods of serious unsettlement before stable administrations were completed.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

China's present financial difficulties are aggravated by the conditions that have obtained since the termination of the war. During the war foreign buyers operated largely in the China market and were large purchasers of Chinese products. Since the war these purchases have materially diminished and China has not been able to make up the deficiency. She has not contracted any foreign loans during the last three years of any considerable amount. Also there has been no particular investment here of foreign capital, and this, coupled with the decrease in trade of such staples as silk, tea and the like, is responsible for little capital coming into the country.

China is in financial difficulties, but they are not insurmountable, and steps are now being taken by the government which will enable the country to return to its normal state within a reasonable time despite the troubles between the north and south. These are expected to be adjusted in due course.

Flaming Oil Well Quelled By Dynamite

LONG BEACH, Nov. 18.—Dynamiters dressed in asbestos clothing braved the great columns of flames of the Martin well No. 1 of the Royal Dutch Shell company at Signal Hill, near here, and placed a charge of explosive which blew out the fire. Ford Alexander, well-shooter of Taft, Calif., assisted by George E. Oliver of Whittier, and E. H. Clausen of Los Angeles, placed the charge.

The work was unique. A chair, encased in fire-proof asbestos, was pulled in close to the flames, from a line between derricks. One hundred pounds of 80 per cent gelatin dynamite was wrapped in asbestor paper to prevent the flames from burning it, and the asbestos-clothed men went up to the flames and placed it in the flame surrounding the chair. Crowds watching, scurried for shelter as the men approached the flames, fearing premature explosion.

A detonator shot the charge, while it was in the midst of the column of flame, about eight feet from the ground. The explosion cut the column of flame, the downward force completely blowing out the fire. The fire started shortly after midnight.

Blanton of Texas, recently censured by the House, today challenged his 17 House colleagues from Texas to meet him in debate between November 24 and December 5, in nine Texas cities on his record and deportment in the House. ARBUCKLE JURORS CHOSEN; WILL BE KEPT LOCKED UP

Taking of Testimony Against Motion Picture Actor Starts This Afternoon.

Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, expressing particular satisfaction.

A ten-minute recess was granted after the jury selection to allow the photographers to snap them, but the jurors decided that they did not care to have their pictures taken.

Arbuckle seemed visibly relieved at the close of the tedious and plodding jury questioning. He smiled widely several times and chatted with those about him in a carefree manner.

Mrs. Lizette Ryan, matron of the county jail, was sworn in to take charge of the women jurors.

The jurors will be housed at the Manx hotel while locked up on the case.

The taking of testimony begins this afternoon preceded by the opening statement of the prosecution scheduled to be made by District Attorney Matthew Brady. He plans to trace the actions of Arbuckle from the time of his arrival from Los Angeles to the arranging of the Labor Day party, the inviting of Virginia Rappe and other guests, and the alleged entrance of the girl and the comedian into the inner room of the suite and the closing and locking of the door. How screams were heard and later Miss Rappe was found desperately ill, will be described, together with the claim of the state that while she suffered in her room, Arbuckle himself was dancing in the ballroom below.

Percy Henderson, of the local health board, will be the first witness called to establish the fact of the girl's death and next will come the really vital testimony of Dr. Selby Strange, autopsy surgeon, who will describe the condition of the girl's body and the bruises which it is claimed Arbuckle was responsible for when she is alleged to have fought him off.

It was learned today that Mrs. Maud Belmont had called on Gavin McNab at his office under the assumed name of Mrs. De Witt. He recognized her, refused to discuss the case and reported her visit to Judge Louderback and District Attorney Brady.

Fatty Studies French While Trial Goes On

By FREDA BLUM.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Whether Roscoe Arbuckle is going to be conversant with the French language or not depends on how long a period the trial covers.

It is exclusive that he is studying the language and devotes his time, outside of court, to mastering it. As the trial has been in progress five days he should now be on lesson No. 6.

Right in the Vigilant row is sitting Miss Margaret J. Mabson, colored. She represents San Francisco's negro club and civic organizations.

Corporal of Police Flynn and Prince F. Pignatell, who is here aboard an Italian cruiser, will have reason to remember the Arbuckle trial.

They renewed today an old friendship which had its inception in Paris during the war when Flynn, as first lieutenant in the cavalry, met the distinguished nobleman.

The recognition was instantaneous despite the change of uniform. Flynn is on duty in the corridors outside the courtroom and the prince is a frequent trial visitor.

There is only one "Miss" on the jury. Her name is Louise E. Winterburn. She is quite matured, though, and distinguished by the somber tone of furs and dress, both black.

The Vigilants may have their individual problems but they have one in general. That is, how to keep house and attend Vigilant duty. Some have solved it by getting up at 6 a. m. to perform their household tasks and others settle the score at night. But they all manage, somehow, they say.

Both bailiffs in Judge Louderback's courtroom have a tough time of it. Their duties force them to stand on their feet throughout the court day. The hours are 10 to 12 and 2 to 5.

There are no young persons in the audience, or anywhere in evidence around the courtroom.

MAN INCREASING LENGTH OF LIFE

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—"Mary, that kid has been fooling with my razor again. It's so dull that it scrapes when I swing the blade through the air. You must watch him more closely. A kid of seventy-five years has no business fooling with a razor."

This, a peep into the future, may be a common conversation before many centuries pass, according to John W. Barth of Omaha, speaker at the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Life Underwriters, held here. Mr. Barth declared the day when humans will live to the age of 300 years or more is very possible.

"Never laugh at prophecies," he said. "The human race has added ten years to the length of life of the average man in the past fifty years, and every indication points to the fact that an equal amount will be added in the next fifty years.

"Take actual cases now. There is record of a man in Switzerland who lived to be 335 years old. The oldest man in the United States of whom we have record was a man in Massachusetts who died a few years ago at the age of 165.

"And who can tell what will happen when prohibition becomes an actual fact? My experience in dealing with mortality tables is that the life pinnacle is now seventy-five years instead of sixty-eight, is of not many years ago. Today there are more than ten more years of life open to the average man. Bach to Methuselah? Why not?"

IRL, 14, MISSING; LAST SEEN RIDING CYCLE TO SCHOOL

orothy Williams' Books Are Found in Basement of Home.

Police were today seeking any pos-ble information to the whereabouts 14-year-old Dorothy Williams, aughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wil-ams, 50 Vernon street, who mys-eriously disappeared after she left er home, presumably to go to hool. No word has been received the girl for more than 24 hours, id when ner parents discovered that ie had not appeared at school all ay, they became alarmed and ap-ealed to the police to aid them in cating their daughter.

The fact that the girl's school book d sewing were found in the base-ent of the residence, where she had parently left them yesterday morn-g when she dropped from sight, ad the police to believe that she d not been spirited away, as was iginally thought. She was last en riding away from her home on r brother's bicycle.

According to Dorothy's parents, ey believed that she started from me for the Lakeview school, where e is a pupil. When the girl did t return late last night, her mother ephoned her teacher, who declared that the child had not been in her classes all day.

Dorothy is described as being about four feet, eight inches tall. She had dark brown, bobbed hair, brown eyes and was dressed in a red checkered suit, with a blue sport hat. The bicycle was painted blue.

MINE TO REOPEN.

ANGELS CAMP, Nov. 18.—Indicating a revival in interest in gold mining, the Triple Lode mine, near here, is preparing to reopen with New York and San Francisco men backing it. A full crew will be put on. The company intends to install a four-ton electric hoist and enlarge its hoist and shaft. It has very promising ore bodies at a shallow depth.

Mail Wagon Driver Shot Twice by U. S. Marine Guardsmen

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Frank T. Johnson, driver of a United States mail wagon, was accidentally shot through the arm and leg last night at a sub-station of the eastern section of Los Angeles by Private L. R. Arendell of the marine corps guard, according to sheriff's deputies who investigated the shooting.

Arendell was taken into custody by the deputies who turned him over to Lieutenant Chestwy G. Stevens, in command of the local post-office marine guards.

Arendell said an automatic pistol was discharged twice while in his hand without his having pressed the trigger.

NURSE'S SHOTS DUE TO DREAM

The shooting sensation which early last Sunday morning frightened residents of Walla Vista-avenue has been cleared up, and burglars, house prowlers and second story men probably will give a wide berth to any residence housing Miss Celia Shuster, trained nurse of the East Bay hospital staff.

Arousing from a nightmare, it is now explained, although she had never handled a pistol before, Miss Shuster, who was alone in the home of Ernest Spangler, 559 Walla Vista avenue, ran to Spangler's room, seized a pistol and returning to an open window fired into the air. She then summoned the police. Determined that the "burglar" should not escape, she ran to the front porch and fired another shot into the air.

When plain clothes police arrived Miss Shuster, still suffering from the effects of her nightmare, believed them to be burglars and would not admit them to the house. Police will take no action as a result of the shooting, it was said today. Miss Shuster was taken to the Receiving hospital, where she was released in the company of her brother.

Mrs. Spangler today made the following statement:

"The whole story about Miss Shuster is just a terrible mistake. Mr. Spangler and I were out and Miss Shuster was in the house alone. We had told her often in talking of burglars that Mr. Spangler's gun was in our room.

"Miss Shuster retired early, and in the midst of a dream about burglars about midnight was awakened by a noise. She ran to our bedroom and got Mr. Spangler's gun and fired a shot out the window. Of course, she was excited, and I can readily understand how everybody around became excited at the firing of a pistol.

"When the policemen came to the house, several of them were in plain clothes, and she thought they were the burglars.

"When she was finally convinced that they were policemen, she admitted them to the house.

"Miss Shuster is not mentally deranged from overwork or any other reason. She is absolutely normal, except that she may enjoy a nightmare once in a while, the same as anybody else. If it were not for the scare to Miss Hogan and for the terrible embarrassment the incident has brought to Miss Shuster, the whole incident would be a huge joke."

Police to War On Erring Autoists

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—Drastic steps will be taken by the Alameda police department to curb automobile traffic violations, following a conference held between City Manager C. E. Hickok, Chief William Wahmuth, Speed Officer George V. Grey, and Judge L. R. Weinmann yesterday. The action of the department follows complaints received from various parts of the city over the careless regard which the motorists have for the law.

Parking on the wrong side of the street, turning in the middle of the block, driving heavy trucks over Central avenue and other violations will all be taboo. The Chamber of Commerce has been requested to notify all of its members of the proposed action of the police department so that the business men will have early notice. The proposed enforcement will be for all parts of the city. Up to the present only the business portion has been effected.

TO HOLD BAZAAR.

WATSONVILLE, Nov. 18.—A two-day bazaar is announced by the ladies of St. Patrick's church some time next month, the exact date to be set later. This is the first bazaar held in several years, though formerly they were of annual occurrence. Plans for one of the most elaborate affairs of the kind ever held here are under way.

REVIVAL UNDER WAY.

WATSONVILLE, Nov. 18.—Revival meetings are in progress at the Prunedale church in the Prunedale section near this city. Rev. Clark is in charge, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. DeLisle. People from Salinas, Castroville, besides those from sections closer by are attending in large numbers.

Dante Ceremonial Fixed by U. of C.

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—A date for the Dante commemoration at the University of California, which has been twice postponed, has now been set. The program will be given on Tuesday evening, November 29, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Wheeler hall. The public is invited to attend. There will be addresses by President Barrows, Archbishop Hanna and several other speakers; a reading of certain cantos from the "Divine Comedy" and the "Vita Nuova," in both Italian and English, and a musical program.

In presenting this program the university is contributing its share to the observance throughout the world of the six hundredth anniversary of Dante's death.

Co-operation Given Oakland Red Cross in Membership Roll Call

Good Work Done by Clubwomen in Booths Established Downtown.

MRS. J. M. DOBSON, general chairman of the Oakland Red Cross committee, assisting in the Fifth Annual Membership Drive.

Oakland Club has launched its holiday work by co-operating with Oakland chapter, American Red Cross, in the work of the fifth annual Roll Call which invites the men and women of the city to register in the patriotic movement by subscribing to one dollar memberships. The plaza tent at Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue, and the banks have been taken over by the clubwomen, who have opened enrollment booths for the convenience of the public. Mrs. J. M. Dobson is in charge of the assistants who are working on a regular eight-hour day system.

Among those who have volunteered from the Oakland club membership to assist are: Mrs. Frederick E. Adams, Mrs. Nellie Nelson, Mrs. Guy Petty, Mrs. John H. Pape, Mrs. George Marsh, Mrs. Albert Brown, Miss Alice Russau, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. E. L. Buttrick, Mrs. F. L. LeBlanc, Mrs. Ernest Shipley, Mrs. Josephine Sagehorn, Mrs. E. G. Spare, Mrs. A. B. Fulton, Mrs. J. B. Frazier, Mrs. J. P. Dalton, Mrs. Frederick R. Adams, Mrs. A. C. Harvey, Mrs. Earl, Mrs. A. P. Holland, Mrs. H. E. Copp, Mrs. B. L. Smout, Mrs. Waldo Rucker.

DOWN TOWN BOOTHS.

Ebell is maintaining eleven down town booths in public buildings and department stores for the enrollment of Red Cross memberships under the leadership of Mrs. Frank A. Leach.

The invitation to renew registry in the local chapter and to co-operate in the program of assistance to the ex-service man and his family and in public health, at the same time giving assurance and protection and help in time of catastrophe, is being eagerly responded to by the men and women of the city. Approval of the work of the Red Cross is being expressed in the ready return of the hundreds of enrollment blanks which were distributed to former members through the mails and the records which the volunteer workers are submitting daily to the headquarters of Oakland chapter in the City Hall.

MEMBERSHIP QUOTA.

The membership quota for Oakland is 25,000. Washing Machine Judgment Confirmed

Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco has confirmed the judgment of Judge Harry W. Pulcifer in the dispute between P. Rubino and J. Greenstone over a washing machine and $120.

Rubino built a washing machine for Greenstone, who paid $100 on the machine, but after its delivery claimed it was smaller than the specifications provided and refused to accept it. Rubino, it was testified, promised to return the $100 but failed to do so. Greenstone therefore refused to surrender the machine. Rubino sued to recover the washer.

Judge Pulcifer held that the machine belonged to Rubino but that Greenstone held a lien on it until the $100 was returned. Judge Trabucco concurred.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

Why My Friends All Take Mastin's Yeast Vitamon Tablets Now

To Make Firm Flesh, Increase Energy and Beautify the Complexion

"Just as my friends all started to talk about the wonderful health and beauty-giving properties of the vitamines in yeast and other raw foods, I heard about the highly concentrated form of these vitamines called Mastin's VITAMON. Once I started taking two of these tiny tablets with every meal I noticed results almost immediately. Others did too, for people began remarking about how well I looked—how much younger and prettier—and to say I felt better doesn't half express the truly amazing improvement. I have gained several pounds, my flesh is firm, my nerves are calm and there seems to be no end to my new found energy. Now my friends who so admired the change in me are all turning to the concentrated 'yeast' Mastin's VITAMON tablets and not only find them easy and economical to take, but results are so surprisingly quick."

The statement of this writer is like that of thousands, for Mastin's VITAMON contains not only highly concentrated yeast-vitamines, but the two other still more important vitamines (Fat soluble A and Water soluble C) which [illegible] proper [illegible] to build firm tissues, strong nerves, rich blood and a keen, active brain. It will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but, on the contrary, is a great aid to digestion and in overcoming chronic constipation. Boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under the healthful purifying influence, leaving the skin fresh, clear and beautiful. So remarkable are the benefits from these highly concentrated Mastin's VITAMON tablets that entire satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name, Mastin's VI-TA-MON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it. Do not accept imitations or substitutes.

You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all Owl Drug Co. Stores and other good druggists.

10,000 GUESTS DANCE TONIGHT AT POLICE BALL

Bankers, Captains of Industry, Actors, Social Luminaries to Attend Big Event.

Oakland's finest will be all that the name implies at the municipal auditorium tonight which is the occasion of the ninth annual policemen's ball. About 10,000 others—bankers, captains of industry, actors, social luminaries—will also be there, but the officers promise to be the night's real sensation.

The affair tonight will undoubtedly be the largest in point of attendance ever held by the Oakland policemen. Every single one of the 10,000 tickets have been distributed, according to Corporal Jim Fleming, chairman of general arrangements. Tonight's event will have other notable features also. The auditorium is resplendent with decorations that represent the efforts of a big decorations committee which has been working on the job for the past two days.

The ball will continue right up to 1 o'clock and guests are assured of transportation accommodations to their homes through arrangements of Sergeant Henry Nedderman with the traction company to run special cars from the auditorium to every part of the city after that hour.

Police Inspector Harry Orbell will be floor manager with the assistance of eight of the department's handsomest cops. Chief of Police James T. Drew, Captains of Police J. Frank Lynch, Thorwald Brown and Charles Bock and Captain of Inspectors Richard McSorley.

FAMOUS CATHOLIC SISTER SUCCUMBS

Marie Theresa, head of the Sisters of Providence of Charity and founder of Providence hospital in this city, died in Montreal yesterday, according to telegrams which reached Oakland this morning. She was 84 years old and widely known throughout the coast and Canada for her religious and philanthropic activities.

War Risk Heads Note Lapse Soon

The attention of all former ex-service men to the time limit in which war risk insurance can be reinstated was called today in a statement issued by the Federal Board for Vocational Training.

All government insurance must be reinstated by December 31, this year. Under the Sweet bill every former ex-service man is permitted to reinstate his lapsed insurance. If he has no disability he may reinstate by procuring the necessary papers. If he was disabled, and is in Federal training, he may reinstate it by complying with regulations governing such cases.

Forms and detailed information regarding reinstatement and conversion of war risk insurance may be had at the local posts of the American Legion or the Red Cross, or the applicant may write directly to the Veterans' Bureau, 240 Flood building, San Francisco.

TUTOR DIES OF OLD AGE.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—L. S. Lewis, 91, who for sixty-one years taught physical culture here and for thirty-eight years was physical instructor at Girard college, died yesterday of old age. He was born in Germany, and fought for the establishment of a German republic in 1848. After the rebellion failed, he fled to America. He served in the Civil War.

DANA EDITOR DIES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—John B. Bogart, 75, former city editor of the New York Sun under Charles A. Dana, is dead. Bogart, who was known as one of the foremost journalists of the country, succumbed to an attack of diabetes.

50,000 FAMILIES OF MENNONITES TO GO TO MEXICO

200,000 Members of Sect To Leave Canada Homes For New Country.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—One of the largest migrations of Christian people of modern history is that of about 200,000 Mennonites, 50,000 families, from Canada to Mexico, which will begin in December. Their trek is expected to last two years.

The Mennonites for the past year have been looking for a new home, claiming unjust treatment in Canada during the World War. Eight nations have invited them. Land sharps, "boomers" and others have tried to influence them.

After a dozen trips to Mexico during which representatives conferred with President Alvaro Obregon and officials of the Mexican immigration service the leaders almost decided to settle in Mexico. The editorials from various sources save Mexico declared the Mennonites were making a mistake, that religious freedom which they have sought could not be guaranteed them under the Mexican constitution. Another trip was made to Mexico and state and national governments assured the Mennonites that they could worship God as they pleased, that they could hold all the tenets of their religion and could enter that country and make their permanent home.

One layer of fluid cannot pass over another without generating waves at the surface of separation.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

"Is there any way to pack flowers so they will reach New York in fairly good condition?" queries a TRIBUNE reader.

It depends upon the flowers. The everlasting, or "straw" flowers would ship nicely. For ordinary flowers express is more satisfactory than parcel post. Have the stems well saturated with water and then dip them in paraffine to help preserve the flowers.

"What was the date of the big fire in Carson City, Nevada?" was another query that came in recently.

The writer of the above query, according to Carson City authorities, evidently had in mind the disastrous fire in Virginia City on October 30, 1876. Carson City has suffered no fire of such magnitude, while the Virginia City fire ranked among the notable ones up to that time.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the Bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve, ask The TRIBUNE'S Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

No Caveman Tactics For Chicago Girl

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Chicago has one fighter who weighs only 102 pounds and knocked three men out in less time than it took Jack Dempsey to send Carpentier to dreamland.

Josephine Barone, sixteen, claims the right to choose her own mate. When three men attempted to use "cave man" courting methods she sent all three scurrying.

Josephine was standing on a street corner when an automobile drew up. Three youths jumped out.

"I love you passionately," one of them whispered into her ear. "Come with me and be married and no harm will befall you."

"He loves you," pleaded the other two.

A moment later one was spitting out three teeth. Another found his head pushed through a glass window. The third tried to grab the girl, but tripped and found himself sprawling upon the walk with Josephine kicking tattoo against his ribs.

Paris Apache Near Death Is Defiant

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Alexandre Vallet, an Apache with a long prison record, waded into the Seine until it was up to his waist, when cornered by the police at Argenteuil. From his watery fortress he defied arrest for two hours, shooting up two boats that tried to approach him. As darkness was approaching he was given a final opportunity to surrender and on his refusal the police fired, fatally wounding him. Even while dying he reviled his captors and said he hoped he would survive to kill them all.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18.—The best riflemen in India will be posted along all routes traveled by the Prince of Wales during his forthcoming visit.

Rheumatism Due To Waste Products In The Blood

For Genuine Relief Your Blood Must Be Purified.

As the blood circulates, it has two functions to perform. First, to carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Second, to take up the waste products and cast them out through the proper channels.

When waste products accumulate in the system, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many forms of skin disorders and rheumatism.

There is no disease more painful; nor a disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as rheumatism. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56-page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 730 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. All good drug stores sell S. S. S.—Advertisement.

AMERICA'S TRADE IS MENACED

CHRISTIANA, Nov. 18.—America's export trade in Norway, which made tremendous strides since 1914, is menaced, according to trade experts, by the high rate of exchange of the American dollar and which has already affected American exports with various other European countries.

Figures of Norway's imports for 1919, recently made public, show that about one-third of the Norwegian imports were from the United States.

American exporters gained a hold in the Norwegian markets at a time when Norway's chief source of supply was closed. Requirements which could not be covered in the regular markets nearer home, as was the custom prior to the war, had to be taken from America, or not at all.

It is now being pointed out, however, by Norwegian trade experts, that in order that the United States may maintain this position in Norwegian trade, it is essential that American manufacturers stipulate virtually the same terms of credit as other countries.

The dollar now costs more than twice as many kroner as it did prior to 1914. This high dollar rate makes imported American goods so expensive that similar goods from other sources, homemade or imported from Germany, can be sold cheaper and which eventually will crowd American articles off the market.

PASTY-FACED MAN HAS POOR BLOOD

Needs Pepto-Mangan to Make New, Rich, Red Blood

The man whose complexion is pasty has impure blood. His health is not robust and the sickly pallor on his face shows it. He acts and looks and feels exhausted most of the time. Everybody he meets notices it.

When a pasty-faced man takes Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a while he builds up his blood. It drives out the impurities and makes new rich, red blood. When the new, healthy blood gets to work, his complexion clears up, his eyes brighten and he looks alive and robust instead of droopy and sickly. He begins to like the food that is set before him at each meal. He feels like a new man.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes red corpuscles by supplying iron and other ingredients that thin-blooded people need. Drug stores have it in liquid or tablet form. The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package.—Advertisement.

STARTS MUCH SICKNESS

A clogging mass of undigested food that remains fermenting in the stomach or intestines sends the poisons it develops through the entire human body. "Keep the bowels open," is one rule of health recognized by all schools of medicine. Foley Cathartic Tablets cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. For indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas or constipation, no remedy is more highly recommended. No griping or nausea.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

They have lived 45 years on the one place.

Aguinaldo's House Torn Down For Fuel

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 20 (by mail).—The house in which General Emilio Aguinaldo lived when he was captured by General Frederick Funston nearly twenty years ago, has been virtually consumed for fuel by the inhabitants of Pálanan, Isabela province, only a few posts of the structure being left standing, according to a report of J. H. Butler, superintendent of schools of Isabela, to the director of education. The superintendent thinks the house should be of historic importance and suggests that steps be taken to preserve the site and what is left of the building.

STANFORD WINS HIGH HONOR IN COLLEGE ASSN.

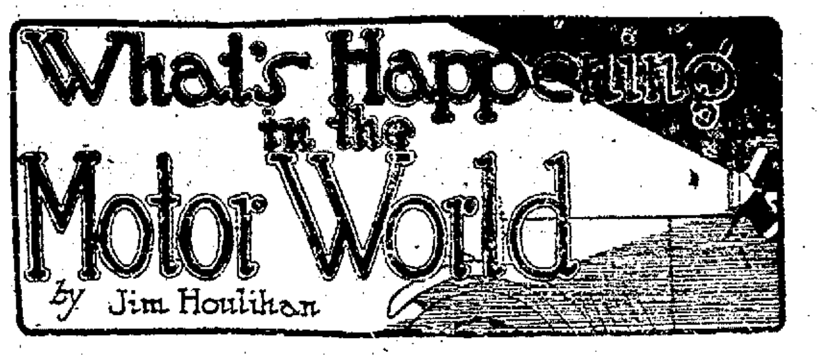
President Wilbur Returns From Eastern Tour With Interesting News.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—President Wilbur, who returned yesterday from his eastern trip, has notified Stanford University that it has been made vice-president of the Association of American Universities for next year. Membership in this association is by institutions and the officers are designated by universities, rather than by individuals.

President Wilbur has also been notified that he has been made an additional member of the Committee on Professional and Higher Degrees.

The committee of this association, which under the chairmanship of President Wilbur reported on proposals for the reorganization of education and which has been continued for further work, has been requested through a resolution by the association to take up in its investigations the problem of the discovery and encouragement of superior students.

Stanford has already begun some investigations of its own along these lines through Professor L. M. Terman, of the Education Department. Professor Terman feels that hithertofore too much attention has been paid to the requirements of students who rank below the general level of intelligence and too little effort made to give full opportunity to those of particularly outstanding ability.



What's Happening in the Motor World
by Jim Houlihan

The first automobile show of the 1922 season will be held in Oakland, a tribute to the aggressiveness of the Oakland automobile men and a further appreciation on their part of the genuine enthusiasm always manifested by the Oakland motoring public in things automotive.

The dates of the show are fixed at January 16th to 22nd inclusive, and the place as usual will be the Civic auditorium, which will be gloriously decorated for the annual automobile showing.

This is the fourth annual exhibit to be staged under the auspices of the motor car dealers' division of the Alameda County Trades association, and if it surpasses former exhibits, as its sponsors prophecy, it will be a show long to be remembered by the motorists here.

Robert W. Martland, secretary-manager of the motor car dealers' organization, will again direct the army of workers who will labor from now until the opening of the show to make it the greatest display in the history of the city.

Decorative features and lighting effects have also become every-day matters with Martland, and this year he is already on the job with some designs and plans that will amaze the dealers and delight the public when the doors of the auditorium are thrown open on the evening of January 16th.

Martland has been busy during the past week meeting with dealer committees and discussing the plans for the show. The question of space is one that has come up most frequently, and it seems from the present indications that the shortage will be serious again this year. It will be difficult to find room for everyone. Applications for space in both the passenger car and the accessory departments are beginning to come in to Martland's office daily and it will take as much diplomacy as the delegates to the peace conference are supposed to have, to solve the space problem and keep everyone happy.

But this space battle, which is in front of the dealers, is one that augurs well for the motoring public. It means more different makes of motor cars on display than were before shown in Oakland. It means, therefore, more for the motorists to look at, to appraise and to estimate.

The more makes of cars and the more models of each make on display in an automobile show the better does the exhibit rank from the standpoint of "Old Man Public." And if the rumors about number of cars, custom built creations, special exhibits, artistic decorations, lighting effects, etc., that "Bob" Martland whispered into the ear of The TRIBUNE reporter are facts—then every "Man Jack" and his wife or sweetheart that is on hand for the opening night at the big Oakland display will have the real automobile treat of his or her life.

It's going to be a great year—1922. A great business year for the public as well as for the automobile man, and the Oakland dealers are going to get on the prosperity band wagon early in the season with a genuine "best ever" display that will wake up everybody as to the real merchandising conditions of this city.

Marshal Foch To See Roosevelt Collection

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Roosevelt memorabilia, including a 6000-word manuscript written by the Colonel on the African jungles on the hartebeeste, formed the central feature of the exhibit arranged today by the American Academy of Arts and Letters for the visit of Marshal Foch.

The collection was provided by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the former president, and his sister, Mrs. Douglas Robinson.

The academy also has collected for the two-day greeting to Marshal Foch the original manuscripts of several prominent American authors, including Mark Twain, James Whitcomb Riley and Joel Chandler Harris.

Non-Frat. Clique Will Issue Paper

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—A number of non-fraternity students at the University of California have organized and have obtained permission from the executive committee to publish a weekly newspaper to be called "Brass Tacks." It will be an organ of student opinion, according to L. C. Chase, one of the organizers of the new group, and will be open for the use of every California student. Fraternity forces at the university declare that the newspaper has been planned for the purpose of electing a non-organization candidate at the next student body election.

MOTHER BRAVES DEATH TO RESCUE BABE FROM FIRE

TURLOCK, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Mary Madera, wife of J. Madera, dairyman at Stevinson, near here, rushed into her burning home early yesterday morning and saved her baby who was asleep in its cradle. The Maderas had left an oil heater burning in the house when they went to the barn to look after the milking. A half hour later Mrs. Madera saw the home aflame and she ran back to and into the burning house, snatched up the child and barely escaped uninjured. A few minutes later the roof fell in. The Maderas estimate their loss at $10,000.

Costs Halt Building, Investors Are Told

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—A its session in the city hall yesterday the wage board was told that man prospective investors are being kep from building by the cost of construction. The high cost of labor wa the main cause, according to som of the contractors, while, accordin to representatives of the workingmen, it was the cost of material rather than the wages, that kept th building costs so high.

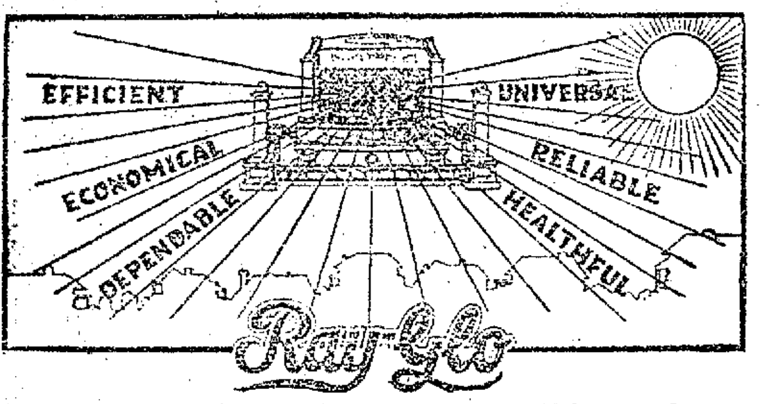
Make Your Own Sunshine



"The Perfect Gas Fire"

With Ray-Glo in place, it's summer the year round, at home, in the office or in the factory, a style for every use. On chilly evenings, on shivery mornings, on dreary winter days, a touch of the match to the Ray-Glo brings a radiant heat and rosy glow that cheers and warms like summer sunshine, and is just as pure and healthful. All for the tiny cost of 2c to 3c per hour.

For, the Ray-Glo is not an ordinary heater, but the new, the "Perfect Gas Fire." Constructed and arranged after a new improved design, the radiants absorb the flame and become incandescent. The heat consumes all the gas and impurities, and radiates into the room in dry, odorless, healthful waves, just like the heat from a red hot iron or from glowing coals. The Ray-Glo costs less to buy and less to burn. For your home, for your office—put in a Ray-Glo now and work and live in health and comfort all winter.

PLAY ACTIVITIES IN OAKLAND ARE SHOWN IN FILMS

Nash Tells Rotarians of the Importance of Recreation Work Here.

Moving pictures showing play activities in Oakland were features of yesterday's luncheon-meeting of the Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland. Jay B. Nash, superintendent of recreation, gave a brief talk on the aims and accomplishments of Oakland along the line of recreation, after which two reels of local pictures were shown.

Nash pointed out that the great mass of boys and girls in the city are reached by the playground and recreation system as this system does not feature a few stars, nor aim to develop picked teams, but has for its purpose the development of the mass of children.

"It does reach the great masses," the speaker declared, "and it touches them extensively. "In connection with our work I wish to state that we are at your service. If you grown-ups want to play tennis, golf or other games our facilities are at your disposal. If you desire to go for hikes in the city or in the mountains we have camps established in both places. If any of you desire to turn your backyards into playgrounds you may have access to blue prints and to expert advice in the matter. If any of you business men wish to establish tennis courts or volley ball courts plans for such courts as well as the advice of trained men are at your service also. In the case of conventions, we are in a position to handle the recreation end of such events also."

PLAYGROUND IDEALS.

Nash stated before showing the films that he wished to call the attention of his hearers to three ideals of those interested in playground work. The first of these, he said, is universal physical fitness. In this connection he said the recreation department supplies the exercise which one was able to get 25 or 30 years ago on the farm and to replace the amusements which congested conditions in the city have taken away.

The second ideal, he said, was training in citizenship—teaching fair play, loyalty and such qualities. The third ideal enumerated by the speaker was to instill in the growing boys and girls wholesome habits that will enable them to take up their leisure moments in adult life in a pleasurable and healthful manner.

ACTIVITIES PICTURED.

The pictures showed various angles of play activities, and were projected on a screen following Nash's talk.

An entertainment feature that came in the nature of a distinct surprise was furnished by Harry Coleman, the ventriloquist appearing on the Pantages bill this week. During the greater part of the luncheon he kept the members of the club looking for the "invisible man" who kept up a running fire of patter during the proceedings. Coleman is co-operating with The TRIBUNE this week in helping to make a success of the Doll Show, which is being held at the Hotel Oakland for the benefit of the children at the West Oakland Home.

1000 REALTY MEN TO ATTEND STATE CONVENTION HERE

Sixteenth Annual Session to Be Held in Hotel Oakland Tomorrow, Monday.

Approximately 1000 real estate dealers are expected to attend the sixteenth annual convention of the California Real Estate Association which will be held in the Hotel Oakland January 19, 20 and 21.

Forty-seven real estate boards throughout the state are affiliated with the association and, according to those supervising the plans for the convention, in all probability each board will send one or more delegates to the conference.

According to Fred E. Reed, president of the association, the convention will be featured by a general exchange of ideas, addresses by known authorities on problems confronting real estate dealers, and the adoption of measures designed generally to improve business conditions. As summed up today by Reed it will be a "business-getting, money-making" convention for the real estate men of California.

The directors of the association are to meet at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco tomorrow morning. Part of the business to come up for discussion will be in connection with the National Real Estate convention which is to be held in San Francisco next June.

TOKYO BALKS AT LOSING CONTROL OF PORT ARTHUR

Ready to Discuss Plan to Make Manchurian Center Commerce Port.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (By the Associated Press). — In discussing French suggestions concerning China authoritative Japanese last night said it was indispensable to Japan that she should maintain her jurisdiction over the leased territory of South Manchuria, of which the port is Dairen or Port Arthur, but Japan might be ready to discuss a plan of making Port Arthur purely a commercial port.

Concerning the French suggestion that Japan might give up Shantung, the Japanese explained they had repeatedly placed themselves on record as disposed to evacuate the Kiauchau leased territory, including Tsingtao, provided China would enter into direct negotiations concerning conditions of evacuation which Japanese believe to be eminently reasonable and fair to China.

Japanese spokesmen explained that it was a misconception to assume Japan now occupies the peninsula of Shantung. Its only occupation, it was pointed out, is the very end of the peninsula, known as the Kiauchau leased territory, which was in the hands of the Germans until seized by the Japanese during the war.

China had agreed in 1915, it was said, to accept any disposition of this territory which might be made at the peace conference after the war, and at the Versailles congress Japan had been authorized to take over the German rights in Shantung.

The Japanese further claim they always have shown a disposition to see removed the extra territorial privileges enjoyed by the powers in China. The only question, they say, is whether the time has arrived to carry this out.

Official Discusses Six-Minute Ferry

"The History of the Six-Minute Ferry," was the subject of a talk given last night by Commissioner W. H. Edwards at the meeting of the Golden Gate Improvement club in the auditorium of the Golden Gate library, Fifty-sixth and San Pablo.

In discussing the revoking of the franchise that had been granted, the speaker read the communications that had been sent by the Six-Minute Ferry company to the mayor, the council and the city attorney, which communications he said had not been answered.

BRITISH OPPOSE STRINGENT BANS UPON AIRCRAFT

Planes, However, Not Regarded As Having Replaced Capital Ships.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—An authoritative statement of British naval views obtained last night disclosed that aircraft are not regarded by the British as having displaced capital ships in naval warfare. Aircraft have a distinct place in war, however, and it was said even aircraft bombardment of cities might be justified because of the pressure such attacks exerted on enemy governments.

British spokesmen pointed out that bombardment of London and Paris from the air during the war had been effective in this way, and it was indicated that the British delegation would not favor too sharp a limitation on aircraft operations if the question comes up at the arms conference.

By contrast, the British position of abhorrence of submarines was explained as due to the feeling that the submersible was a mere "instrument of assassination" and incapable of exerting any such influence on peoples and their governments as air raids on cities. The British reply to the suggestion that the submarine was the weapon of the weaker powers, was that the weak had never been oppressed by the British navy when there were no submarines.

Comment was denied by the British spokesmen on the Japanese modifications to the American proposals. The Japanese suggestions were a variation of the program proposed by the United States and a subject for conference discussion, it was said.

It was denied that in thinking of continuing certain building for technical reasons during the proposed 10-year holiday, the British had ever formally proposed to produce a ship a year. Such a building program would amount to repudiation of the American naval holiday plan, it was added. It was declared nothing of the kind had been suggested in any official British statement.

U. S. Should Map Orient Plan, Nippon Chief Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By The Associated Press)—Kotaro Mochizuki, the leader of the opposition party in the Japanese House of Representatives on diplomatic matters, who is now in Washington as an observer for his party, in an interview asked the question why the United States had not herself submitted proposals to the conference instead of China. He believed that in view of the fact that the United States had invited the powers to assemble for a discussion of the Far Eastern questions, the American Government, and not the Chinese, as a matter of formality, should have taken the initiative in suggesting a program for a solution of the Chinese problem.

Mochizuki expressed the opinion that the Chinese delegation either had a tacit understanding with Secretary Hughes or that Secretary Hughes had inspired the document. If either were the case, he said, the Chinese delegation, by presenting the proposals, had merely sought to make themselves famous in China.

AN EXPERT ON CHINA.

Mochizuki is regarded as an expert on Chinese affairs and, although of the opposition party, may be expressing the views of a substantial portion of the Japanese people.

Speaking on China's proposal that the powers engage to respect and observe the territorial integrity and political and administrative independence of the Chinese republic, he charged that in the strict sense of the term this had not been recognized by the United States, as witness, he said, her extraterritorial jurisdiction at Shanghai and her maintenance of soldiers at Peking and Tientsin. Japan, he said, was ready to adhere to the open door, but China also must recognize it, lift the ban on the exportation of rice so necessary to the Japanese people, and allow freedom of residence and business in the interior.

Japanese opposition leader asserted that the Chinese proposal with respect to conclusion of agreements, directly hit the Franco-Japanese, Russo-Japanese and American-Japanese ententes as well as the Anglo-Japanese alliance, and insisted that agreements like these were made because China was not capable of maintaining her own integrity and was unable to protect foreign life and property.

"Can China now give such a pledge?" he asked.

COMPACTS WITH RUSS.

Touching on the Chinese proposal that existing commitments be declared he suggested that the Canton government make clear what arrangements it had entered into with the Russian Bolsheviki, and insisted that if the United States had received unpublished consideration in return for the Ishil-Lansing accord, that such be made public.

"This conference," he declared, "is not a court of justice and its decisions cannot be enforced. Japan, for instance, would not submit to any unfavorable decision concerning the leased territory in south Manchuria or the south Manchuria railway."

The opposition leader declared the ten Chinese points submitted to the conference were founded on the presumption that China was in a state of order, whereas, he said, the contrary was true, making intelligent discussion of the points possible only when an orderly China came into being. For that reason he proposed appointment of an international commission which would thoroughly investigate the entire Chinese situation and report later to an adjourned conference.

Mrs. Tilden is survived by six nieces, Mrs. Grover Cottrell of Watsonville; Mrs. Jennie Williamson, formerly of Watsonville but now a resident of San Francisco; Mrs. Harry Mchaffy of San Francisco; Mrs. Arthur Lloyd of San Jose; Mrs. C. E. White of San Francisco; and Mrs. Orin Blodgett of Santa Cruz.

CHINA'S PROPOSAL BASIS OF PARLEY, KATO ANNOUNCES

Japan's Request for a Delay Made to Allow Talks With Tokyo.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Japanese acceptance of the proposals of the Chinese delegation as the "basis of discussion in committeee" by the Pacific and Far Eastern conference has been announced by Baron Kato, heading the Japanese group. The baron said he had no objection to accepting the Chinese proposals in principle for that purpose.

It is understood an important reason why Japan has asked more time to study the Chinese document is that the plenipotentiaries here are actively engaged in communication with Tokyo. It is almost certain, in the opinion of Japanese here, that the vital matters raised in the Chinese proposals will be subject to serious deliberation by such Japanese institutions as the genro, or older statesmen, and the privy council, as well as the cabinet. On such a program also it is believed probable that the leaders of the naval and army groups would desire an opportunity to express their views.

PRONOUNCED INSANE.

WATSONVILLE, Nov. 18.—James A. Mann, of this city, was adjudged insane before Judge B. K. Knight in Santa Cruz yesterday afternoon. The examining physicians were Dr. Stanley Dowling and Dr. W. E. Fehliman. Mann was an inmate of Agnews hospital on a previous occasion.

ORGANIST GOES BLIND.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 18.—As the last notes of the opening hymn in the Wesleyan church were dying away, Thomas Smout, the organist, rose from his bench and tottered toward the pastor with arms outstretched. The young musician had suddenly gone blind.

Property Owners Plan Improvements

First steps toward the organization of an association of the property owners south of Seventh street will be taken at a meeting to be held in the chambers of the Alameda county board of supervisors at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. The meeting has been called and announcements sent out by former Superior Judge W. H. Donahue, James J. McElroy, V. O. Lawrence, Fred L. Osgood, George W. Hatch, Bert Bercovich, Dr. W. F. Schwaner and J. H. Young.

The purpose of the organization, as outlined in a circular letter sent to many of the property owners of the district today, is to join forces for the mutual protection, upbuilding and improving of the property in the zone south of Seventh street.

All property owners in the district affected are invited to be present.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—James Cernusco, 1420 Park street, reported to the police this morning that his seven-foot skiff had been stolen. The boat was named 'Shorty' and was painted white. It was tied at the foot of Park street when stolen.

MAN INCREASES SALARY

When Brown graduated from high school he took the first thing that came along. His progress was so slow that he took his problem to Jones, the manager. "My boy," he had said, "personal appearance is the greatest asset to a man in business. Your suit is shabby and your overcoat is out of date. You must be dressed up."

"Can't be done, Jones; I'm dead broke."

To which Jones replied: "My salary is more than yours, and yet I always buy my clothes on credit. Go to Cherry's, for your payments won't start till after the first of the year, and then you can take your own time. I like their clothes and their method of doing business. Dress up and you'll succeed. Their men's store is at 528 13th street and the store for women, across the street at 515 13th street, near Washington.—Advertisement.

Traffic Congestion Caused By Curiosity

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Vehicular traffic congestion in fashionable shopping thoroughfares is more a matter of curiosity than of business, the police traffic squad has reported to the street commissioner. Teamsters and chauffeurs use these thoroughfares, not so much because they need to be there as to see the passing show, the report says.

The conclusion that some drivers make long detours in order to join the stream of vehicles that flows past the shops, with their currents of smartly-attired women moving in and out or pausing to gaze at show windows, was based by the traffic squad on percentages. Questioning of 1225 drivers during several periods in the course of a day recently developed that only 23 per cent of those canvassed had any real reason for being on Tremont street. Of the 77 per cent that could save time by using less congested streets, some were on a direct route, but many were found to have gone out of their way to be in on the fashion show.

BERKELEY MAN IS CHOSEN FOR POST AT BERLIN

Richard A. Pennoyer To Be Second Secretary On Dressel's Staff.

Richard Edmands Pennoyer of Berkeley is to be made second secretary of the staff of Ellis Loring Dressel, American charge d'affaires at Berlin, it is announced. Frederic R. Dolbere of Hartford, Conn., is to be made first secretary of Dressel's staff.

Pennoyer was at one time a student in the Oakland high school. Later he attended the University of California, graduating with the class of 1910. He is a fraternity man and is connected with several of the honor societies. For several years he has been in the diplomatic service in Europe.

In 1917, when he was second secretary to the American embassy in London, his mother, Mrs. A. A. Pennoyer, also of Berkeley, visited him in the English capital. It was at Oxford and in Paris that Pennoyer received his preparation for public life. At one time Pennoyer was private secretary to Robert Bacon, American ambassador to France.

Pennoyer is a son of A. A. Pennoyer, who played an important role in the early financial development of the sate. His wife is the former Lady Winifred Ingestre. Pennoyer's brother Paul married Frances Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan.

It is announced that as soon as Dressel has been formally received as charge d'affaires, ad interem, consular officers will proceed at once to their posts. Recognition will be requested by Dressel for the following consuls:

William Coffin, Middlesboro, Ky., consul-general at Berlin; Lewis G. Dreyfus, Santa Barbara, Calif., at Dresden; Emil Sauer, Doss, Texas, at Cologne.

Planes Cut Time For London-Bagdad Mail

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The airplane mail route from Cairo to Bagdad, which has been in operation since June for the carrying of government correspondence only, now has been thrown open to the public. For the present, the mail will be limited to letters and a special mail fee at the rate of one shilling an ounce will be charged in addition to the ordinary imperial postage. Parcels and insured packages will not be carried.

Mails will be dispatched by this route from London once a week in connection with the ordinary Indian mail.

The postmaster general announces that the time of transmission from London to Bagdad will vary from 11 to 18 days, a saving of from 7 to 14 days over the present arrangement.

University Women Plan November Union

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Blest with an independence which permits the monthly meeting to be held where fancy leads, the San Francisco Bay branch of American Association of University Women has named the Town and Gown club house of Berkeley for the November union of members. Prospect of the feasting to which the American nation will devote itself on Thursday has led the leaders to decree that there shall be no luncheon on Saturday of the coming week, but that in its stead shall be substituted a musical and tea with brief hour devoted to amending the constitution, if so be the majority rules.

Mrs. Francis H. Dunne has been given the task of assembling the 2 o'clock program of music, which is the traditional tribute to the Thanksgiving season. Reservations for the half-after 3 o'clock tea are being made with Mrs. E. L. S. Drake, 5830 Colby street, Oakland.

The important question to come before the membership in the amending of the constitution has to do with the admission of associate members.

The School Women's club of Oakland, carefully barring all men from attendance upon the annual jinks in the Technical high school tonight, is asking the women of the city who may be interested in them to join in the frolic. No serious thought is to be permitted to intrude in the merrymaking, which will combine a clever burlesque of university extension lecture work and modern dances in the program, while affording additional fun in side shows. A small admission fee will be appropriated to boosting a depleted treasury and financing the social welfare service which the teachers have undertaken. Miss Helen Well is the jinks chairman. Miss Joyce Lobner is president of the body of 900 feminine pedagogues.

Mary Margaret Morgan, the first woman supervisor elected in San Francisco, made her first public address since attaining to public office in Santa Rosa this week when a group of Sonoma county women met to organize an auxiliary to the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Morgan assisted in drawing up plans for the new body and urged the co-operation of women of the community to support all movement for civic betterment and child welfare. She stressed the significance of such a movement as was being launched. More than 100 women were present. Miss Ada C. Sweet presided as chairman.

December 12-13, The "Country Fair," planned by the Oakland Federation of Mothers Clubs swings open its door in the Municipal auditorium. Longfellow School Parent-Teacher association has taken over the baby booth, and mothers who know what other mothers want in a practical and dainty way are giving over their stray hours to meet the demand. When the association met this week an informal thimble bee contributed fourteen completed garments, including rompers, aprons and skirts. A series of sewing days are announced.

Five, ten and fifteen-cent merchandise will lure stray coins from the public's pockets during the "Country Fair," when it comes to the "village" conducted by Emerson School Parent-Teacher association. Dolls and their wardrobes will be featured. Already the amazing stock is coming into the storehouse by dozen grosses. A collection was made at the regular meeting this week when seven dozen manikins from baby dolls to society buds, daintily dressed, were turned in. Seven or eight dozen doll hats rivaling a Paris shop already await the holiday shopper. Miniature dresses from those for the bath to ball gowns are being fashioned for the fair.

Two completely equipped baby cribs were the gift of Emerson mothers to the Clawson school day nursery this week.

Plans for the establishment of a nuitrition class in the Piedmont Avenue school were discussed at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association this week. To assist in financing their work the club has arranged a benefit party in the Piedmont theater on Monday night.

Needs of the Junior Red Cross shop, in which Oakland Federation of Mothers has taken over a third interest, and details of the December "Country Fair" in the Municipal auditorium, were placed before the members by Mrs. F. V. Vollmer, first vice-president of the federation; Mrs. L. C. Grasser, chairman of the general committee on arrangements for the December benefit, and Mrs. Edward Morgan Jones, chairman of advertising.

Professor Eugen Neuhaus of the University of California was the speaker before the Petaluma Woman's club this week. "Nationalism in Art" was the subject of the illustrated lecture.

HIP POCKET HELD 'ILLICIT' JOINT

MONTESANO, Wash., Nov. 18.—A hip pocket was held to be a "joint," or illicit liquor resort, within the meaning of the Washington "jointist" statute, when John Misertrich was convicted in superior court here.

Sentence was deferred, but under the verdict a penitentiary term is mandatory. Witnesses had testified Misertrich went about selling whisky from a flask.

Woman Who Killed Husband Held Insane

YREKA, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Lillian Tonkins, charged with the murder of her husband, George Tonkins, at Sawyers Bar last June, was declared insane by a jury here yesterday. The jury was out of the courtroom less than ten minutes. The trial of the woman for murder was suspended on motion of District Attorney Allen, who asked that a jury be impaneled to try her on her sanity.

HAYNES HEADS VIGILANCE BODY TO DOWN RUM

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.—A national civilian vigilance organization designed to aid in prohibition enforcement has been launched at a meeting attended by Roy H. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, federal, state and municipal liquor officers and representatives of reform and civic bodies.

Proposed at first as a purely state organization, the movement to make it nation wide followed endorsement by Commissioner Haynes.

Woman Leans From Auto, Head Crushed

SARATOGA, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Thomas Jones, 32, was instantly killed on the highway east of here last night in an automobile driven by her brother, William Bozine.

Bozine was blinded by headlights of an oncoming automobile, he said, and in her attempt to aid him discern the road ahead his sister put her head out of the car.

The approaching machine, in passing, struck her. She was nearly decapitated. According to Bozine, the other car did not stop.

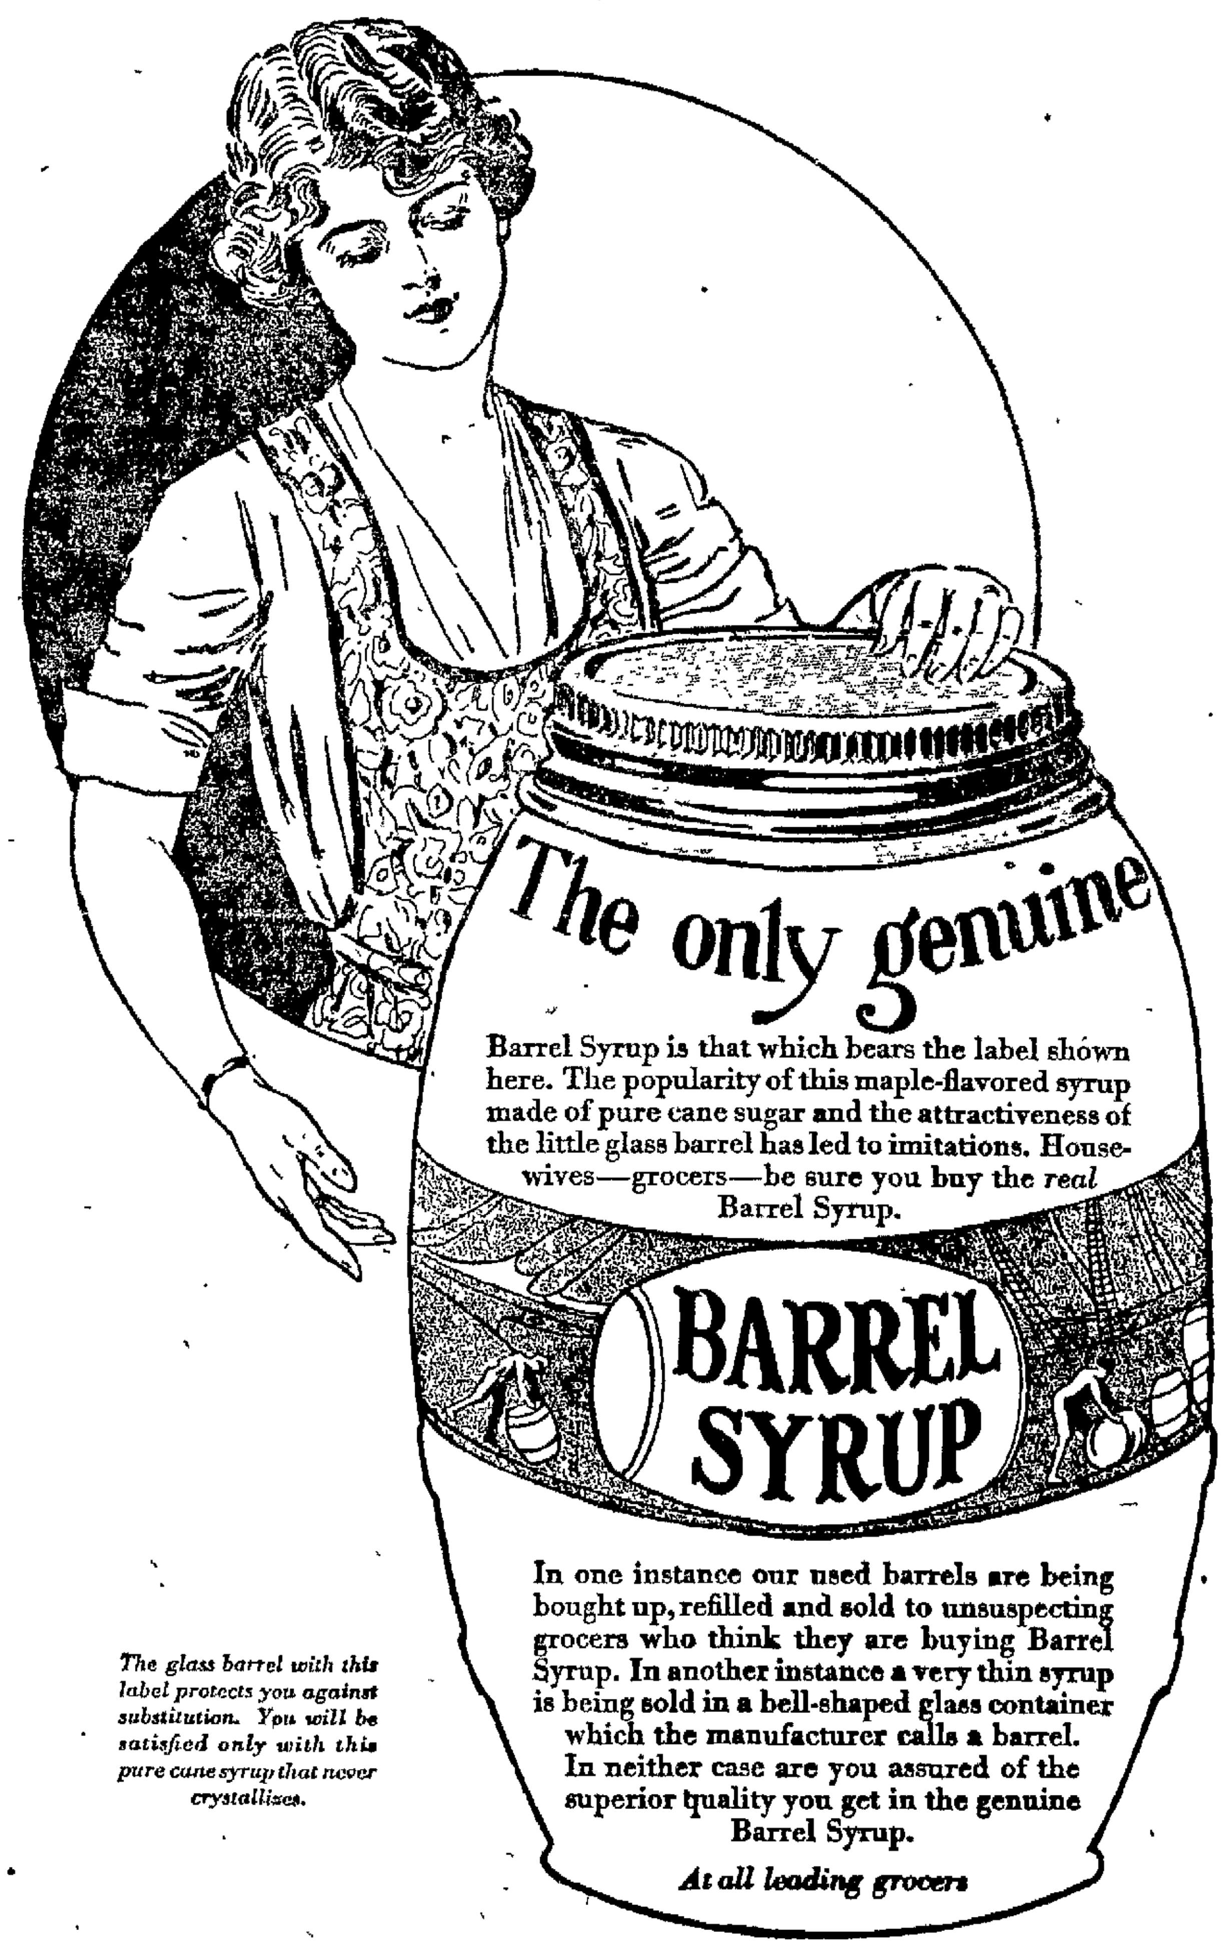
WOMAN TO FACE BIGAMY CHARGE

FRESNO, Nov. 18.—District Attorney Sherwood Greene of Madera county announced in a letter to District Attorney B. W. Gearhart that he is obtaining evidence preparatory to filing a bigamy complaint against Maude Bambina Delmont Hopper, whose marriage to Cassius Clay Woods of Fresno was recently annuled by Judge C. E. Beaumont.

In annuling the marriage Judge Beaumont charged the woman had committed bigamy after she had admitted upon the stand that she had married Woods, cognizant of the fact that she was not fully divorced from James Hopper, her husband.

SHOOTS AT WIFE; ENDS LIFE.

EDMONDS, Wash., Nov. 18.—J. B. Woods, 45 years of age, a farmer at South Edmonds, killed himself with his revolver after firing an ineffectual bullet at his wife, who escaped by jumping through a kitchen window, according to county authorities. Neighbors said the couple had quarreled over money matters.



Barrel Syrup is that which bears the label shown here. The popularity of this maple-flavored syrup made of pure cane sugar and the attractiveness of the little glass barrel has led to imitations. Housewives—grocers—be sure you buy the real Barrel Syrup.

In one instance our used barrels are being bought up, refilled and sold to unsuspecting grocers who think they are buying Barrel Syrup. In another instance a very thin syrup is being sold in a bell-shaped glass container which the manufacturer calls a barrel. In neither case are you assured of the superior quality you get in the genuine Barrel Syrup.

At all leading grocers

The glass barrel with this label protects you against substitution. You will be satisfied only with this pure cane syrup that never crystallizes.

QUICK RESPONSE GIVEN TO TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

Campaign "Going Over" Here in Manner to Make Notable Record.

With "Truth Week" in Oakland nearing its close the Better Business Bureau of the Oakland Advertising Club is experiencing the satisfaction of knowing that the week of publicity for high advertising ideals has met with general response, that the bureau has gained in membership and prestige, and that the campaign is "going over" in this city in a manner to make a notable record.

Prominent business and professional men of Oakland have joined with the Bureau and are devoting their time to the campaign. Endorsements have been received from Chief of Police James Drew, Ezra Decoto, district attorney; Annette Abbott Adams, John Britton, August Vollmer, chief of police in Berkeley, and others.

Before the leading clubs of the cities Oakland men have delivered addresses calling attention to the work of the Better Business Bureau, the bureau's ideals and the campaign that it is waging. Among the speakers, with the names of clubs addressed, were J. J. Rosborough, at Lakeview Club and Soroptimist Club; L. F. Moore at Rotary Club of Berkeley and the 100 Per Cent Club and Optimist Club.

R. F. Mouser will speak at the Kiwanis and Electric clubs, and the Civic Center will hear a speaker. Robert Robinson will speak before the Business and Professional Women's Club and to the Alameda Housewives.

The Bureau has been aided by the Alexander Film Company which has made a film carrying the story of the campaign. The bureau reports that the response has been more general and more gratifying than had been anticipated, and that the week will guarantee to the organization more support and facilities for the program of next year.

State School Board Adopts Geography

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18. — The State board of education yesterday adopted the McMurry-Parkins advanced geography, parts 1 and 2, as the standard for the seventh and eighth grades in California. Further publication of the present text book known as the Tarr-McMurry series was ordered to cease.

The board also passed a resolution recommending to State and county boards of education the prescription of geographical readers in distinction from the first book in geography for grades 4, 5 and 6.

It was decided that the high school principals' convention would be held at Pasadena during the week beginning April 10.

HEAD STUFFED BY CATARRH? USE A HEALING CREAM

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed, or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief.

How good it feels. Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, snuffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.—Advertisement.

A Danger Signal—Tender and Bleeding Gums

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today.

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It

Use it twice daily, year in and year out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gum shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

How the action of Palm and Olive oils transforms your hair

It is interesting to watch the transformation in the appearance of your hair when you shampoo with Palmolive. To discover how glossy and soft it becomes, how fluffy without dryness.

Notice how thoroughly Palmolive cleanses your scalp from all dirt, oil and dandruff. This is the secret of healthy hair. And healthy hair means beauty.

A blend of Palm and Olive oils

The softening effects of olive oil are responsible for the gloss and softness. It produces a mild, penetrating lather which softens and relaxes the scalp and enters each root and hair cell.

The accumulations of dirt and oil are thoroughly removed, not only from the surface but from the tissue of the scalp. Dandruff is penetrated and removed.

Palm oil contributes richness and body to this lather and makes it lasting. Both oils have been famous since Cleopatra's day for their softening, relaxing qualities which no others possess in the same degree.

Prevents dandruff

Dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea and say causes most hair troubles, is not removed by most shampoos.

The dry, oily scales are impervious to usual cleansing. It only makes them more powdery and flaky so that many people think shampooing makes dandruff worse.

But they must be got rid of some way, if you want to keep your hair. Dandruff packs around the roots and interferes with nutrition. This makes even the normal secretion found on every scalp, dangerous to hair health.

The softening, penetrating lather produced by the blending of palm and olive oils loosens the scales, dislodges them from the scalp. The delicate organism of each hair is free for healthy activity.

le the diplomats pondered s case within their own quar- day the naval experts continued to struggle with the naval proposals.

Progress has not been rapid in the adjustment of the conflicting views of American, Japanese and British experts. On the contrary, there were unmistakable indications today that little has been accomplished. The American experts are steadfastly insisting upon the terms laid down in the Hughes program. The estimates were made with such care, the Americans contend, that no room was left for "trading."

Briefly summarized, the Japanese and British objections are:

JAPAN—Believes she is entitled to 70 per cent strength in capital ships, instead of 60. Also believes that in certain auxiliary ships she is entitled to "practical equality" with Great Britain and America.

GREAT BRITAIN—Objects to the American submarine proposals and the auxiliary ship allowance, particularly in light cruisers. Is understood to be reconciled to the ten-year naval holiday proposed, after first objecting.

It was learned today that no progress at all has been made in adjusting the divergent British and American views concerning submarines.

The British experts, keenly recollecting the havoc wrought by German submarines during the war on her vast merchant marine, want the Hughes submarine program cut exactly in half and the complete abolition of the giant cruiser submarines of the "Deutschland" type. The British contend that these weapons are "inhuman."

Objections Peril Vital Points in U. S. Scheme

headed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and including the highest naval officers of the five big powers represented in the disarmament conference appear to have reached a point where the capital ship ratio may be considered settled, so far as the British and American fleets are concerned. The American proposal that Great Britain retain eighteen battleships and four battle cruisers and the United States eighteen battleships seems to have been accepted by the experts which implies final acceptance by the conference itself of that element of the program.

It is not clear, however, that the experts have reached a conclusion as to Japan's fleet strength. Formal announcement yesterday by Admiral Baron Kato, heading the Japanese group, that Japan desired more than the sixty per cent ratio in general naval tonnage allowed for her under the American proposal was taken as meaning that this is the point now being debated by the five admirals of the subcommittee and their staffs.

70 PERCENT RATIO IS JAPANESE AIM.

It has been said that the Japanese desired a fleet ratio to British or American strength of 70 instead of 60 per cent.

Baron Kato did not disclose the actual figures, saying merely that he sought a "slight" increase in proportional strength. There is no doubt that this would be viewed by American naval opinion as a modification of one of the four "general principles" laid down by Secretary Hughes as those applied by the American delegation in shaping a reduction and limitation proposal "upon an entirely reasonable and practicable basis, to the end that the just interests of all shall be adequately guarded and that national security and defense shall be maintained."

The third general proposition stated by Hughes was:

"That in general regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned."

WOULD BE ALLOWED TO RETAIN MUTSU.

This has application to the Japanese proposed modification as to ratio, it is said, inasmuch as Japan does not now possess even the 60 per cent ratio allowed under the American proposals.

If the concrete terms of the Japanese counter proposal deal only with her desire to retain the new superdreadnaught Mutsu, just commissioned and if that figures out into a "slight" increase in general tonnage, it is possible an adjustment could be reached by recasting the list of specific ships laid down by Hughes, as those to be retained by each power in the projected immediate reduction of existing forces. If the Japanese claim is for an actual higher ratio of naval power, however, and there is some indication that it is, the question will be more difficult of treatment.

There is no doubt that American naval experts regard the original proposal of 60 per cent for Japan as liberal in view of Japan's place in the role of nations view from her economic or other interests as compared with those of Great Britain or the United States.

JAPANESE DOMINATION OF ORIENT OPPOSED.

The plain fact of the matter seems to be in the judgment of those American officers who will express opinions that they feel Japan is not entitled to such a naval force as might permit her to dominate the situation in Oriental waters should the issue in China or elsewhere in the Far East be brought at some future time to the test of war. The fleet ratio of Japan involves this point, it is said.

As to Japan's desire for equal tonnage with the other powers in a "purely defensive" type of ship, it is said, much would depend on what kind of ship it is she wishes to maintain under the modification. Baron Kato said it was not submarines. That leaves light cruisers and destroyers, presumably. If it is light cruisers, as seems likely, probably an aggreement can be reached quickly on this point as it is not material in estimates of fleet strength.

SPIRIT OF CAUTION FOLLOWS ENTHUSIASM.

Destroyers also are included under this heading of the American proposals, however, and war experience gave a new value to destroyers which would have to be considered by American experts very carefully before they could agree that Japan's destroyer flotilla equal that of the United States or Great Britain.

TOKYO, Nov. 18. (By The Associated Press).—After the first enthusiasm over the anticipated relief of armament burdens, a spirit of caution has developed in Japan, with the inclination to look for a possible advantage to the United States in its proposal for a ten-year naval holiday and limitation of navies. Expressions favoring a more equal balance of power have become the conspicuous public note concerning the scheme with the probable disturbance of labor conditions as a secondary consideration.

The sacrifice of warships aggregating 450,000 tons by Japan would be equal to the scraping of 1,500,000 tons by the United States, Japanese analysts declare, on the ground that in an emergency the United States could replace her lost tonnage within a third or even a fifth of the time required by Japan.

ADVANTAGES FOR U. S. IN NEW SHIPS, CLAIMED.

It is pointed out that the American proposals would leave the United States five capital ships constructed between 1914 and 1916, while, with the exception of the Nagato, all Japan's would be of the period prior to 1913.

It is admitted that the Japanese navy would be superior to the American in speed through the elimination of cruisers, but the experts declare that in all else the plan would favor the United States. Some members of the Admiralty are credited with expressing the belief that the Japanese fleet should aggregate 66 per cent of the American total. Naval writers, expressing the opinion that the United States will not take the position that its proposals are not subject to amendment, see a fair prospect for an amicable adjustment.

Concessions by the United States in regard to Pacific fortification, as an offset to what is generally coming to be regarded as the unfair ratio of naval strength, are suggested by Baron Tochiatsu, an influential member of the House of Peers.

TWELVE BATTLESHIPS SUGGESTED FOR JAPAN.

He declares that the ratio should be twelve battleships for Japan to eighteen for the United States instead of ten to eighteen. He says further that, under the Hughes plan with Japan retaining only one of the superdreadnaught type, the Nagato, against America's three, Japan's ratio would be reduced to approximately ten to twenty. A fairer balance, he argues, might be secured in a different direction, namely, the eliminating of all naval bases which menace Japan.

School Teacher and Babe Burn to Death

ATHBOY, Ireland, Nov. 12.—When Bernard Riley, a farmer of Derrylanden, married Janet McCann and she continued to teach in the village school both were warned that this would result in trouble. Recently Mrs. Riley received an anonymous letter telling her that her home would be burned unless she resigned. She kept on teaching and two weeks later the house was set afire. Mrs. Riley and her baby were burned to death. No clew to the murderers has been found, but the police suspect a family of the village whose daughter would have been eligible for teacher had Mrs. Riley resigned.

WORLD COMPACT TO PROHIBIT WAR URGED BY GARY

Head of Steel Corporation Belittles Suggestion Disarmament May Reduce Trade.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Making of a treaty which would end future wars was urged, in conjunction with an agreement to limit navies, by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the U. S. Steel Corporation, in an address today before the American Iron and Steel Institute, of which he is president. He also belittled the suggestion that armament limitation would reduce the manufacture of steel, saying the thought was unworthy of even a passing notice. Business was improving, he said, but there must be further adjustments.

"With an agreement for the limitation of capital ships," he said, "it would not seem to be practical to stop with less than a final treaty which will prevent future wars.

"In addition to what is contemplated by the limitation of armament, there should, with other things, be an understanding that if any international differences arose no resort to military force should be permitted until after there has been a conference and full discussion by all nations participating in the deliberations at Washington.

PLAN OF HARDING.

"President Harding and the four selected, able and experienced representatives of this country, will energetically and persistently strive for an agreement.

"The benefits which would be derived by reason of all the nations living under peaceful conditions as compared with military conflicts are beyond calculation. If means for the firm establishment and maintenance of peace can be found and generally assented to, it will mark an epoch of the greatest business prosperity as well as the largest measure of happiness that the world has ever witnessed. We should be thankful that this conference has been called."

Failure of the conference, he said, was unthinkable. An adverse outcome would be intolerable and those responsible for it would be repudiated and everlastingly condemned.

BUSINESS IMPROVES.

Gary said it seemed to be generally conceded that business conditions throughout the country for the last six months had been steadily, if slowly, growing better. The volume of business in the steel industry had more than doubled in the last ninety days, he said, though profits had been little or nothing, due to high costs and low prices. Of the country's business outlook, he said:

"Even though we now have passed the most critical period of our recovery I still think we would not be warranted in concluding we have arrived at the point where we can with certainty expect the return to a normal financial and commercial basis. The world's economic structure has been terribly shaken by adverse winds during the last few years. There must be further adjustments.

"The delay in complete restoration of a sound and satisfactory economic development and activity in this country is largely due to high costs, high costs of living, high costs of production and transportation and high costs of owning and earning money or its equivalent."

STEEL PLANTS FOR COAST.

Manufacture of steel from iron ore by the "direct process," which would involve the use of atomized fuel oil, or powdered coal, was described before the institute by A. E. Bourcound, a New York engineer, who has been conducting exhaustive tests for some time. He declared the "direct process" had a "reasonable chance of industrial existence and that, properly conducted, the work could be done at a price that would compare favorably with the cost of manufacturing steel under methods generally followed heretofore.

The process described by Bourcound differs from the blast furnace process in that the latter involves the use of reduction gases formed in the charge of coke in the furnace, while the Bourcound method contemplates the use of reducing gases projected against the mass of ore contained in a furnace of special design.

Federal experts, it was stated, have found the process theoretically sound. It was pointed out by the speaker that the "direct process" would open up possibilities for the development of a steel industry in regions where blast furnace operations are almost impossible because of the cost of supplying coal to plants. California iron ores could be melted in that state by the use of fuel oil and the Pacific Coast could look forward to the building up of a local steel industry.

French Hope of Defense Alliance Is Vain: Bryan

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

(Copyright, 1921, by the United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov 18.—France cannot hope for a treaty with the United States by which this country will rush to her defense in case of an attack.

There never was a day when it could have received favorable consideration in the senate and any favor shown in 1919 has disappeared.

It is not that the United States is less sympathetic toward France, but that there is a growing conviction that guarantees of force will not settle the problem which the world has to meet. That was the old plan and it brought on the bloodiest war in history.

There has been a tremendous reaction against war in the United States, as well as in other countries. This is shown by the refusal of congress to provide for as many soldiers in the regular army as the secretary of war asked, by its failure to vote as much money to the navy as the secretary of the navy asked, and by the total disappearance of the sentiment, once quite strong, in favor of universal compulsory military training.

The people of the United States believe that the revolution in opinion now going on will create in France—if it has not already done so—a feeling that securities for the future ought to be found in the substitution of friendship and good will for the former methods of diplomacy and that these securities will not only be sufficient but very much more effective than those that rested upon the exciting of fear.

The Far Eastern question will be settled along the same line as that which will furnish security to France. With the disappearance of offensive navies will come the spirit of conciliation.

When the threat of force is abandoned and persuasion substituted for it, she will be invited to do more than she now can do by force. Japan should be to China what the United States is to the republics of Central and South America. This nation has for more than a century been next to South America and more than a century has not suggested granting a concession.

Britain Suspends All Warship Construction

tion until an agreement has been reached.

Representative Britten of Illinois has pending in the House a resolution providing for immediate cessation.

U. S. DELEGATES LAUD GREAT BRITAIN'S MOVE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press) — Decision by Great Britain to stop work immediately on her four capital ships of the super-Hood type was heard with satisfaction today by members of the American armament delegation. They regarded the order for cessation of work announced today in London as indicative of the wholehearted espousal by the British of the principles of the American naval reduction program.

The action of the British government came as no surprise here. There was much doubt, even before the conference on limitation of armament was called by President Harding, that the British would complete these ships.

American officials emphasized that Great Britain would suffer less from stoppage of work on the Super-Hoods than the United States would if a similar order were issued relating to its 1916 naval program. It was pointed out that the Super-Hoods virtually were in the "paper stage" while some of the new American ships were nearly completed.

Congressional leaders declared today that there was little prospect of any action in either Senate or House on resolutions designed to stop the 1916 program until the results of the conference are seen. It was pointed out that, under authority of an amendment to the 1916 naval appropriation bill the President, in event of international agreement, has authority to stop the present building program without further authorization from Congress.

Chinese Deny U. S. Suggested Proposal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press) — In a formal statement today the Chinese delegation to the Washington conference said "that in view of a printed report" that it was at the suggestion of the United States that the Chinese delegation has presented "her ten general principles," the statement was authorized that "this report is unfounded."

ALL CREDIT FOR ARMS PARLEY IS PAID TO HARDING

"Inside Story" Shows President Conceived Idea While On Mayflower Cruise.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(By The Associated Press.)—Who formulated and executed the call for the armament conference? Who evolved the American proposals for naval limitation?

The country has been asking these questions and has been hearing many answers. The best "inside story" here has all the earmarks of being the correct answer.

President Harding, on a week-end cruise down the Potomac this autumn, so the story runs, locked himself in his stateroom one evening and left word that he did not wish to be disturbed. A little later he called to his room, one by one, some of the close friends in public life who had accompanied him, and laid before them sheets of paper on which he had written with lead pencil, and with corrections and interlineations, something which they all read with amazement.

INVITATION TO PARLEY.

It was the invitation to the arms conference.

After some conference, it was decided to forward the text to Secretary Hughes and the yacht Mayflower buzzed off from her wireless that night the words which later were to ring around the world.

Of course, the preliminary diplomatic feeler was transmitted to the nations concerned, but it is said that the text of the formal invitation was substantially the same as President Harding had conceived it that night on the Mayflower.

The evolution of the concrete American proposals for naval limitation—Secretary Hughes' bombshell—is still another story.

WHO FRAMED PROPOSAL?

Some admirers have ascribed them to Secretary Hughes alone, while other persons have declared they were the composite effort of the four American delegates of whom Hughes is one. Everybody seems agreed that they were not drafted by naval officials, and almost everybody had left out President Harding, until the "inside story" began to circulate.

The great secret, to which A. J. Balfour referred to in his address, Tuesday, must, indeed, have been well kept, because between seven and ten men knew it. That number includes the four American delegates and President Harding. The others worked on various phases of the proposal. It is known that it was based on memoranda called from the navy department, and it was carried into execution by the American big four, which Secretary Hughes heads, but the "big idea" on which the plan is built, the "inside story" says, came from President Harding.

SLANG SAVES HER.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Nov 19.—Lady Durham has been long noted among her friends as a devotee of American slang. When she saw a man climbing over her garden wall she was so taken aback that all she could say was, "Oh, you burglar!" She quickly recovered herself, however, and gave the alarm, so that the intruder was captured.

The confession, officers stated, was made voluntarily, after Miss Humpert visited Champlain's cell and urged him to tell the truth.

Within a few minutes after the crash had torn a huge hole in the steamer's hull all of the members of the crew and the passengers escaped in lifeboats or in the boats sent out from the river bank.

December 7 is the date set for the wedding of Miss Evangeline Grier and William P. Banning of Los Angeles. Banning is a son of the late Joseph Banning, wealthy realty man and ship operator. The wedding is to take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson Grier Jr., in Buckingham Road in the southern city. Miss Grier is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Thomas Grier Jr. and of Lisgar Grier of the University of California. Because of the recent death of the bridegroom's father the ceremony will be very simple.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1921.

FRANCE NOW TAKES COMMAND.

France, through her premier, Mr. Briand, ad of the French delegation to the disarma- ent conference, has made the most notable tribution to the discussion of Far Eastern d Pacific questions. As an expression of its sire to give substantial aid to China in reali- ion of the latter country's aspirations for ritorial, political and commercial integrity, ance is willing to:

(1). Give up Kuang-chow, which France sed from China in 1898, provided Great itain will give up Wei-hai-Wei and Japan l give up Kiao-chow and other Shantung icessions leased by Germany in the same year, d the Port Arthur peninsula taken over from ssia by Japan at the conclusion of the sso-Japanese war of 1904, and, he first proposal is the one of real import- ce. Kuang-chow is the French leased terri- y on the Lien-chow peninsula in the South ina Sea, not very far from Canton and Hong ong, about half way between the Portuguese tlement of Macao and the important Indo- ina port of Hai-phong.

(2). To take up with China discussion of subject of rectification of the China fron- of 900 miles on the French colony of Indo- ina, which France acquired from the King- a of Annam.

t is about the same size as the British con- sion of Wei-hai Wei and the former German cession of Kiao-chow before the latter was rged by Japanese occupation. Like these icessions, it was sought and exacted of the inese government when the foreign nations e pursuing their joint policy of separate heres of influence." Provoked by Russia at t Arthur and Great Britain at Hong Kong Wei-hai Wei, Germany insisted upon a simi- concession in Kiao-chow and France de- nded Kuang-chow.

ow that the "spheres of influence" policy been nominally abandoned and is, we be- e, about to be repudiated in substance, there no longer any justification for the foreign na- ns to hold on to these possessions on the ina mainland, virtually wrung from China force.

t is to be said in frankness that for awhile strong reason for maintaining them existed ause of the unsettled condition of public or- in China, manifested particularly by the xer uprising which was actively supported the then ruling head of the Chinese govern- nt. These foreign settlements, amply de- ded against attack from the interior, pro- ed a place of refuge for the nationals of the eign governments respectively involved in event of a crusade against foreigners in ina.

But this justification no longer exists. ina's enlightenment and instruction by ex- ple has progressed far enough to insure mparable safety to foreigners. Improved nsportation and means of communication ke the situation decisively different from at it was twenty years ago.

A third reason, which probably was urged at time in good faith, was the desirability of naval base for the European powers in the nt of assault upon their respective interests the Pacific area. But the experience of Ger- ny in 1914 showed how useless these conces- ns are for such a purpose. Tsingtau at once ame a trap in which the German naval forces the Pacific were caught. The effectiveness the modern battleship renders them helpless ainst attack from a hostile sea force.

Thus these territorial concessions, with the ht of foreign administration over them, have come merely a thorn in the side of China's de and self-respect, an obstruction to interna- nal good feeling, an unprofitable burden on the home governments of France and eat Britain. They give no significant service the trade efforts of the foreign nations hold- them which could not be extended in some ner and in an inoffensive way.

In dealing with this subject M. Briand has adopted the tactics Mr. Hughes employed in submitting the program for sea armaments. He has been bold and forthright in offering a concrete and practical plan for removing one of the most formidable causes for embarrassment in dealing with Far Eastern questions.

The response is uncertain. It is reasonable to expect, however, that Great Britain will agree as to Wei-hai Wei and Japan as to Shantung, since in Shantung Japan will be restoring something she now holds without legal or moral right. But as to Port Arthur Japan may be expected to demur. She has developed the port of Dalny with a view to using it as an effective agency for controlling the business of Manchuria. She has made it effective for this purpose. She will not be pleased at the suggestion that it be turned back to China before the expiration of the original Russian leasehold.

But the French premier has brought the whole question of foreign concessions in China out into the open. He has shown the only way in which the question can be disposed of morally and justly, and as an earnest of good intention, he makes the offer of outright restoration. The course of those foreign governments that disagree with the French proposal will be somewhat difficult.

PROGRESS OF THE EASTBAY.

Oakland shows up well in the federal census of manufactures, made public recently and covering the five year period of 1914-19. This is a special cause for congratulation in view of the recent campaign to demean and defame this city and its inviting facilities.

Factory investments increased from $36,411,000 to $118,822,000, a gain of 226 percent. Value of products increased from $28,500,000 to $134,700,000, a gain of 373 percent. Number of employees increased from 8713 to 26,736, a gain of 175 percent, the largest gain of any city on the Pacific Coast.

During this period reviewed by the federal census enumerators over 200 new manufactories and industrial establishments located in the Eastbay District, a few of them moving over from San Francisco. A goodly portion were of national prominence and their products have gone throughout the markets of the world. The concerns whose products are advertised throughout the nation and the world include the Peet Brothers Manufacturing Co., Sherwin-Williams Co., Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., Proctor & Gamble Co., H. J. Heinz Co., Durant Motors Co., Continental Can Co., Shredded Wheat Co., General Electric Co., General Motors Co., Certain-teed Products Corporation, Libby, McNeil & Libby, Palmolive Co., and the National Lead Co. A great canning establishment came here from Australia. Several shipyards turned out commerce carriers to take the name "Oakland" to maritime ports.

Splendid water and rail transportation, favorable conditions as to homes for workers and plant executives, and the future prospects of the great Eastbay District, were among the factors that brought about this great increase in the industrial and business life. These great possessions shall not be destroyed by the activities of little cliques of self-seeking interests nor dissipated by division and disintegration.

Hon. Arthur Arlett had been absent from Oakland for five years, forced by ill health to reside in Honolulu. But the news yesterday of his death has caused deep regret in this community, where he will long be remembered for the vigorous and influential leadership he contributed for several years to public and official life.

San Francisco is now claiming a population of 676,000. Cities that boast should remember that every ten years disappointment comes in the role of a census enumerator.

WORLD RECOVERY.

Lloyd George has made his contribution to the engrossing debate on the question whether the nations are on their way to economic recovery or on the way to the devil. In this debate one noted Englishman, Mr. H. G. Wells, is now stoutly on the side of pessimism. The British Premier is on the other side. He enumerates the symptoms of recuperation: a reduction in the glut of commodity stocks, a recovery from the "dazed slackness which seemed to overcome labor in every land," and, for England, the maintenance of her credit system during hard times justified now by an increase in her foreign trade. Everywhere, Lloyd George finds, people are settling down to work.

It may be asked whether the British Premier is entitled to generalize from the British situation for the world at large. He is justified in doing so by the very same reasoning employed in the pessimist camp. If it is true that the economic interests of the nations are so intertwined that all nations must prosper or suffer together, it follows that economic recovery in any one country must have its counterpart, to some degree at least, in other countries. If British exports are growing there must be an increase of purchasing power in other countries. If unemployment in Great Britain can be successfully dealt with it must mean that the problems of unemployment in other countries are growing less difficult.

The aspect of Europe is not particularly cheerful, and there are still plenty of observers returning from Europe with prophecies of imminent collapse, scheduled sometimes with alarming definiteness for next month or the next quarter. Against such generalizations we can only refer to specific evidences of recovery. For Great Britain, the country least affected by the war after ourselves, Lloyd George has now spoken. For a country as badly affected by the war as any country with the exception of Russia, and that is Austria, there is also evidence of revival. Early last summer competent observers reported that in Vienna the factories were working to nearly 60 percent of capacity as against only 8 percent immediately after the peace; and since last summer things have not been going back in Austria. These are only two instances; but coming from opposite ends of the economic scale, and in fairly definite form, they are a check upon the common predictions of disaster.—New York Evening Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

The man unaccustomed to the gun has been heard from again, this time at Petaluma. He was cleaning the weapon, for which process of course it was loaded. His achievement was its accidental discharge, the piercing of three doors by the bullet, and the killing of a woman. There is a superabundance of laws already, but another restraining the promiscuous possession of firearms might not be wholly superfluous.

Secretary Davis has sent over the country preliminary cheer by stating that the price of turkeys is "going sky high." On the figures of the Commissioner of Statistics he predicts that the Thanksgiving piece de resistance will go as high as 79 cents. Were it not that a prophecy of 42 to 47 cents is coincidently made near at hand, from a quarter where turkeys are handled, we might well be perturbed.

The Palo Alto Times is candid: "It looks as though someone were trying to hang the Indian sign on Stanford. A news item in the Daily Palo Alto declares that 'Stanford's proposed new symbol, the Indian head at present on the football blankets, will be put up for a student body vote in the winter quarter.' It's all too possible that the University of California football team may save the student body the trouble of voting on the plan."

Some high hopes are entertained and a few extravagant predictions are made at Palo Alto as to the great game to come off tomorrow. Football is not quite as uncertain as baseball, and dope counts for more. It is very largely in favor of the U. C. From all appearances this clash of the two great institutions of learning is to be a mighty occasion.

Further evidence that General Wood is proving the right man in the right place is afforded in the action of the Filipino Senate in confirming his appointments, which it at first refused to do for the alleged reason that it had not first been consulted. Without commotion the Governor-General allayed the situation, and begins his administration in all amicability.

"Drawback to international holiday in battleship building unearthed by British." The drawback is alleged to be as to resuming status after ten years, the time that has been proposed for the nations to lay off building battleships. It is suggested that the cost of beginning again will be equal to the saving meantime. But the better idea is that there will be no beginning again. If the world is not so well pleased with ten years of disarmament as to make it everlasting, the effort now under way will have been in vain.

Dr. Rastall says that the element of goodwill plays the most important part in making a city favorably known throughout the world. That has been pretty generally understood. The thing that puzzles and sometimes eludes boosting committees is just how to evince the goodwill. Advice on that head was really what was wanted.

The Red Bluff News makes an observation: "We have observed with amazement that when a football team loses it is on account of some particular player being unable to get into the game. If all these absent players could be brought in, no game could be played to a decision. They would all be ties."

General Pershing may not have acquired the habit in his distinguished service overseas, but in any consideration his kissing the war mother was a brave and gallant act. It is the French custom, and it is recognized that if it was not expected, it will at least greatly please a punctilious people.

Mail Clerk Inderlied has made a practical illustration of how to act when the masked bandit suddenly appears with the purpose of capturing and rifling the mail sacks. He knocked the bandit down and sat on him till officers arrived. They did the rest, all except pulling down the $7000 reward. Inderlied will attend to that. When it is understood that the bandit was Roy Gardner, the feat assumes glorious proportions.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The size of the crowd and the dedication of the new Stanford stadium will not be the only unprecedented features of the day of the Big Game in Palo Alto next Saturday. This will probably be the first time in the history of inter-collegiate contests anywhere that a public nursery has been instituted where parents, desiring to take in the sport of the day, may leave their babies. This unique service is offered on the day of the Big Game by Palo Alto's Community House.—Palo Alto Times.

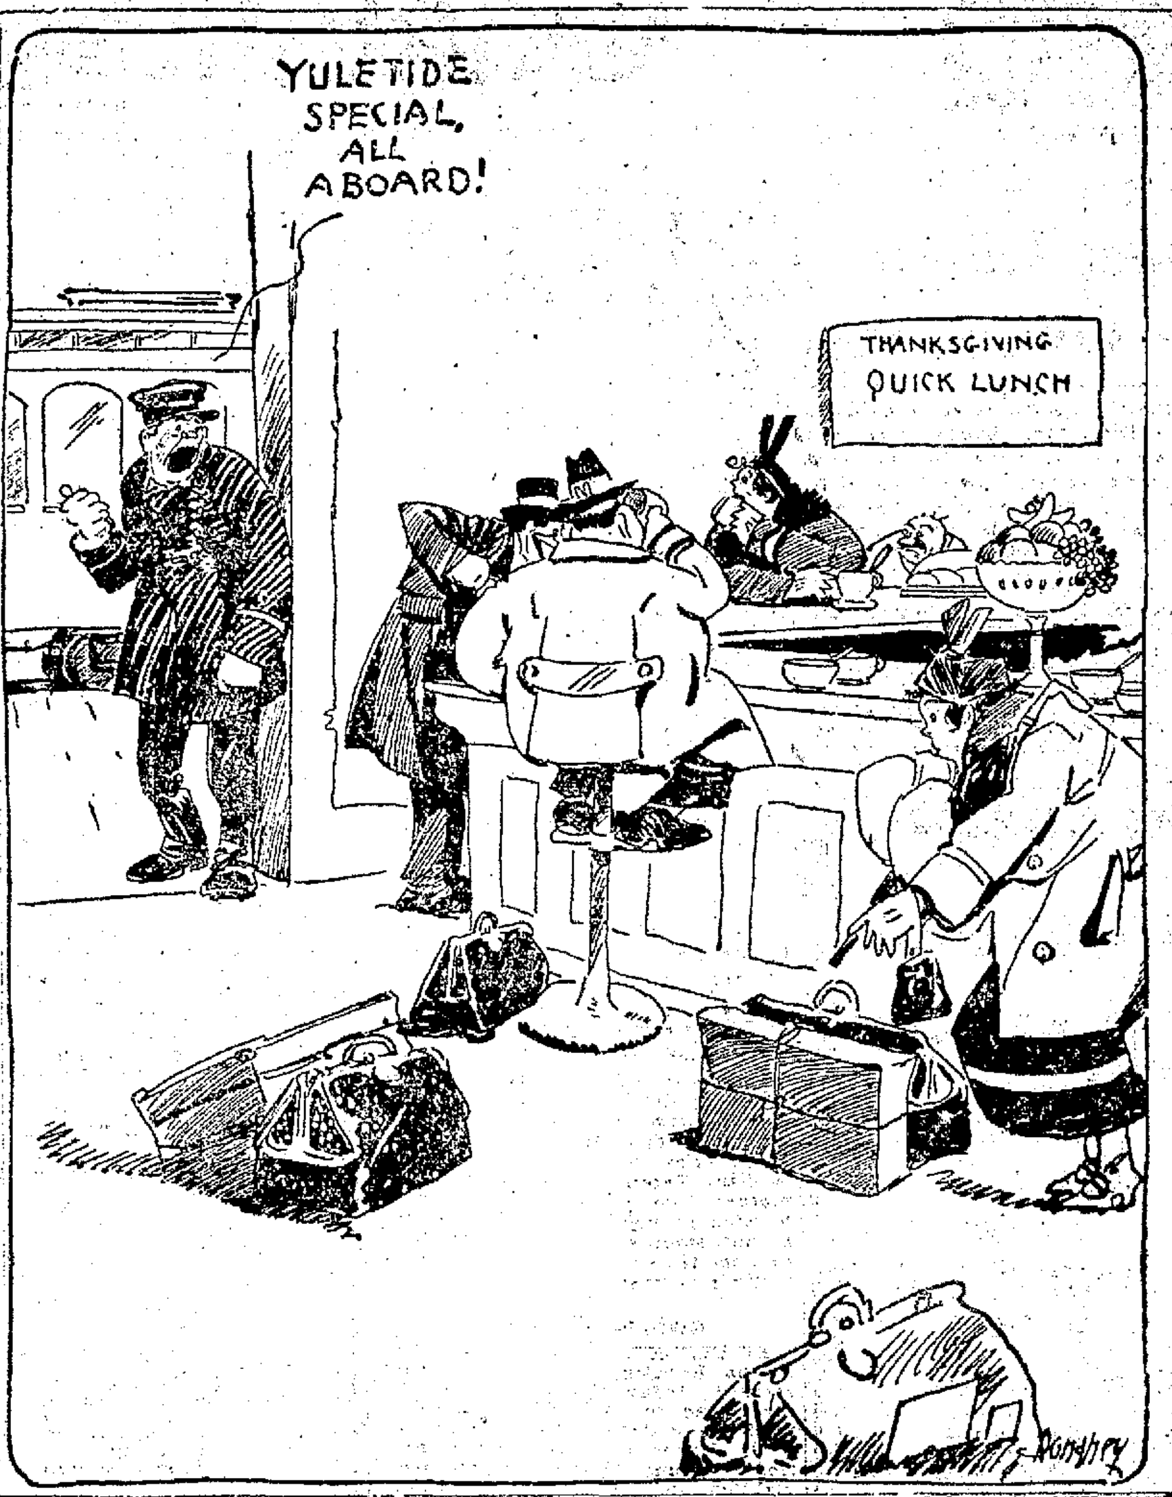
On a road at the foot of the Rockies is a sign that reads: "Danger—Sharp Curve—You Might Meet a Fool." Such a sign is calculated to make a driver sit up and take notice. The latter sees at almost every sharp turn a notice to proceed with caution, or to blow his horn, and comes to be little impressed by them. He has confidence in his ability to avoid running into another car. But if there is a fool in the other car the efforts of the most skillful driver to escape a collision may be futile.—Chico Enterprise.

The growing importance of football in America is indicated by the announcement that the University of Illinois is to build a stadium to cost $2,500,000, whose architectural design is "to recall the magnificence of ancient Rome." Let Berkeley and Stanford hide their diminished heads!—Sacramento Bee.

Police Captain Layne of San Francisco asks the women of San Francisco to help him clean up vice. Why don't he call on the police courts?—Hanford Sentinel.

Secretary of State Hughes went to the bat at the conference and in the first inning landed on the first ball pitched and lined out a homer.—Chico Enterprise.

"HERE SHE COMES!"



JUST FOLKS: By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE WELCOME

Little eyes that shine at night
Make the sort of beacon light
That I really want to see
When the day is through with me.
There is nothing that I know
On this earth that thrills me so
As that flash of love which flies
Out of little dancing eyes
As a signal to express
Love and trust and happiness.
Little eyes can tell that way
More than words can ever say.

In those little flashing eyes
All my inspiration lies.
Days are long and tasks are hard;
Frequently my way is barred;
Often strangers sneer or frown
At my labors in the town;
Some find fault with what I do
Some suspect my motives, too,
Some are quick to criticise—
But those glorious little eyes,
Asking neither pomp nor sham,
Welcome me for what I am.

"This is home," they seem to say,
"Now put all your cares away!
Here we are to welcome you,
Glad that all your work is through.
Come and rest and romp in fun.
All the dreary tasks are done.
We've got hugs and kisses, too,
Saved up here to give to you.
Here we are, with eyes aglow,
Telling you we love you so.
Just forget the world of men;
We are glad you're home again!"

AMERICAN INFLUENCE IN JAVA

In Java there are not more than a few hundred Americans who are permanent residents. Yet they and their country have had a profound influence on the island. Since 1917, when trade relations began between Java and the United States, things American have become popular. Hollander as well as "Indo" takes gracefully to American dances. A Javanese babu may hum her white baby to sleep with one of our latest ragtime melodies, while a Malay ragamuffin out in the street is whistling "Joan of Arc, Joan of Arc." When an American film is advertised in front of a moving picture house, the natives eagerly admire the bill-boards, and, when they have entered the theater, they seat themselves on the floor, on the wrong side of the screen, and cheer for little Mary or funny Charlie; while the portly Hollanders lean back in their comfortable chairs on the side we are accustomed to look from and do not applaud more loudly than the natives. In the smallest village there is at least one American sewing machine. American kodaks and phonographs are sold in up-to-date American shops and American automobiles outnumber European cars ten to one. The purchasers of these goods are wont to assert, however, in a challenging tone that can be met only with a laughing refusal to debate, that there is in America not any striving for beauty but merely a struggle for the dollar. The Hollander is in truth a little bit distrustful of the American, whom, unfortunately, he often has learned to know as representing "the biggest firm in the United States," if not "in the world."

The American in Java is easily recognized. He wears an open coat and an open smile in contrast with the Hollander's closed coat with a stiff standing collar and his generally stiff face also. The American "jollies" his servant and spoils him, socially and financially, the Dutchman asserts. He is quite ready with his "Hello!" to fellow-countrymen, even if he has not met them before. In the restaurants he drinks whisky instead of gin. He is always a booster for America and for his native city in particular, and he will say, whenever another American is starting home: "You lucky bird; I wish I could go along. Say 'Hello!' to the folks, will you?"

The Dutch business man is much more conservative, and there is in his demeanor a certain rigidity, which reminds one of the manner of the German. But when one has known him a couple of weeks, this Hollander often proves to be a jovial fellow with an unexpected knowledge of politics and business methods in the United States.—From The Melting-Pot in Java, by John W. Prins, in Asia Magazine for December.

THE MIRACULOUS CRUCIFIX.

The atmosphere that hangs about the old church of Binondo, a district of Manila, is particularly rich in legend. The church of Binondo, which is dedicated to the Virgin of the Rosary, owes its origin to the miracle of the crucifix and the spring.

A narrow, crooked, dirty, ill-smelling street, called Santo Cristo, now traverses the place where the spring once fed a public well in a vast meadow. From this well the Chinese merchants who lived near by obtained water. One day, some centuries ago, a Christian Chinaman dropped his bamboo bucket into the well but was unable to draw it forth again. Something obstructed the mouth. After several futile attempts to draw up the bucket he made an investigation. He could hardly believe his eyes. What he had supposed to be a forked twig blocking the passage of the bucket proved to be a Holy Crucifix, about one foot in length, just the width of the well. In great consternation and excitement he took the sacred object to the priest of the Binondo church, which was then a small bamboo chapel. The good friar interpreted the miracle; it was a divine message that a handsome church should be built in Binondo. And straightway when the Christian people of Binondo, a great many of whom were Chinese, heard of the miracle, they began the erection of the present church. In a glass case above one of the side altars was placed the miraculous crucifix, which is believed to increas in size as time passes. Yet no one dares measure it, lest some great misfortune befall. The people of the district also affirm that the image upon the crucifix has shown its dislike for a rich hermano mayor (the man chosen to be in charge of a church procession at the time of a fiesta) by two significant occurrences. Once for a great procession in which the marvelous crucifix was to be carried, a hermano mayor was chosen who was the richest man in the locality. This man, in his eagerness to make the procession an ostentatious display, ordered all the streets through which the procession was to pass to be carpeted with rich and costly rugs. Just at the moment the sacred crucifix was to enter upon the extravagantly carpeted way a great typhoon swept from the sea, destroying all the sumptuous preparations. When the next procession was planned, the people, fearing the wrath of the sacred image, chose for the hermano mayor the poorest man of the parish, who was too poor indeed to provide musicians for the occasion. The procession, started without music, seemed to drag lifelessly. Just as the image was to join the pageant, however, all the arches decorating the streets miraculously became filled with millions of crickets whose loud, rhythmic chirping served as music and made the procession a great success.—From In the Wake of the Friars, by Hazel C. Taylor, in Asia Magazine for December.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

An Oakland man was sentenced to 50 days in the city prison by a local police judge for reckless driving in a buggy.

The President's time today was largely taken up in the discussion of reciprocity.

Reports have been received at Helena, Mont., of a disastrous wreck on the Great Northern, near Culbertson station, in the northeastern part of the State.

About YOUR HEALTH

How Science Now Helps General Paresis Sufferers.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

There is a law of compensation in Nature which never fails to operate. We must pay for whatever we get.

Modern life has contributed endless comforts and many luxuries. But the hurly-burly of present-day existence demands its toll of those who participate.

The brain and nervous system, delicate as they are, can withstand most assaults, but the battering of worry, hurry, late hours, loss of sleep, wrong eating and other bad habits must and does result in serious impairment in action and, sometimes, in complete derangement of the function of the brain.

"General paresis" and "general paralysis of the insane" are names given a disease which was unknown a century ago. Today it is all too frequently met.

In cities and countries where social standards are low, it is commonly observed. Persons in the active years of life, from 30 to 50, are attacked, and men are more apt to have the disease than women. Nervous persons are particularly liable to paresis.

One out of ten inmates in every insane asylum is the victim of general paralysis, or "G. P.," as the doctors call it.

In these diseases there is slow degeneration of the brain substance. It actually becomes smaller and loses in weight. The spinal cord and nerves are affected in a similar way.

You can see that such organic and structural changes are sure to result ultimately in permanent injury to the action of the mind and nervous system.

As a matter of fact, the victim of general paresis becomes weak in mind. His memory is impaired, his judgment is lost and after a while his moral fibre is gone.

To begin with, there are extreme nervousness, fear, headache, irritableness and loss of power to perform mental work. These symptoms persist sometimes for years. Then appear melancholia, mania and paralysis of the muscles. The patient walks unsteadily, he can hardly write because of trembling hands, he talks thickly and ultimately becomes helpless and bedridden.

The G. P. patient forgets his engagements and neglects his business. He talks at a great rate. "He arches the sky of his fancy with the rainbow of ecstatic hope." He may have delusions and fancy all sorts of strange things.

When you discover peculiar and unusual mental symptoms in yourself or a member of your family, you should see your family doctor. Don't grow morbid over the condition. It may be of no consequence whatever; but, even if it is, early attention may relieve it. General paresis, for instance, has back of it a fundamental disease which, taken in the beginning, may be overcome. The longer it is neglected the more hopeless the outcome.

This disease used to be counted among the incurable conditions. With improved methods of treatment it is looked upon far more favorably. A quiet life and peaceful surroundings added to proper medication give hope of recovery if taken in hand early enough.

THE COST OF STRIKES.

Records of the United States Department of Labor disclose that in the first half of 1921 the loss in wages alone from strikes and lockouts was $1,179,000,000. With no indication of a relaxation of strike and lockout activity for the remaining six months it is a fair presumption that the wage loss from these causes of the first half of the year will be duplicated in the second half. This would make the total 1921 wage loss from strikes and lockouts foot up to $2,358,000,000. This is enough to keep 2,000,000 men constantly at work for a year at wages close to $100 a month.

The extent to which lockouts contribute to this enormous deficit is negligible. Out of the 1621 labor disputes in the six months covered by the Labor Department records the lockouts numbered thirty-seven. This leaves 1584 instances of cessation of labor due to strikes.

But the Labor Department figures are under the total of wage loss from voluntary idleness. These figures cover only the controversies which were referred to the Department for action. It is only on application of one or both of the parties involved in an industrial controversy that the Labor Department is authorized to intervene. It takes cognizance only of disagreements thus brought to its attention. How many similar controversies involving cessation of labor are not referred to the Department is speculative.

But, far within the actuality as these figures are, in all conscience they are depressing enough. They reveal that 1,600,000 workers lost time and wages in the first six months of the year. The wide extension of unemployment seems to have had no effect. Zeal for the strike appears to have been little cooled by hard times. The number of those who in 1921 voluntarily quit work was very slightly under the number for the corresponding period last year. All indications are that for the entire year the records will show that more than 3,000,000 workers became voluntarily idle under strike orders.

The $2,300,000,000 wage loss from this cause which the year seems destined to show is of course only a part, and comparatively a small part, of the total loss. It is estimated that the loss to employers in strikes and lockouts is more than three times the wage loss to employees. Add to this the loss, direct and indirect, to the public and the loss to the country's wealth from non-production. Strikes cost. They come high, but it seems that the country must have them.—New York Herald.

One must store up a certain amount of prosperity, but the thing that helps most is to keep the biggest part in circulation.—Atlanta Constitution.

Twelve Truckmen Taken For Highway Overloads

County traffic officers today opened what is to be an extensive campaign against overloaded trucks on county highways when they arrested twelve truck drivers who were violating the law on the new Alvarado road. The arrests mark the first active step in a long controversy between officials and truckmen of the county.

All of the truck drivers arrested were engaged in transporting sugar beets from ranches in the eastern end of Alameda county. Mounted traffic officers halted every truck that appeared to be overloaded, and forced the driver to accompany them to the nearest scales, in some cases five miles away. There those who were found violating the law were ordered to appear before Judge W. J. Gannon of San Leandro. The men arrested were: D. M. Wilson, M. A. Watson, M. D Dias, G. Vargas, Alvarado; M. Lewis, J P. Machado, J. Vargas, Centerville; M. Andrada, Joe Medenes, Decoto; M. Bettencourt, Frank Dutich, Newark; M. S. Peters, Mt. Eden.

Leon Solon and Louis Eike, county agents, made the arrests.

The penalty for violation of the traffic law in this manner is not more than $200 fine for the first offense.

AGED WOMAN BURNED, MAY NOT RECOVER

Blaze Igntes Clothing of Victim, Who Suffers Severe Injuries Before Son Subdues Fire; Girl's Life Is Saved

Mrs. Elsie Peterson, 67, of 2607 Linden treet, is at the emergency hospital in a critical condition and may die as a result of being burned early today when her clothing caught fire from a blaze in a gas grate in her home. After her son had extinguished the flames, she was taken to the hospital where it was discovered tht her condition was serious.

Mrs. Peterson was reading a newspaper when the flames jumped from the grate to her dress. Mrs Peterson when she discovered her clothing in flames, ran through the house screaming for help.

Her cries were heard by her son, William Peterson, who seized his mother, tore off a portion of the burning garments and rolled her in a quilt, smothering out the fire. Little hope is held by physicians for the victim's recovery.

GIRL IS RESCUED

BERKELEY, Dec. 18.—Miss Hanna Rahtjen, 20 years old, was rescued today from a fire which threatened to destroy the Rahtjen residence at 2714 Durant avenue by F. F. Jacobs, a plumber, who carried the young woman to safety. Miss Rahtjen suffered singed eyebrows and minor burns. The residence was damaged to the extent of $750.

Jacobs was engaged in plumbing work in the laundry of the Rahtjen home this morning when his torch is said to have exploded. The room burst into flames and he narrowly escaped injury. Miss Rahtjen was on a sleeping porch above the laundry.

Captain Dan Bagley of the fire department was another hero in the morning conflagration when he rescued a coat from the burning structure in the pocket of which was $700 in currency. The money was the property of Mrs Hanna Rahtjen, mother of the young woman rescued.

SCIOTS WILL DRILL

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—The Libyan Guard of the Alameda Pyramid of Sciots will go to Petaluma Saturday for the purpose of staging an exhibition drill before the Sciots in California's egg center. The party will leave the Masonic Temple, Park street, at 2 o'clock. The trip will be made in automobiles.

Four Witnesses Testify In Bruzzone Murder Case

Four witnesses testified today before Police Judge Smith at the preliminary examination of Antone Bruzzone, who is charged with the murder of Gust Markowitz, an overseas veteran, whom he is alleged to have shot during a quarrel on the evening of October 1.

The first witness was Mrs. Goldie Markowitz, the widow of the ex-soldier. She testified that her husband was dead.

J. E. Hinze, owner of a store at 1912 East Fourteenth street, who was with Markowitz at the time of the shooting, related to the court the cause of the fight.

Markowitz went with Hinze to the home of Joe Pacheco, 3045 Chapman street, where Hinze intended to collect money which was due him. While Hinze was in the house he and Pacheco got into an argument. Bruzzone, who is a neighbor of Pacheco and was in the house, took part in the argument.

According to the police report, Hinze was standing in front of the house cranking his automobile and Markowitz was standing beside him when Bruzzone joined them with a revolver in his hand. Several shots were fired during a struggle between Bruzzone and Markowitz which took place in front of the Pacheco home. It was during this struggle, the police claim, that the ex-soldier was shot.

The other witnesses who testified were Dr. Stanley F Barry and Dr H. W. Harding.

Child May Recover From Auto Mishap

Six-year-old Hildegard Shrader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Gustav Shrader, 2732 Derby street, Berkeley, whose skull was crushed when she was struck by an automobile in front of the Claremont school Tuesday noon, is at the Fabiola hospital and it was stated today that she probably will recover. Linsley Fa[illegible] of Oakland, who was driving the car that struck the child, took her to the hospital after the accident.

BURGLARS ROB CIGAR STORE

OROVILLE, Nov. 18.—Fifteen hundred dollars was the loot obtained by burglars who robbed the cigar store of Jack Zeppier here last night, it was learned today. They broke into the store about midnight, removed the safe to a nearby lot, smashed it open with a pick and escaped with the contents.

Berkeley Fund Drive Planned for Charity

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—Berkeley's Thanksgiving offering for the benefit of local charities will open tomorrow with a city-wide canvass for funds for the Berkeley Welfare Society, Day Nursery and Dispensary.

The drive which will constitute the annual campaign for municipal charitable agencies, will close November 22. Owing to the short duration of the drive officers of the Mobilized Women have expressed the hope that every resident will respond at the earliest opportunity to the call for cooperation.

Those in charge of the districts are Mrs. W. R. Thorsen, Mrs. L. [illegible], Mrs. H. [illegible] Hartzell, Mrs. L. F. Irwin, Miss Ella Fraser, Mrs. L. R. [illegible], Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. J. Hughes, Mrs. J. [illegible], Mrs. Joseph Klein and Mrs. J. Irwin.

Housewives Hunting For Cheap Turkeys

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—The Alameda Housewives' League members are watching the price of the Thanksgiving turkey. According to a resolution adopted at the meeting yesterday should the price strike the high mark intimated in the news reports of the present week some action will be taken by the housewives.

CHRISTMAS FETE PROGRESS NOTED THROUGH REPORT

Alameda Community Festival Committee Selects Tree Site at Postoffice.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18. — Excellent progress along all lines of work for the community Christmas festival was reported at the meeting of the general committee in the council chambers last night. A finance committee composed of D. A. Eberly, W. R. Calcutt, E. R. Neiss, G. A. Hagy and Carl F. Scheithe, was named. Owing to the growth of community interest and activity on the part of the civic and fraternal bodies of Alameda, it was decided to ask the co-operation of all such bodies in insuring the success of the affair. Alameda Aerie of Eagles and Alameda Lodge of Pythias have already endorsed the festival idea.

The committee definitely decided to have the tree in front of the postoffice, as such location was favored by the postal and municipal authorities.

A committee composed of E. R. Neiss, Otto Reihl and D. A. Eberly was named to take up with the city manager needed co-operation and assistance from the city.

D. E. Graves, who is to direct the community singing and union choir recital, suggested that the churches might unite in a Christmas night concert at Porter school auditorium. This matter is to be placed before the ministers' association for them to take up with their choirs and congregations.

A suggestion from Captain Gus Wagner of the fire department that electric "Merry Christmas" signs be placed on Park and Webster streets, was approved.

A complete report is expected to be ready for the next meeting, two weeks hence. The main features now being worked out include an illuminated Christmas tree from Christmas eve to New Year's, with nightly varied programs. A carnival night, with street dancing and other features, will be staged on New Year's eve during the early portion of the evening so as not to conflict with family and public New Year's eve social activities.

A special feature will be the series of Christmas tableaux to be staged with incidental music, special costumes, scenery and lighting effects under the direction of Otto Riehl.

Skillful Surgeon Saves Life Of Duck by Rare Operation

MISS GRACE PFISTER and her two pets, Madame Leonardo de Vinci and Lady Joshua Reynolds

Woman Artist With Pair of Feathered Pets Calls On Science For Aid

The condition of Madame Leonardi de Vinci, who recently underwent a serious operation for acute indigestion, was announced today as much improved. After the patient spent a restful night, physicians declared that all danger of complications had passed, and Madame de Leonardi has been removed from the hospital to her—

Pond!

Strange, perhaps, but true nevertheless, for the Madame is a duck and the pet of Miss Grace Pfister, an artist, residing in Rockridge. Miss Pfister has two pets, including the Madame and Lady Joshua Reynolds, a white Leghorn hen.

Lady Joshua dearly loves going "A. W. O. L.," and Miss Pfister found it necessary to put up a wire fence to keep her feathered pet from laying eggs on the neighbor's doorsteps. Shortly after the erection of the barrier, Madame Leonardi's health began to fail, and after several attempts to diagnose the case, her mistress found a piece of wire protruding from the duck's body near the leg.

Alas!

The Madame, out of friendship for Lady Joshua, had attempted to aid her in picking her way out through the wire, out of bounds, and had swallowed a piece of the wire by mistake.

Miss Pfister rushed the failing duck to a veterinarian, who performed an operation, saving Madame's life.

WHY WEAK NERVES AND THIN BLOOD

CAUSE SUCH GREAT PHYSICAL WEAKNESS AND MAKE ONE AN EASY PREY TO A MULTITUDE OF DANGEROUS DISEASES.

Every human being is born with a certain quantity of "nerve force"—some with more than others.

Your body normally makes or generates nerve force only about so fast, and if through overwork, worry, constant nervous strain or other excesses, you use up your nerve force faster than your body makes new nerve force, then your nerve power becomes weakened, and as a consequence your blood may become thin, pale, and watery, and you become feeble, cross, and irritable. In such a state you may not only suffer terrible tortures from a multitude of alarming symptoms, but in your greatly weakened condition you are an easy prey for the multitude of dangerous germs with which you must come in almost daily contact, and you may therefore easily contract some dangerous or even fatal disease.

In cases of nerve force exhaustion in which your nerve and brain cells are starving for want of a sufficient supply of nerve force or nervo-vital fluid it is worse than foolish to waste your time taking mere stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. Your nerve and brain cells must have nerve food or something to supply more nerve force the same as a starving person must have bread to build flesh and tissue. For centuries science has searched for a nerve food. At last a remarkable product was brought to the attention of the Paris Academy of Medicine by a celebrated French physician which contained the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. This remarkable product is today contained in Nuxated Iron so that you may now easily obtain what might almost be termed artificial nerve force simply by taking two tablets of Nuxated Iron three times a day after meals. Nuxated Iron also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Organic iron enriches the blood and plenty of rich red blood means more nerve force so that Nuxated Iron not only directly supplies the important chemical constituent of active living nerve force to the nerve and brain cells but it also stimulates the blood to manufacture a greatly increased supply of new nerve force. In fact, the manufacturers guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is for sale by all druggists.

Lost Alameda Lad Is Rescued by Policeman

ALAMEDA, Nov. 18.—Bob Henry lost himself yesterday afternoon. Play in the front yard of his home [illegible] avenue proved too boresome for the lad, so he decided [illegible] a stroll. Walnut Creek Boasts Beauties

And that all of the beauties of the heart of Contra Costa are not in the scenery is best evidenced by The TRIBUNE photograph of a bevy of the girls who will help to entertain Walnut Creek's guests tomorrow and Sunday, when the town will play host to the whole Eastbay in celebration of the completion of its ambitious paving and highway plans. From left the girls are HILDA BRADLEY, LOUIS ACREE, MAE DAVIS, RUBY HARLAN, BERTHA GOODWIN, JEANNETTE NIELSEN and RUTH STOW.

Walnut Creek Awaits Its Eastbay Friends

WALNUT CREEK, Nov. 18. — To Walnut Creek, by way of Martinez, home by way of Dublin, is the plan by which Walnut Creek hopes to show the thousands of visitors the town expects on Saturday and Sunday, all the beauties of the newly completed Memorial Highway.

The two-day celebration Walnut Creek has announced celebrates both the completion of the Memorial Highway, thus closing up the "Dublin Loop," and Walnut Creek's big paving contract, which has left the streets of the town as level as a billiard table. From Oakland to Martinez by way of Franklin canyon is a short hour's run. From Martinez to Walnut Creek is easy going in 20 or 30 minutes. From Walnut Creek to Dublin, by way of Danville, is another 30 minutes and home by way of Dublin canyon is another easy jog. Every foot of the distance is over magnificent highways and through scenery than which California offers none more beautiful.

Walnut Creek has, for the time being, quit every ordinary activity and is turning its hand to preparing a festival that will keep the crowd stepping every minute of the two days.

Organizations of Oakland and the rest of the Eastbay cities are cooperating and as a result it is expected that hundreds of automobile parties will be started over the "Loop" from Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. Hayward is sending a big booster delegation and so are Pleasanton and Livermore.

The residents of Dublin are making big preparations to greet the crowd as it passes through and all of Walnut Creek's sister towns—Concord, Clayton, Benicia, Crockett, Cowell and all the rest—have declared in with a whoop.

The festival will open tomorrow with a dance on the town's main street, with the newly laid pavement for dance floor and Chell Radolfo's celebrated military band from Martinez. Martinez will close up shop and,, headed by Sheriff "Dick" Veale, move over to the Creek in a body, with the Chamber of Commerce, Senator Will Sharkey and other dignitaries "in carriages."

Sheriff Veale, it is announced, will ride a horse and wear a sash, he being grand marshal of the parade from San Ramon to the bay.

$8000 PER FRONT FOOT, VALUATION ON OAKLAND LOT

Condemnation Proceedings Result in New High Mark on Broadway Frontage.

Placing a valuation of $8000 per front foot on the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Broadway yesterday while testifying before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco in the Seventeenth street condemnation proceedings, Frank J. Woodward astonished attorneys and realty men assembled to hear values of central Oakland properties involved in the Seventeenth street opening fixed.

The corner of Fourteenth and Broadway, occupied by the Central National Bank is called the "basic" realty value, and all tracts leading away from this point scale down from its figure.

Woodward placed a valuation of $85,000 on property at Seventeenth, Broadway and Telegraph avenue, which the city is seeking to condemn as one of the items in cutting Seventeenth street to Harrison. In order to explain this valuation, Woodward placed the $8000 value on the Fourteenth and Broadway property.

Leon Gray, city attorney, says that $5000 per front foot is the highest value hitherto placed on the Fourteenth and Broadway property.

"I challenge Woodward's valuation," says Gray. "I do not believe the Central Bank property is worth $8000 per front foot, and I do not think that it is for the best interests of Oakland that there should be any such valuation. What Oakland needs is to stabilize its realty values to a fairly moderate figure. Otherwise property becomes so high that nobody wants it and investment stagnates. I believe that the conservative realty men and businessmen agree in this, and I am going to fight that valuation to a finish."

The battle on the "basic valuation" of $8000 started again today. It was still going strong at a late hour this afternoon.

SECOND BURGLAR APOLOGIZES FOR THEFT OF RAZOR

The burglar who entered the home of W. G. Tamm, 1976 Forty-second avenue, left a note explaining why he ransacked the house. The note follows:

The note was found by Tamm on the dining room table. The only thing that the intruder took was a safety razor. On Sunday evening Tamm's home was entered by burglars who took jewelry and clothing valued at $300.

Battery Charges in School Row Dropped

Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell, sitting for Superior Judge E. C. Robinson in the Juvenile court today dismissed the charge of battery against George Hitchcock, 14-year-old son of Cecil Hitchcock, head of the Hitchcock patrol, after C. E. Hudspeth, principal of the Washington elementary school, who swore to the juvenile warrant in which he charged the boy with assaulting him and breaking his nose, withdrew his petition.

Following Hudspeth's declaration that he would withdraw his charge, Judge Kinsell stated that he would dismiss the case in the event that Hitchcok withdrew his charge of battery against Hudspeth. This was agreed to, following a conference between plaintiff and defendant, attorneys and Judge Kinsell.

The two warrants charging battery were secured following an episode in the principal's office at the Washington school November 6, when Hitchcock broke the principal's nose.

ANTI-ALIEN LAND LAW IS ATTACKED IN FEDERAL COURT

Attorney-General and Los Angeles District Attorney Attend Opening of Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Constitutionality of the crop leasing contract feature of the California anti-alien land law was attacked today in a hearing before three federal judges on the ground that it discriminated against aliens ineligible to citizenship instead of prohibiting such contracts with all aliens.

About 25 of the leading Japanese in California, including George Shima, the potato king, were in attendance, as were Attorney General U. S. Webb and District Attorneys Thomas Lee Woolwine of Los Angeles and C. C. Coolidge of Santa Clara county, who are defendants in the two cases being heard.

These were on petitions filed by J. J. O'Brien, a Santa Clara county land owner; J. Inouye, a Japanese farmer; W. L. Porterfield, a Los Angeles county land owner, and Y. Mizuno, a Japanese farmer from that section, for temporary restraining orders to prevent interference with crop contracts.

Attorney Albert Elliott of Oakland, appearing for the plaintiffs, said the anti-alien land law purposely was discriminatory so as to deprive land owners of the privilege of employing others than whites.

Circuit Judge Wm. H. Hunt of San Francisco, and District Judges M. T. Dooling of San rFancisco and B. F. Bledsoe of Los Angeles heard the case.

Changes in Boundaries of the Present Precincts to Be Discussed by Supervisors.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 18. — When the board of supervisors meet Monday it will act upon recommendations by County Clerk J. H. Red Cross to Shift City Hall Officers

Commissioner Carter of the public works department announced today that the Red Cross, which has hitherto occupied space on the third floor of the city hall, will move to the seventh floor on November 24.

"We have had several conferences regarding the move," says Carter, "and the Red Cross officials have agreed to give the city its present space for the expansion of the harbor engineer's office."

It is explained that because of the dredging of Lake Merritt and the western waterfront bulkhead work and other projects additional space and additional draftsman were found necessary. The harbor department will now occupy nearly the whole northern end of the third floor of the city hall.

ACTOR AND HIS WALKING DOLL ASSIST CHARITY

Harry Coleman Sells Tribune and Contributes Proceeds to Home.

A walking doll, a ventriloquist and charity joined hands on Broadway today when Harry Coleman, Pantages vaudeville actor, sold TRIBUNES for the benefit of the West Oakland Home and the doll show, which closes tonight in Hotel Oakland.

Coleman was furnished copies of early edition TRIBUNES to sell after he had offered to assist Mrs. Walter Reed and her corps of workers in any way he could to swell the proceeds of the charity. The doll show was given to obtain funds with which to aid in conducting the hospital and caring for the little ones who find a home there.

With one of his walking dolls as a companion Coleman met with no difficulty in attracting hundreds of pedestrians, who readily purchased a paper after he explained what his street appearance was for. The doll is his own invention and although no mechanical device is found hidden within it, an almost life-like walk can be effected by a deft manipulation of the mannekin's arm by the person leading it.

Coleman made several trips to The TRIBUNE office for additional papers during the time he was on the street. He says that tomorrow afternoon he intends to give away six of his dolls to little folks who attend the Pantages performance.

The city will employ an expert in co-operation with the state.

The city attorney is preparing a milk ordinance which will be a companion with the meet inspection law. The dairy products will be regulated. The ordinance will include hotels and other places where food for human consumption is handled.

Demand for Grape Lands On Increase

WOODLAND, Nov. 18. — Prohibition may not proh'bit but it has increased the demand for vineyard land and young vines to such an extent that neither nursery or real estate man is able to keep pace with the situation. The Esparto nursery is unable to meet the demand for Thompson seedless variety of grapes, which is used mostly in making white wine or raisins. Close upon 2000 extra acres in vineyards have gone in about Woodland alone in the past season, according to County Horticultural Commissioner William Gould.

Whistling Co-ed Will Entertain Army Prisoners

MISS BLANCHE HAWKINS, the Whistling Co-ed, who will entertain the prisoners at Alcatraz with special whistling and dancing features.

Miss Blanche Hawkins, U. C. Student, to Perform at Alcatraz.

Miss Blanche Hawkins, University of California student of the class of '23, who is known as the "Whistling Co-ed," will entertain the prisoners on Alcatraz Island with a special program in the near future, it is announced. Miss Hawkins is a Pasadena girl. She stated today that she expects to give her performance at Alcatraz within a couple of weeks. Her program includes a whistling novelty in which she dances and whistles. She recently arranged a pianologue, entitled "The Graveyard Blues," during which she imitates by whistling the various weird sounds one is supposed to hear in a burying ground at midnight. She will use this as an extra feature.

The "Whistling Co-ed" announces that she will be assisted by Miss Frances Clawsonx, violinist, and Miss Alice Rarick, pianist.

Oil Hunt Starts Big Yolo Building Boom

WOODLAND, Nov. 18. — Contractors Charles L. Hugel and K. C. Hinkle report that within the past three months $75,000 worth of building has gone up in the little town of Esparto, where oil companies are boring for the prized fluid. Increase in almond acreage in the Esparto district is also causing much new building.

The activity there is reflecting itself in Woodland and this week alone building permits for $11,600 were granted by the city trustees. This is the first active building that has gone on in the county since the signing of the Armistice. Business men, contractors and carpenters believe that there is approaching a building boom which will strike the entire valley.

Auction Sale Brings Big Price for Stock

WOODLAND, Nov. 18.—At a notable stock auction sale held yesterday at Roselawn farm, southwest of Woodland, and the property of H. M. Elberg, twenty-one female Shorthorns brought an average of $372 per head. One bull was sold for a fancy price to E. W. Briggs of Healdsburg. The top price of the day was paid for a Scotch heifer, bought for $1050 by Easton & Ward of the Black Hawk farm at Diablo. This is the highest price paid on the coast, so far as known, for a heifer. But stockmen say that the animal, known as Village Beauty E., was worth the price. E. H. Thomas of Klamath Falls was one of the big buyers at the sale.

Walter Davis, employed by James Carroll, claims he was hidden in a wagon and overheard the conversation. He corroborated Hoover's testimony. Judge Solkmore declared the alleged offer had nothing to do with the case at bar. Alexander did not appear at the trial.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO CLOSE STREET FOR NEW SCHOOL

Baccus Points Out Cost to the City When Thoroughfare Was Opened.

Refusing to clog a street thirty-one blocks long, where it cost the city $16,000 many years ago to cut that street through, the city council this morning adopted a resolution denying the application of the board of education to build the new Vocational high school across Filbert street, and cutting off the street for one block.

The board of education said it wanted a continuous tract for its school instead of two interrupted tracts. According to Commissioner Baccus, it cost too much in litigation to open that street in the first place, without blocking it now.

TELLS ANCIENT HISTORY.

The Baccus contention was backed unanimously by the council. His letter, explaining some ancient history, is as follows:

"To the Council of the City of Oakland.

"Gentlemen:

"You have referred to me a letter dated November 17th from the Board of Education requesting that Filbert street be closed between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth streets, for the purpose of erecting a high school on this property, as recommended unanimously by the Board of Education.

"Filbert street extends from First street to San Pablo avenue, thirty-one blocks without a break. Originally there were three sections of the street closed for through traffic.

OPENING COSTLY.

"In 1889 the City Council passed a Resolution of Intention to open Filbert street. After several years of litigation, the street was opened at a cost to the property holders and the City of Oakland of $16,444.78. The portion of the street which the Board of Education now desires to close was part of the property secured at that opening. One-half of the block which the Board of Education now desires to close cost $10,032.80 to acquire thirty years ago. The assessment district extended from Eighth street to San Pablo avenue covering the property facing on the street. If it was desirable to have Filbert street opened thirty years ago, for which the property owners were willing to pay over $16,000 for the right of way, in addition to the cost of paving and sidewalking, I can see no reason why it should be closed at this time when traffic throughout the city has increased many fold.

"I would therefore recommend that the request of the Board of Education for the closing of this street be denied, and that the Board of Education be requested so to arrange the construction of the school buildings as to permit the street to remain as it is at present."

Wife Dies When Told Of Husband's Suicide

STOCKTON, Nov. 18.—A few hours after Louis Giovannessi ended his life with a revolver in a fit of despondency, his wife, an invalid, passed away. She collapsed when informed of the suicide and sank rapidly.

Giovannessi, son of pioneer parents, brooded over his wife's condition and the uncertainty of a federal position he hoped to obtain. He took an active interest in local politics and two years ago ran for city commissioner, being defeated. Years ago he was a member of Company B, National Guard of California. He was aged 51. His wife was formerly Miss Alice Milligan, a native of Canada, aged 50.

OAKDALE, Nov. 18. — Charged with assaulting Samuel G. Leopard with a beer bottle, mistaking him for a revenue officer, "Blackie" Brown, employed at the Jack Roban pool hall, is out on $1000 bail. Leopard claims he entered the place and heard a bystander say, "There's a revenue man," and as he turned to see who was alluded to, Brown struck him in the face with the bottle, laying open his lip and gashing his nose. Brown says he struck with his fist. Leopard is superintendent of the Northern Construction company on the Knights Ferry-Keystone highway.

Turkey Raisers Are Told to Hold Birds

WOODLAND, Nov. 18.—State Market Director Harry S. Maddox is advising turkey raisers to sell their stock before the state market is glutted with cold storage birds. On the other hand G. H. Hecke, superintendent of the State Department of Agriculture has advised raisers to hold their birds until the cold storage supply is exhausted. As a result raisers in Woodland district are in a quandary and are taking chances with more birds than they have had in years. It is believed, according to J. G. Crutcher of Winters, that farmers will sell any time they have a chance to get near the price they will ask, which will be a third less than last year.

Walthall of the Modesto district, are attending the hearing before the railroad commission today to give testimony touching the railroad rate on cement. A reduction in the rate is sought. The two districts are buying tons of cement for the Don Pedro project and the freight bill is a big item. With lower rate the dam can be built for less.

MARRIED WOMEN SAFE IN BERTHS AS CITY WORKERS

Rumored action by city officials against women employees who are married and theorretically able to be supported by husbands will hardly be taken in the near future, according to many officials who admit that they have often considered the matter for the last year.

While it is admitted to be desirable that the places of married women should be taken by unmarried ones, thus giving work to girls who may need it, the theory does not work out in practice, according to the officials.

"Many married women are supporting sick husbands," points out Commissioner Frank Colbourn. "The husbands of other married women may be out of work. Still other married women may have no such worries and should be eliminated from the payroll, but how do we know where to draw the line? Without an intimate history of such women, and a thorough knowledge of their needs, we might be inflicting the rankest sort of injustice by making a sweeping rule against married women. We are certainly not going to take any drastic and sweeping measures without knowing exactly what the result will be."

Farm Home Dept. To Entertain at Basket Luncheon

HAYWARD, Nov. 18.—Great enthusiasm has been displayed by the women of the Farm Home department in preparing for the basket social which is to follow the regular business meeting of the Orchard Avenue Farm Bureau Center this evening, says Mrs. Emma Seffer, chairman of department.

The proceeds derived from the social are to be expended in adding to the beauty or usefulness of the new Orchard Avenue school which is now in the process of construction. An appropriate painting has been named as a possible gift of the center to the school, while many have favored the inauguration of a piano fund.

The affair this evening is not limited simply to Farm Bureau members, but is open to the public. The gathering will be in the present school house. Individual basket lunches has been planned as the main feature of the evening. These lunches will each contain enough for two. The name of the one who has prepared the decoction will be enclosed in each basket. The purchaser will share his luncheon with her. The purchase price of the lunches has been set at 50 cents.

During the evening those who wish to play whist will be accommodated. Prizes are offered. There will be no charge for score cards. Coffee will also be served free during the evening. The purpose of the social is duofold, the raising of money for the school and a general "get-together" of the community.

Hayward Boosting Booklet Printed

HAYWARD, Nov. 18.—In another month Hayward literature will again be available at the headquarters of the local Chamber of Commerce, says Walter Daniels, chairman of the publicity committee of the bureau, who is putting the finishing touches on a neat little pamphlet full of propaganda regarding this district in general. The completed work is expected to be off the press in less than a month.

Never before in the history of the Hayward Chamber has there been so much demand for descriptive literature as at the present time, say officials of the local booster bureau. Repeated requests for local data are being received not only from homeseekers and builders but from manufacturing companies, large commercial organizations and development bureaus. Judged by the increase in interest thus demonstrated Hayward is entering upon an era of prosperity greater than any before in her career.

The Fremersdorf Manufacturing Company was recently reorganized and expects to locate in Hayward if sufficient interest and aid is brought forward here. A. W. Beam has been named as president of the concern, with H. E. Bruner, George T. Parks and W. R. Fremersdorf as directors. The new concern has received the endorsement and is at present enjoying the aid of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce.

PEACE IN IRELAND LIES WITH CRAIG, IS LONDON VIEW

Premier of Ulster Declared to Have Power to Wreck Conference.

By ED. L. KEEN.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Although the Irish situation looked dark today, it was learned from a reliable source that Lloyd George probably will go to the Washington arms conference before Christmas, barring unforeseen changes in the next few days.

The premier will make a flat "yes or no" decision on this matter within a very short time.

The eyes of the nation today were upon Sir James Craig, prime minister of Ulster, who has the power to wreck the Irish peace conference. Unless Sir James can be persuaded to recede from his stand—that Ulster will not participate in any conference on the basis of an all-Ireland parliament—it is feared the negotiations are doomed.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Irish peace situation is deemed in authoritative circles not to have been made actually worse by the Ulster cabinet's determination to adhere to its previously declared position.

The overwhelming majority given in favor of the government's policy at the Unionist party conference in Liverpool yesterday is looked upon as creating a better atmosphere for continuance of the peace negotiations in some form, although the possibility of the resignation of Premier Lloyd George, or, indeed, the entire coalition government is not ignored.

The morning newspapers, however, do not regard this contingency as either imminent or inevitable. There is some difference of opinion as to whether if any impasse is reached the premier will resign or ask the country's verdict in a general election.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Ulster has accepted Premier Lloyd George's suggestions that informal talks be held between Unionists, Sinn Feiners and the British premier, it was announced today.

Garbage Collection in Berkeley Is Protested

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—Referendum proceedings are threatened against Berkeley's municipal garbage collection system.

Charges that a three-months' experiment with garbage collection has resulted in a deficit of $20,431.63 in city finances were made yesterday by James H. Todd, engineer and civic worker, who has been an opponent of the plan from the time of its institution.

That referendum petitions would be circulated is Todd's statement. He declares that he will have no difficulty in getting the necessary 1500 names.

In answer to the charges of Todd, Councilman Charles D. Heywood, commissioner of public health and safety, declared that with the "overhead" expense of initiating garbage collection cared for that the city will find the municipal system paying for itself, with a probable source of income also in sight.

ASKS YEAR'S TRIAL.

"Our receipts were more than our expenses last month," declared Heywood. "Once we cut down the large expense of initiating this system it will be easy sailing. It is not fair to condemn a plan after but three months' time. If at the end of a year the collection has not proven a financial as well as a civic success then it is time to talk of abandoning the work. Give the city a chance to show what it can do. No one is more anxious to save the city money than am I, and I am convinced that, given a fair chance, municipal garbage collections will prove a success."

Data gathered by Todd shows the following expense for the garbage collection system up to November 1, according to his figures:

AUTO EXPENSE.

Auto expense, $180.03; equipment, $2462.87; office hire, $14,483.70; postage, $89.30; damage to awning, $3; salaries, $10,256.96; office salaries, $3,966.68, supplies, $61.10; traveling expenses, $176; printing, $12.75; telephone, $2.26; total, $31,721.39.

In addition, he says, is to be added $499 for a Ford auto, for the use of a collector, also $500 for alterations at the city hall to make a pleasant home for the head of this new bureau, making the total expenditures of $32,720 to November 1, 1921.

POLICE AND FIRE ALARMS ORDERED

BERKELEY, Nov. 18. — The submission of a bill for $383 said to be due Carol Aronovici, consultant for the city planning commission, provoked a spirited discussion in the city council today when it was charged that one item in the bill was for work which was unauthorized. The bill covered Aronovici's services from July 1 of this year. The item which was objected to was for the investigation of a proposed stadium site at the University of California and other general civic improvements.

The bill finally was ordered paid over the objections of Councilmen Charles Heywood and Carl Bartlett.

The council authorized the expenditure of $1800 for the installation of a police and fire alarm system in the district north of Berkeley, including Northbrae and Thousand Oaks.

Measures also were adopted by the council for widening Center street, from Fortieth avenue to Grove street, ten feet. This would give the thoroughfare a width of 70 feet. The extension would be made on the north property line.

EX-SOLON CALLED IN WILL CONTEST

Former United States Senator Charles B. Henderson of Nevada was placed on the witness stand today by contestants of the will of T. B. Rickey to prove that a $100,000 ranch said to have been given to Charles Rickey by his father was in reality bought by a syndicate of wealthy Nevada men.

The will, which left practically all of a half million dollar estate to Mrs. Alice Belle Rickey, widow, and Mrs. Alice B. Frost, daughter by the second wife of Rickey, is being contested by Mrs. Bertha L. Scott, daughter of Rickey by his first wife, and two children of Charles Rickey, deceased, who was a son of Rickey by his first wife.

Senator Henderson testified he acted as attorney in the real estate transaction in question and denied the property was a gift from T. B. Rickey to his son.

The Rickey will contest has already broken all records for length of trial in Alameda county and bids fair to occupy several weeks more. Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church is presiding.

Riddles

by Irving Batcheller

INSTALLMENT NO. SIX.

THE STORY THUS FAR:

John Riddles, young mill-owner, masquerading one summer as "Reuben Smith," a farm-hand, was employed by Mrs. Martin, a city woman; and when he exposed the shirking of the farm help and the crookedness of their superintendent, all the help left but "Smith" and Mary, Mrs. Martin's maid. He took charge of affairs, and later secured the necessary help. Riddles' friend and mill superintendent, John Galt, had fallen in love with Harriet, Mrs. Martin's daughter, but had never met her. He had requested Riddles to look her up and act as Galt's ambassador. Percy Waters, the dissolute son of Erastus Waters, a New York man who owned stores and a hotel in the vicinity of Martin's farm, was courting Harriet, who was ignorant of his character. Riddles had given his wearing apparel to a tramp who becomes "J. Reginald Travers," an Englishman. "Travers," really an actor and out of a job, wrote "Smith" and received a loan of $100. While Riddles was warning Harriet against Percy and pleading for John Galt, Percy and the constable appeared to arrest "Reuben Smith."

Mr. Simpson bowed and lifting his gray felt hat mopped his perspiring brow with his handkerchief.

"You—you have come to arrest Reuben Smith?" said the young lady as her face began to turn pale. "What for?"

Simpson cleared his throat. There was a slight tremor in his hands as he took a document from his pocket, opened the same and began to read in a voice much louder than was necessary:

"The complainant, Robert Fosdick, manufacturer, of said village of Conners, deposes and says that in the course of a strike which began in his works on the first of May, 1918, one Reuben Smith, an employee in said works, had incited his men to sundry acts of violence and that on the tenth of May of the same year, he hurled a brick at one Henry Taylor, an elderly man, going peacefully to his work, inflicting injuries as a result of which Taylor died on the first day of June, 1918."

Mr. Simpson paused.

"I do not believe it," said Miss Harriet Martin.

Then Percy spoke out, saying: "Do you remember on the evening of the picnic at Pine Grove, Mr. Travers told us that he had bought clothes for this man from a traveling peddler and induced him to take a bath and to leave his tramp garments on the river bank?"

Miss Martin nodded.

"Those clothes are now a scarecrow in our corn field near the road. In driving by the scarecrow Mr. Fosdick recognized the hat and clothes and we were able to tell him the name of their owner, who is undoubtedly this man."

"Say, boy, did you ever see me wearin' that suit o' clothes?" Riddles asked very calmly.

"No," Percy answered.

"Did your father ever see me wearin' 'em?"

"No."

"Then how do you know they was my clothes?"

"By what Mr. Travers said."

"Oh, it's Mr. Travers that knows and not you. Did he go an' point 'em out to ye an' tell ye they was my clothes?"

"No."

"All right. Now I'm ready to be arrested," said Riddles as he continued to whet the knife.

"If you'll get in with us, we'll take ye over to the county seat," said the constable.

"I'll take him in my car, if you please," said Miss Martin. "You can come along with us if you like." Turning to Riddles she added, "I'll get some clothes for you, and be ready in five minutes."

"I shall not need 'em," said Riddles. "I shall return before night."

"You're going to be put in jail," said Percy.

"Am I!" Riddles exclaimed. "Say, boy, if you stop growin' till you see me in jail, you'll be a jack-rabbit as long as you live."

The chauffeur had brought up the car, and the young lady got in with the constable and his prisoner. They rode to Coulterville.

"Now, Miss Harriet," said Riddles as he dismounted with the constable at the county seat and bade her goodby. "Ye can give up meat an' drink an' hope an' charity an' life; but faith—if it has a good solid foundation—is a thing to be clung to. If you'll hang onto your faith in me, I'll promise to prove that it's worth havin'."

"I do not expect to lose it," she answered, as she offered him her hand. "But, Smith, we—we have grown rather fond of you. We like you—and I can't help being worried."

"Don't worry. My record is clean," he assured her. "I'll be back at the farm this evening an' then there'll be some things said."

"I'll wait and take you back with me," said the young lady.

"Don't do that," said Riddles. "I don't want you to get mixed up in this matter. Just leave it to me. I ask it as a favor."

So they parted, and Riddles went with Percy and the constable.

The justice fixed a day for the examination of the prisoner and his bail at $5000. To the astonishment of the official, Mr. Reuben Smith was in no way embarrassed by the amount of the bail demanded. He had the money in his wallet.

"I ain't apt to carry that amount in my pocket," he said. "But I've been too busy to take it to a bank an' so here it is."

The justice went over to the bank with the bills and learned that they were perfectly good, whereupon the amount was deposited with the county treasurer and the prisoner released.

Riddles got a ride back to the Martin farm, reaching there about 4 o'clock. A large new motor car stood in the drive. Its chauffeur moved the car out of their way. Miss Martin and her mother sat on the veranda with a handsomely dressed gentleman. Miss Harriet came to the kitchen door where Riddles had alighted and shook hands with him.

"Glad to welcome you back home," she said. "How did you get along?"

"I'm out on bail, until the day of my examination, when I shall prove an alibi."

"A friend of yours is on the veranda. Will you come and meet him?"

The friend was J. Reginald Travers who rose and gave his hand to the hired man.

"My good fellow, I am quite surprised by the news of you!" said Travers. "It is—shall I say?—natural that the best of men should have a bit of a fling now and then; but, really, I am astonished that you should have flung a brick at the dear old gentleman."

"I like a little excitement once in a while, but I have never tried to build it out of bricks," said Riddles, with a smile.

"Quite so—of course," Travers agreed. "One has only to look into your face to be assured of that. I have heard of your good behavior here, and I need not say how much it has pleased me. If we may have the permission of these ladies I should like you to ride with me to the nearest village." Turning to the ladies he added: "I shall not keep him long."

"Indeed, we are glad that you feel such an interest in him," said Mrs. Martin. "Uncle Sam Jr., why don't you go with the gentleman? It's getting cool and you had better put on the overcoat that hangs in your closet."

"Thank you," said the hired man as he left them.

"I wish to have a talk with him," said Travers to the ladies.

"I am really quite interested in the fellow. For one of his class he is—I should say—most remarkable."

"I suppose he will talk to you more freely," said Mrs. Martin. "He is a little shy with us. I wish you could learn where he comes from and something about him. I think he must be a man of good connections."

"Anyhow, he's a man of very good sense," said Travers. "You may be sure I will do my best to enlighten you."

Riddles returned and, with Travers, entered the handsome limousine waiting in the drive, and drove away.

"Well, old man, what has happened to you?" Riddles asked.

Travers slapped his thigh and laughed. "Really, you know, I'm the luckiest man. I've married the dear old girl!"

"What dear old girl?"

"Mrs. Pulsifer!"

"Ghost almighty!" Riddles exclaimed. "I didn't intend to set a trap for the widow Pulsifer when I gave you that suit of clothes."

"Deah Smith—don't worry! It's a great thing for the both of us. You see she took to me at once. She loves the English. A rahther musty old dame, but a good heart," he went on. "She owns two big mills—cotton goods. I know something about the game. Made a few suggestions that she liked. We agreed perfectly on the subject of etherial substances. I got a friend of mine to come on from Boston in glad rugs. He had a talk with the dear old girl about me. We were married, privately, next day. I have taken hold of the plahnts. They needed me. I shall make good. No more poverty in mine."

"But that friend from Boston!" Riddles exclaimed. "It looks as if you had buncoed the old lady."

"Deah Smith! It's not so bad as it looks. I am aware that my history is not all that it should have been, but my prospects are dazzling. I advertised the prospects. I did it with no intention of deceiving the old lady. I am really trying to be just what I pretend to be—a gentleman. I hope you do not think it so impossible that I have no right to count upon it. As you know, I slipped into the job by accident and I find it most agreeable. I'm going to stick to it. If you will help me, I shall succeed."

"But Travers! It's some contract," said Riddles. "You are wanted for murder, and in the same county where your wife is living."

"Deah Smith! As long as I can keep my courage I am in no danger. Nobody would know me. Anyhow, I have a wall of friends around my sacred form. I have played many parts, but this one of gentlemen is my masterpiece because I love the part. You are the only critic I fear. You could ruin the play."

"First, I want to know if you have any other wife," Riddles demanded.

"She is my one and only wife."

"Just what do you intend to do?"

"I'm going to work and I shall make the old lady as happy as I can. She is a good soul. I like her. I've tried all the follies there are, deah Smith, but don't think that I have lost the power to appreciate a refined and decent woman. My mother was just that kind of woman."

In the talk of Travers there were signs of a deep change in him. Riddles sat thinking as he smoked the cigarette which Travers had given him.

Education

Since the armistice there has been an increasing desire on the part of American students to study abroad.

According to Albert Bushnell Hart, professor of government at Harvard University, institutions of higher education in this country are placing too much emphasis upon Latin and Greek, and not enough on the industrial problems which the students will have to face after leaving school.

Believing that warm shoes and clothing are important factors in causing truancy, and that many children are kept from school by fear that other children will jeer at their appearance, one of the first things the Bureau of Attendance, in New York City, does for many truants is to get them shoes.

• • •

As a reason for keeping out of school, it is estimated that a million and a half of country children in the United States are engaged in farm labor.

WITCHES' & PIRATES' STORY DEN

A GHOST STORY.

Mabel Peterson, 638 Mirania Street, Oakland.

One time there was a woman and a man. The woman somehow took ill and died. The man went and told the folks and they came over to fix her.

They lighted candles and sat up with her and they put two great big roun' shiny dollars on her eyes to keep her eyelids down. Then they told the man he must dig a grave and bury her. So the man digged the grave, and went off to get the woman.

He looked at the dollars and they looked pretty good, so he took them off and put them in his pocket; and then the man looked at the woman and her eyelids were OPEN!

So he put the money back and buried her, but first he grabbed the money and then he went home and put the money in a tin box and rattled it about and then he placed it on the mantel shelf and went off to bed. He jumped into bed and tuckered up good and then he heard a noise bizzy buzz, bizzy-buzz, zooooo-oo! He stared about and then the noise came again and again and it grew louder and louder. And then he heard a different noise: clinkity-clink, alinkle, and he hollered out, "Hey! Who's stealin' my money?" Yet he kept his head low all the time and listened—clinkety-clink, slink, clink. Well, he got right up and he didn't see anything and he went and put a chair across the door and barred it good and went back to bed again! Clinkety-clink again, and then a voice way off, "Where is MY money. I want my money!" and he got skeered. Then again and again, then it said again and then he heard the door OPEN! And he put his head and he saw the woman he had buried standing there staring at him. "Give me my money! I want my money!" Then the woman groped about and came towards him, right towards him, and she jumped on him and hollered, "You got my money."

Household HINTS—

PORK AND APPLE SAUCE SALAD.

Slice and dice enough cold roast pork to make two cupfuls, and marinate in French dressing to which four cloves, a bay leaf and a chopped onion has been added. When ready to arrange the salad, drain the meat, add a cupful of minced celery, a chopped red pepper and the heart of a head of lettuce cut in strips with scissors. Fold in a cupful of medium apple sauce, not too thick, and serve on lettuce leaves.

TONGUE AND CABBAGE SADAD.

To two cupfuls of cold boiled tongue, chopped or finely diced, add a chopped pepper, two large onions thinly sliced, a cupful of chopped red cabbage and a tablespoonful of chopped chives. Fold in enough heavy French dressing to moisten, add a minced sweet pickle and a tablespoonful of the sweet pickle vinegar. Toss in the dressing and serve in fresh cabbage leaves. If liked, six sardines, freed from skin and bone, may be added to this salad.

DEVILED EGG SALAD.

Boil enough eggs hard to allow two to each portion of salad. Cut the eggs in two lengthways and remove the yolks. Devil the yolks with the juice of an onion, juice of half a lemon, a little Worcestershire sauce, a little made mustard, and a little sweet spiced vinegar. Stuff the yolks and then quarter them on lettuce leaves to look like an open flower, heap mayonnaise in the center, topped with a little finely chopped red pepper. This is a decorative as well as an exceedingly appetizing salad.

DEVILED DUCK.

Pick clean the rack of a cold roast duck. Boil the rack with the remains of the gravy and a little stock, or water to cover, add onion and other seasoning. Cook down to about two cupfuls, thicken and strain. Chop the meat fine, adding seasoning, a little curry powder, Worcestershire sauce, a teaspoonful of chopped chives, and enough of the cooled gravy to make a soft mixture. Line small ramakins with good paste, fill them with the mixture, dust with a little grated cheese, and bake ten minutes. Serve mint jelly with the duck.

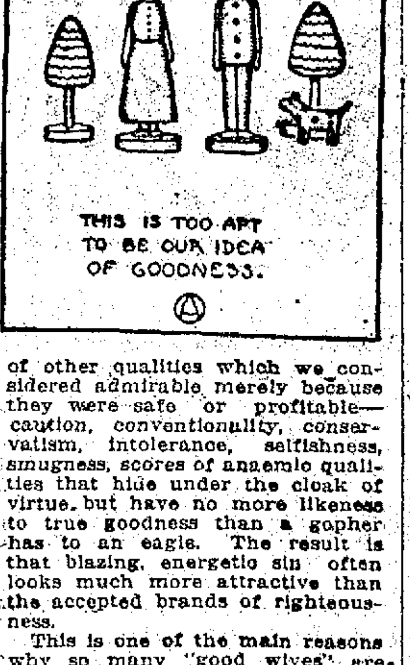
Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World

There's a peculiar fact about the heroines in the novels of Mr. Dickens. The only really interesting ladies are those with more or less blemished reputations. Invariably the good ones languish in literary obscurity, or are killed off young by their impatient creator.

Dickens knew life and in thus depicting his heroines he hit on a truth that it were well for us to contemplate. The most interesting folks are all too apt to be the wicked ones. This isn't because Vice is intrinsically more attractive than Virtue, but because we are inclined to make vice positive and virtue negative. In other words, our virtue too often consists simply in not doing things and playing safe, whereas vice consists in doing things, despite the danger. And, somehow, we're bound to admire action.

The trouble rises from the fact that we've made a mess of our goodness program. Goodness was originally intended to be a virile thing. It embraced all sorts of stirring, radical tendencies. It was militant and unconventional, humorous and generous, adventurous, democratic. The goodness that has done the constructive, progressive work in the world has been all of these things.



THIS IS TOO APT TO BE OUR IDEA OF GOODNESS.

But gradually we included a lot of other qualities which we considered admirable merely because they were safe or profitable—caution, conventionality, conservatism, intolerance, selfishness, smugness, scores of anaemic qualities that hide under the cloak of virtue, but have no more likeness to true goodness than a gopher has to an eagle. The result is that blazing, energetic sin often looks much more attractive than the accepted brands of righteousness.

This is one of the main reasons why so many "good wives" are deserted for "that woman."

"Shall I tell the man I adore and who adores me, the man I am to marry, of the sin of my past?" wailed Ruth. And Jerry's answer was to turn the question over to her big Gang. By dozens, by scores, the answers came. They will occupy your attention for some weeks to come. They were all remarkable answers, as remarkable as the few which follow.

I had expected platitudes in answer to Ruth's question. But never a one came. Instead, each letter presented some original, often radical line of thought which amazed me. It showed not only a growing TOLERANCE but a GROWING BRAVERY IN FACING RIGHT AND WRONG AND ANALYZING THEIR TRUE VALUE.

The charge has been brought against this generation that it is a "godless one," because it reads the Bible but little, goes to church rarely, makes few spiritual professions and has no reverence whatever for ancient formulas of morality. I THINK RATHER THAT IT SHOULD BE CALLED THE MOST SPIRITUAL GENERATION THAT HAS EVER LIVED.

It searches for truth not because it is the proper thing to do, not because its grandfather did it, BUT BECAUSE IT WANTS TO KNOW WHAT IS THE TRUTH. It has a real appetite for knowledge of rightness. What if it does search with a jazz song on its lips and a bottle of home brew on its hip.

The fact remains that IT SEARCHES AND IT SEARCHES OF ITS OWN ACCORD. Whereas, all too often the preceding generations merely followed a ready made programme over which they did not thinking or pondering whatever.

Here is someone who THINKS about goodness. More credit to whoever it may be.

One Letter

Dear Geraldine:

Just a word of appreciation for your column, which I have read since coming to Oakland, about four months ago, and always with delight.

I was very much interested in "Ruth's" problem in yesterday's paper.

I believe women have a basic fundamental quality of VIRTUE men do not possess, and that this quality was developed in women for the uplift and preservation of the race. A woman's virtue is the "Pearl of Great Price," we seldom realize how great until we have lost it.

Men have no right to demand an immaculate past, but woman demands it of herself. Each human being combines masculine strength and feminine love, and there is no difference in the sight of God, for He made them male and female.

Ruth's remorse was probably just as great before she met the "Real Man," and if she has repented and confessed to God, I do not believe she should destroy her husband's faith in her, and if she marries and has children, she will be better able to guard them with an understanding love.

If she, knowing all the circumstances, could forgive another the same offense, she should also forgive herself.

The Master Christian, in a similar case, when confronted with the facts and in direct opposition to the existing law, said, "Neither do I condemn thee, go and sin no more."

Carry on, Jerry, we are for you.

AN INTERESTED READER.

I like the way my "Gang" have handled this question. They've gone beyond the superficial aspects, beyond the mere surface rewards and dangers, into the inner rightness or wrongness of the proposition. Here's one for instance. It is only part of a splendid letter, too long to print in full, but it will surely help.

Another

Geraldine:

As to Ruth, her problem is great and right it should be to her, and I feel that you, Geraldine, are rejoicing even to find her taking the misstep so seriously as it shows that she is on the safe road and if diligently followed will lead her out of that apparently blocked path, and on to usefulness and finally to the happiness that she craves.

Remember that she once met a man and proved her love to him. It proved nothing, and really she is thinking that she again will want to prove her true love to another. But ask her to ask herself and see if she is not in that same position that she once was in, but in a different phase. Had this lover been what she thought he was she would have followed on and taken the rites as set down by mortals and to the world been as others are, but the sense that was sought to bind was fleeting and the real reason behind the scenes is that the laws or codes governing such things are a school master and truly lead us on, and suffering often refines.

Many a girl has been in Ruth's place as we all know and either told or left it untold depending on the circumstances as they exist. As to this, no one can say "nay, nay," or "yes, yes," as to do so would be binding her to whoever made it. And, remember, all are in reality free born, and finally work out their own salvation, some times with a great deal of fear and trembling.

Fear is what she is suffering from, and why? Because she thinks that her happiness will melt and that if she don't tell she is living a lie. Well if she will just take advice from another more man she can retire within her closet (close her senses as far as possible to all the world) and take it to the very highest she knows and after she has done so, possess her soul in patience, she will find that her problem will be met surely and everlastingly.

The above has been proven and He says "My ways are not your ways, My thoughts are not your thoughts." Why can this fail in Ruth's case as it has met and settled far more difficult problems than her one is, as to thus betake one's self is to draw nigh to the Eternal.

And remember when we speak the word that transcends human sense, and to the human senses unknowable, we draw nigh unto Him (the Real) and the word does not return unto us void. Ruth, even now I feel your problem has been met; you asked the best you knew and the best can only come back to you.

Respectfully submitted,

A FELLOW TRAVELER.

Advises Telling

Here is one who advises Ruth to tell because he feels that he, under similar circumstances, would be generous to the girl he loved. That's a very fine way to feel individually, Pal, but it's hardly wise to expect that the rest of the world is going to follow our individual codes.

Dear Geraldine:

Should Ruth tell the truth? Yes, sure—and the quicker she does it, the better for her. Why should she wait that long if it makes her sick? Some day she will have to tell it any way. I know it is hard, but when I have a tooth that hurts me I go to the dentist and have it pulled and when I feel the relief I wonder why I waited that long. It is the same with Ruth.

Here is what I would do to any girl I loved who was in the same trouble. I would say, "Yes, I am glad you told me that because I would have felt badly if a stranger had told me that when we were married. But now that you have told me I am able to protect you and to close their mouths so they can't throw any mud on you. And now let us forget the past and live for the future, because I didn't fall in love with you for what you were that time, but for what you are now. And I believe you will make a good wife because you have proved to me that you really care for me in telling me that."

I would say that, Geraldine, and I am sure I would have a 100 per cent wife. I hope that Ruth's young man will say the same and if he is reasonable he will. When I am in love with a girl my slogan will be "Let us forgive and forget and start a new life."

"26."

IMA BOOB: You've asked for some very ticklish advice and in answering you I'm likely to get in bad with all the "obviously" good people I know. They are apt to believe that everything is bad unless it "conforms." Well, if you are as good a sort as I hope you are, why don't you try a smile and a tipping of your hat. It probably won't work—but then again it might. All formal introductions are not followed by friendships wearing wings. If you WANT to learn to dance there are plenty of teachers who will give you individual instruction, and plenty of real he-men dance.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

She settled herself more comfortably in her seat, evidently gave the points of her disclosure a quick mental review, and then began to speak in the slow drawl which she affects sometimes:

"Let's proceed from the known to the unknown," she began. "In the first place, we've satisfied ourselves that there's no house to rent, and none that we wish to buy within commuting distance of New York. Even if we older people wished to live in New York this summer—an unthinkable proposition for Marion and Junior—we couldn't find an apartment. Things are worse there than in the suburbs. And by dint of diligent inquiry I have found that every furniture warehouse is filled to the brim. Also the moving men within a radius of forty miles won't promise a thing till after May 15.

"Whew!" Dicky's face showed alarm and chagrin. "And we're due to get out of here long before that! If it were anybody but that dame in the offing—but it would be useless to expect anything from her. We've simply got to get out. I'll grant you the thousand, Lil. I'll give it to you as a commission if you'll get us out of this mess."

"I never rob a cradle," she retorted impudently. "All I ask is that you refrain from any remarks about fool women, unnecessary expense and any of the rest of the list which you wise masculines trot out on any sort of an excuse. For I warn you, you won't approve. My plan is simply to lease for you some comfortable place at the east end of the island for two years, move the furniture out there—in that section the vans are not so busy, and we can get them if we act at once—then sit tight for a while. We'll then have plenty of time to keep our eyes open for something we really want. I'll get some little furnished place near you—luckily my apartment lease is a long-term one, and I can sublet or leave it empty as I like. It isn't as if any of us had to push a time-clock or commute to the city every day. We can arrange to do a lot of our work at home, Dicky-bird."

"That doesn't work out so very well," Dicky said doubtfully. "Always unexpected interruptions."

I flushed painfully at the injustice of the remark, for I always am most careful to see that Dicky is absolutely undisturbed at his work.

Lillian came to my rescue, saying the thing which was in my mind but which I never would have uttered.

"You mean," she drawled coolly, "that you're always interrupting yourself flying off at a tangent when you should be drawing. You may be able to deceive yourself, Dicky-bird, but don't hand any of that vanilla-icing to me. I've worked by your side too long.

"But apart from that objection, what do you think of my scheme? Oh, yes, the thousand dollars is for moving out, deposit on house, and so forth, the little trifles which make moving such a pleasure."

Dickey's lips clamped together in a thin line at Lillian's aspersion on his working habits. If any one else in the world but Lillian had made such a speech an explosion of his hair-trigger temper would have followed. But Lillian is a privileged person—Dicky owes her too much to question seriously any censure of her. But I knew that she had "drawn blood" in her mocking little speech, even though Dicky gave a forced laugh and answered her with a creditable assumption of carelessness.

"If you'll kindly explain to me the reason for all this palaver, I'll be very grateful," he drawled. "Asking me what I think of your scheme, forsooth, when it's all cut and dried till it's like jerked beef! It's like a hold-up gent putting a revolver to your head, and saying, 'Your money or your life. Will you be kind enough to make a choice, and what do you think of my offer?' I'm on, of course, there's nothing else I can do apparently, but I can see myself camping in the studio a good share of the time this summer."

His voice held a distinct note of self-pity, and I saw that was indulging himself in what Lillian has dubbed his "martyred mood." She shot a furtive, amused glance at him.

"And a very comfortable camping place it is," Lillian retorted. "You needn't lug any fagots and boiling oil around with you on that account."

I saw a reluctant grin twitch the corners of Dicky's mouth, and knew that his good nature and his admiration for Lillian would soon banish his irritation.

"You win, Lil!" he said, patting her shoulder affectionately. "I know I'm an awful grouch, but I'm sort of flabbergasted over the situation."

"I know," Lillian returned with instant comprehension. "We all are. But we're lucky that we happen to be situated so it will only be the minimum of discomfort for us. I understand that any number of families are being driven beyond the commuting zone. That means weekends only for the fathers, while you and I, Dicky, need only to run up to the city occasionally. I'm mighty glad now I kept my studio through all this. I haven't been in the place a half-dozen times since Harry—went to South America, but I'll fit it up a little more adequately, and have a regular light housekeeping apartment whenever I come to the city. And my own apartment sub-let will be bringing in a nice little sum."

What Does Your Wife Do?

QUIET TITLE SUIT STARTS FIGHT FOR ALAMEDA HOME

Sons of Louis Weinmann Seek Property Held by Father's Second Wife.

A battle over a small fortune left by Louis Weinmann, San Francisco insurance man and father of Judge L. R. Weinmann of Alameda, has been started with the filing of a suit to quiet title to the family home on Paru street, Alameda, occupied by the widow, Mrs. Arvilla Weinmann, the father's second wife.

Donahue & Hynes, attorneys for Judge Weinmann and his brother, William Weinmann, the plaintiffs, declare in the complaint that the real estate involved was the saparate property of the first wife, Caroline I. Weinmann, mother of the plaintiffs, and that it was deeded to the husband shortly before the wife's death with the understanding that Weinmann would deed it and other property to the sons at his death. The alleged promise as to the home was carried out, but later Weinmann deeded the same property to the second wife. She has refused to relinquish possesssion and the suit is to oust her. It is stated Mrs. Weinmann offered to make provision voluntarily for her stepsons, but refused to bind herself legally. It is declared other suits will follow, in which sensations are promised.

Weinmann married the second wife about four years ago. She was then Mrs. Leonidas Baxter and was acting as guide for a party of tourists. Subsequently she secured a divorce and married Weinmann. Kern county and other property, it is stated, will be involved in the suits to follow, in which undue influence, it is declared, will be alleged.

U. C. Girls Will Cheer Sick As Student Activity

Associated Women Plan to Rout Worry Attacking Those in College Infirmary.

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—Sick college students, shut away from home and friends, will not be lonely in the future as the result of interest taken in them by the Associated Women Students at the university.

A special committee, the one task of which will be the visiting of the sick, has just been effected by the women students with Miss Nydia Le Tourneau as chairman. Other members are the Misses Vivian Bradley, Lois Blair, Margaret Chamberlain and Catherine McEneany.

The work of the newest committee of college girls will be confined to the university infirmary, where the majority of students are cared for when ill. Lack of time by infirmary attaches to care for the personal needs of the sick students caused these women to take action. The committee will take a personal interest in the patients at the college hospital, will notify professors of the students' illness, return books to the library, deliver letters and take flowers to the sick. In addition to the standing committees new girls will be named each month to carry on the work.

PIEDMONT WILL JAIL COASTERS

PIEDMONT, Nov. 18.—Street car motormen who coast down the hillsides of Piedmont will eb liable to arrest hereafter, following a decision reached at last night's meeting of the Piedmont board of trustees. Several automobile smashes and other accidents have been narrowly averted at Highland and Mountain avenues through the custom of some of the motormen to shut off the "juice" and coast down the hills at a high rate of speed.

The board ordered a light at the corner of Potrero avenue and Woodland way.

A petition with thirty names attached and asking to have the business zone of Piedmont extended so that the property at Highland and Vista avenues will be included in the business zone, was read to the board. The project was referred to the Piedmont Civic Association.

An opinion was handed down by the city attorney as to the status of the urban rooster. He stated that there is no existing rooster ordinance, and said he was satisfied that the city could not legislate against the rooster, as such. Roosters he explained, can be eliminated as chickens, if all chickens are eliminated, but their sex cannot be discriminated against.

WILL REBUILD.

LOS BANOS, Nov. 18.—Miller & Lux announce that they will at once take steps to build the four structures destroyed by fire Monday night, causing a loss of $50,000, covered by insurance. The planing mill, sash and door mill, molding room and a warehouse full of hardwood and finished lumber were destroyed. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The blaze started in the planing mill. Mill work and orders for lumber will be filled by the company through outside sources, to enable buildings under way to continue with little loss of time. Work in other lines will be provided for the men thrown out of employment by the fire.

RANCH PLANT BURNS.

TRACY, Nov. 18.—Spontaneous combustion is given as the cause of the disastrous fire on the Joseph Teixiera ranch, near here, which destroyed a $2000 stable, 20 tons of hay, $2000 worth of tools, an auto valued at $1200 and a tractor. Only $200 insurance was carried. A herd of fine dairy cows was driven from the blazing structure to safety. Teixiera, a deputy night marshal of Tracy, was asleep when an explosion was heard in the stable. His wife ran outdoors to see the entire structure burst into flames. Teixiera dressed in haste and managed to save his stock.

DRIVER INHERITS FORTUNE.

WILLOWS, Nov. 18.—W. S. Noble, driver of an express wagon here for many years, has received a message from Racine, Wis., that his uncle, R. S. Noble, had died leaving him his entire estate. The property left to him, Noble said, is worth about $80,000.

U. S. LIFTS BAN ON RIFLES TO MEXICAN ARMY

Lower California Revolt Ends With Complete Rout of Insurgents.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 18.—Secretary of State Hughes today wired Customs Collector Sprigg here giving permission for the Mexican federals to take a large consignment of rifles and fifty thousand rounds of ammunition into Lower California from this country.

Four revolutionists were killed and a large party was routed, with ammunition and supplies of the entire Lower California revolution organization captured, is reported here today by Governor Epigmenio Ybarra, governor of the district.

The battle took place yesterday about forty miles south of the border town of Tijuana, according to Governor Ybarra's official statement.

One hundred and fifty federal troops, led by Colonel Armenta, met seventy-five rebels, the governor announces, and the rebels were completely routed.

Governor Ybarra expresses the firm belief that the battle of yesterday ends the revolution, but refugees coming out of Mexico say "the place is filled with revolutionists."

A party of Mexican rebels was routed and four killed in a surprise attack southeast of Tijuana, according to announcement made by Governor Epignienio Ybarra of Lower California. Governor Ybarra said a large quantity of arms, ammunition and provisions was captured by the federal troops. Governor Ybarra said that the news of the engagement was brought to Tijuana last evening by Captain Proto, a messenger from a force of 150 men under Colonel Armenta which had been seeking the so-called rebel forces in Lower California since Sunday, when six revolutionists were killed in a skirmish six miles south of Tijuana. Colonel Armenta's force is said to have been well armed and equipped and to have had two machine guns.

According to the report made to Governor Ybarra, the rebels actually fired first, but when four of their men fell dead and others were wounded the force fled, leaving all their equipment.

Federal officers expressed the belief that this marked the end of the "revolt," which began Sunday. Governor Ybarra said that on Colonel Armenta's return to Tijuana Saturday he expected to be able to make an announcement regarding the reopening of the boundary line, which at Tijuana has been closed to Americans since Sunday. Preparations were continued today to open the winter racing season at the Tijuana track on Thanksgiving day.

U. C. ARMS PARLEY TO DRAW ENVOYS FROM 44 NATIONS

BERKELEY, Nov. 18.—Forty-four nations will be represented at the "little disarmament conference" which will be held on December 1 at the University of California.

Under the direction of honor students in political science, and the officers of the student body, a conference will be held in Wheeler auditorium, with President David P. Barrows presiding. At the conference the same powers which are represented at Washington will send delegates and a spokesman will be selected for each nationality.

At the conclusion of the conference, a resolution prepared by a student committee will be presented and signed by the delegates from each of the forty-four nations represented at the university. The students will attend the conference in the dress of their native country.

GERMAN LEADERS STILL DEBATING COLLAPSE CAUSE

Von Hindenburg Claims Defeat of Army Was Due To Civilian Stupidity.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—Why Germany was beaten is again a topic of acrimonious newspaper controversy now that the third anniversary of the collapse of the German war machine is at hand.

Opinions are as violently expressed and as widely divergent as ever. An impetus to bitter recrimination has been given by an interview with Field Marshal von Hindenburg, which appeared the other day in the Hamburg Tageblatt. In it, the aged army chief once more affirmed his belief in the "dagger thrust in the back of the army"—the treacherous breakdown of civilian support for the military leaders.

The sequel has been the publication of a mass of official material, notably by the Vorwaerts, to show that it was certainly not the civilians who lost the war.

Major Deutelmoser, the former chief of the official German press bureau, writes in the Berlin Tageblatt maintaining that the blind faith of the German nation in its military leaders continued to the bitter end; in fact, until it was plain to all that the military idols had come to grief irreparably, "because they were just soldiers and not statesmen, which was the deplorable mistake made by the people at home," says the writer.

The extreme radical press is even more bitter in its denunciation of the military failure. The Freiheit publishes a long article to show that the German people were systematically deceived; that they had no conception of the true situation at the front, and that the supreme army command deliberately spread false reports.

Furious denials of these allegations come from the conservative organs. The Tageszeitung wrathfully accuses the "vile agitators" who, it says, had long ago whetted the weapon of treachery; while Count Reventlow in the Abendblatt declares that it was neither Foch's genius nor the British blockade that overcame Germany, but "the venomous work of deserters and traitors behind the German front, who had been infected by the pacifist and revolutionary virus."

Adolph Koester, a former minister in the Socialist cabinet, who says that the dagger thrust story is "one of the most insidious and stupid of war legends." Koester produces official evidence from reports of commanding generals, themselves, that the German army was well and truly beaten; that it had no efficient reserves; that the Allies were incontestably superior in men and material, and that the British blockade had Germany by the throat. "No Bolshevism, and no pacifism had anything to do with that," the writer declares.

There is no sign that Germans ever will agree on the question of why they were defeated.

CHINESE BEHEAD MAN IN ERROR; "EXCUSE PLEASE"

PEKING, Sept. 27 (by mail).—Hundreds of Southern, or Szechuanese, prisoners have been decapitated by the Northern defenders of Ichang, according to reports brought to Peking by foreigners, who have been visiting the Ichang front.

Some of the original garrison one day mistook a Chinese collector for the Standard Oil Company for a Southern soldier and cut off his head in the usual manner. They did not find out their mistake until they went through their victim's clothing.

To smooth matters over they fished the head and the body out of the water, sewed them together and bought the best coffin that they could afford. Corps and coffin were then carried to the home of the deceased, where profuse apologies were offered to his family.

The Standard Oil Company, however, is not satisfied with these apologies and has demanded that a solatium be paid the wife and children of the murdered man.

DIET FOR PUPILS.

RIPON, Nov. 18.—Pupils in the grammar school will be provided with a hot lunch throughout winter. At least two warm dishes of nutritious food will be offered free of charge, through the generosity of the town. At a rousing public meeting Tuesday night 150 pounds of foodstuffs were donated and many promises made of all that may be required. Rev. Mr. Dryer of the Congregational church spoke on the position the school and teachers hold in the community. Mrs. C. E. Martinelli, president of the Parent-Teachers' association, under whose auspices the meeting was held, also addressed the gathering.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 18.—Governor M. C. Mechom has commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of William Murrah of Carlsbad, convicted on a charge of first degree murder for the death of his brother, John, and who was sentenced to be hanged today. Murrah was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

WOMAN REACHES OAKLAND ON HUNT FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. Merle Wilson Believes Boy Is Ill in Hospital; Blames Father.

A sixteen months' search which has been made by Mrs. Meryl Richardson Wilson for her two children is centering today in Oakland. One of the children, a boy, 5½ years old, is said to be dangerously ill in a local hospital. All efforts to locate him have failed.

The children were taken from the mother by the father Robert Lee Wilson, Los Angeles real estate operator immediately after Mrs. Wilson instituted divorce proceedings.

Yesterday Mrs. Wilson's attorney appealed to Superior Judge Toland in Los Angeles to compel her former husband's attorney to disclose where the children were being held. Wilson's attorney then submitted a letter which stated both children were in Oakland. He said he did not know anything further about the children than was disclosed in the letter.

Judge Toland instructed Wilson's attorney to ascertain where the children are, with the intimation warrants would be issued unless more definite facts are forthcoming.

Tracy Marshal to Face Public Trial

TRACY, Nov. 18.—Charges made against John Madrid, city marshal, including neglect of duty, use of profane and abusive language in the presence of women, and accepting bail without giving receipts, were being considered by the Tracy board of trustees today. The charges were made by Emile Honda and four witnesses.

City Attorney B. F. Crittenden advised the board to consider the charges, and November 25 was the date set for a public hearing of the criticism and defense. J. F. Beebe and Joseph Tiexiera were appointed deputy marshals.

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

Watchman Frustrates Efforts of Burglars

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Surprising two cracksmen who had just attempted to blow open a safe in the office of the Franklin hospital early today, Charles Grossman, night watchman, was bound, gagged and threatened with death. Grossman was making his rounds on the lower floor when he heard a muffled explosion. Hurrying to the office he was confronted by a man with an automatic pistol. The burglars did not succeed in gaining entrance to the safe.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED IN BIDS FOR WORK AT S. F.

Contractors and Labor Leaders Summoned As Grand Jury Witnesses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Twelve persons, including labor heads, contractors and officials of the Teaming and Auto Truck Association, have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Monday night when a formal investigation will be started of charges that a gigantic conspiracy existed among certain members of the association to violate the Cartwright anti-trust law by fixing exorbitant rates on excavating jobs to contractors not members of the association.

The subpoenaes have been issued by District Attorney Matthew Brady following the charges which were placed before the grand jury last night.

CHARGES FOLLOW BIDS

The charges of conspiracy to violate the state law, it is thought, grew out of bids submitted by the Carlin Grading and Teaming company, the Sibley Grading and Teaming company, Peter Montague, contractor, and A. J. Reed, contractor, for an excavating job on Powell street between Bush and Pine. It is declared that an independent contractor bid $2250 for the job against more than $5000 by others and when the work was finished declared that he had made a reasonable profit. The bids submitted by members of the so-called "trust" were within $50 of each other.

CALLED TO APPEAR

The following persons have been called to appear before the grand jury:

Supervisor William S. Scott, secretary of the Teaming and Auto Truck Association.

L. B. Sibley and C. A. Wellman, president and vice-president respectively of the Sibley Grading and Teaming company.

John A. Carlin and R. A. Farrar of the Carlin Grading and Teaming company.

Peter Montague, contractor, 180 Jessie street.

A. J. Reeder, contractor, 180 Jessie street.

Owen I. McHugh, contractor, Russ building.

J. J. Ringross and N. P. Anderson of the contracting firm of Ringross & Anderson, on whose complaint the Industrial Association made the investigation.

Paul Eliel of the Industrial Association of San Francisco and Charles W. Gompertz, president of the Builders Exchange, who, with Ringross and Anderson, laid the charges before the grand jury.

IROQUOIS CAFE IS RAIDED, LIQUOR STOCKS SEIZED

Near Panic Created As Police Chase Fleeing Waiter Across Dance Floor.

A federal warrant charging Frederick Schultz, proprietor of the Iroquois cafe, at 461 Eleventh street, with violation of the national prohibition act, is being sought today by Patrolmen Wallace K. Canning and D F Murphy, members of the morals squad of the Oakland police department, following a raid upon the establishment late last night, when a quantity of liquor was confiscated and William Harris, a waiter, and James Lee Chinese porter, were arrested The two men are being held in the city prison today in default of $1000 bail each

Activity of the officers in raiding the place is the second within the past week, the Creole cafe in West Oakland a popular resort of the night life, having been raided last Tuesday night

During the rush hour last night, when the after-theater crowds were filling the establishment, Patrolmen Canning and Murphy entered and began a conversation with Harris, head waiter While the officers were talking Lee entered the dining room carrying a bucket Harris is alleged by the officers to have signaled to him and Lee fled toward a rear door He was pursued and caught by the officers and five quart bottles of whisky and a bottle of gin were discovered

Technically, however there is no actual evidence that the cafe violated the Eighteenth Amendment it was stated today by police authorities The only clause by which Lee and Harris can be held is that part of the federal law which makes it illegal for restaurant proprietors to have liquor on the premises

Capture of Lee was made just after a dance number had been completed and patrons of the establishment were thrown into a panic when the officers dashed through the room after the fleeing Chinese porter

Commissioner Frank Colbourn of the department of public health and safety says he is considering his next move with regard to the cafe

"There are rumors that the license of this cafe is about to be revoked," says Colbourn. "I cannot affirm nor deny such rumors till I have looked into the matter It may be that there will be action started by the chief of police, with consequent recommendations, but we cannot say as yet.

'I hear that the Iroquois management denies the right of the city to make search and seizure This is debatable, but I doubt if it was a case of search at all"

STUDENTS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENTS

Two entertainments will be staged tomorrow evening, one by university high school students at Emerson school, and the other at the Lafayette school auditorium, which will be given its opening celebration and its first concert

The University high students will give three plays, each written, costumed, staged and coached by themselves. They designed their own scenery and will supply their own scene-shifters and electricians.

"The Steadfast Princess" by the Junior Dramatic club, will be the principal attraction, this being a two-act play of medieval atmosphere requiring thirty actors. William Foley and Adrienna Bellerman will take the leading parts Elena de Martini has coached the songs and dances.

"Spreading the News," a comedy, will be staged by the Senior club, with Muriel Alexander, John Eldredge, Raitt Boren, Hugh Baker, and Murrell Williamson in the leading parts

"The Finger of God," a serious play, written by Percival Wilde, will finish the program. Jack Burr, Catherine Sibley and Lawrence Cone are in the cast.

The ceremonies at the opening of the Lafayette school auditorium will include a musicale and a series of motion pictures on a screen made from school funds. The auditorium is dedicated not only to school uses but as a community building as well.

The concert on Friday, under the direction of Albert M. Humphries, includes the following program:

FUNDS SOUGHT TO GIVE CHEER FOR PATIENTS

A Christmas fund of $3000 to provide holiday for the 500 men and women in the Alameda County Infirmary near San Leandro and the 150 patients in Arroyo Sanitarium near Livermore is being asked by the County Hospitals Christmas committee, Herman T. Johnson, chairman Subscriptions should be sent to E F Garrison, treasurer of the committee, hall of records, Oakland

State and county funds do not provide holiday cheer for the army of men, women and children who become inmates of the county institutions Food, shelter, medicine and necessities of daily living alone are extended If the 650 who are temporarily at San Leandro or Livermore are to have a Christmas tree and assurance that they have not been pushed out and forgotten, volunteers must finance the holiday fete.

Small personal comforts and some of the good things which go along with the holidays are assured with the collection of a $3000 fund If a surplus remains it will be used during the year to provide material for the vocational work at Arroyo and the Infirmary under the direction of Dr H G Broderick, director of hospitals

Besides a Christmas tree at each institution, a Christmas program will be provided

Mexico Will Lift Duties on Cattle

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Nov 19—The Mexican government has decided to permit the importing of cattle free of duty as a step toward again filling Mexico's grazing lands with herds and bringing down the price of meat

Restocking of the ranges has been slower than was expected It was believed that restoration of order would be followed by great activity in the cattle raising industry, but the revival has not been on the great scale desired This has been due to uneasiness as to land titles and fear of bandit raids

It is said here that the removal of the duty on cattle probably will stimulate the shipment of beef cattle and other stock to Mexico for sale, but that cattle raisers generally are disposed to wait for more ample sion of land will remain undisputed before making the large investments necessary in restocking the ranges.

Manhattan Island Extension Proposed

NEW YORK, Nov. —T. K. Thompson, one of the most prominent engineers in New York, has put forward a plan to extend the island of Manhattan six miles down New York bay, adding twelve miles of needed docks The proposed extension would be "built up" with huge concrete walls on either side Clearance for navigation on both sides would remain the same as it now is according to Thompson. Governors island would be taken in as part of Manhattan under the plan

CHINESE SLAIN, WIFE WOUNDED BY TONG RAIDERS

Two Whites Believed to Be Hired Gunmen, Accompany Orientals on Jaunt.

SAN JOSE, Nov 18.—Y Ling, a Chinese employed on the Ross Seed and Floral ranch, near Belmont is dead, and his wife is dying, as the result of a raid last night on a shack where Chinese workmen were quartered on the ranch The raiders, consisting of two Chinese and two white men drove up to the shack in an automobile and all opened fire on a number of Chinese in and about the place

Ling, it is believed by the sheriff's office, was the man against whom the raid was directed Ling was a member of the Hop Sings and it is believed that the two Chinamen who accompanied the two white men were Suey Sings

Ling was killed instantly and his wife suffered two bullet wounds which will probably result in her death, physicians say. After firing the volley into the shack the car drove away It is believed at the sheriff's office that the two white men were hired by the Chinese to help them kill Ling

Mrs. Mary Blake SUGGESTS

I AM SURE when you have tried home-made pimento-cheese you will say it far excells any you can buy ready prepared. It can be made in a few minutes and you can be sure it is perfectly fresh.

Just warm some mild cream cheese in Carnation milk and stir until creamy. Add a few pimentos and a dash of salt. You will have no need to dread unexpected luncheon guests with these ingredients at hand.

My Home Cooking Lessons also contain numerous suggestions which you may find helpful. I will send you a complete set free and include a book of 100 tested recipes if you will write me care of the Carnation Milk Products Co. of Cal., 49 Main Street, San Francisco, California

L. A. MOTORBOAT RACE.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18. — The annual motorboat races conducted by the Los Angeles Motorboat club for the Nordlinger Trophy will be held tomorrow and Sunday at Los Angeles Harbor.

Nebraska Football Team Has Held All Opponents Scoreless

LINCOLN, Neb, Nov. 18. — The Nebraska football squad, 23 players in all, with coaches and trainers, left here last night for Ames, Iowa, where on Saturday they will play their last Missouri Valley conference game of the season with the Iowa State College eleven. Coaches and men said they looked for a hard game, but expressed the hope that they would be able to complete the season without being scored against by a valley conference team. The players will spend today at Des Moines, where they will have light practice, leaving early Saturday for Ames.

Oregon 'U' to Meet Aggies Tomorrow

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 18. — The Oregon Aggies have some surprises in store for the University of Oregon next Saturday when the two old rivals meet in Eugene. Coach "Dick" Rutherford has made a general shake-up in practice this week, and some dark horses are likely to appear in the line-up. Several new plays will be in the Beavers' repertoire.

Best Highway For Autoists Via Milpitas

Parking Space Provided For All Motorists at the New Stanford Field.

All roads will lead to Palo Alto tomorrow morning when the greatest caravan of motorists ever seen arriving at a single spot will pull into the home town of Stanford to allow their owners and friends to see the annual Big Game between Stanford and California. The game will dedicate the new Stanford stadium and the thousands of football enthusiasts who would go to the game were it played on a sandlot, will be augmented by many thousands more who are attracted by the wonderful spectacle that will be presented when 65 000 people pack the new Stanford "mound," as it is called on the Cardinal campus, to capacity.

Many will use Mr. Southern Pacific's mode of transportation, but the vast majority will use their own four-wheeled means of locomotion, unless rain should dampen their ardor. In order to give these thousands of motorists the best possible information as to the ways and means of getting there, The TRIBUNE has uncovered the following information. The best route to the Big Game is said to lie via Milpitas for Oakland's motorists and all those not going directly from San Francisco. Going by way of Alviso one will avoid all the congestion of the San Mateo peninsula and the Santa Clara county surveyor has given assurance that the new bridge on the road from Alviso to Milpitas, will be open today for travel. Time will be saved by using this route.

PARKING SPACE ASSURED.

The state highway will be closed at the entrance to Stanford University and traffic will be diverted through the university grounds at the main entrance. Parking has all been mapped out along this drive to the north of the new stadium for cars from the north and access may be had to this space by driving past the stadium to the north, going west and then returning along the road that has been constructed parallel to the campus car line. The arrangements provided make it possible for every car to drive out at the close of the game without waiting for others, as each machine will face directly out onto a road and there will be no confusion or congestion at the end of the game. Arrive early, park your car and look over the new stadium before game time, is the advice to all motorists who wish to avoid the last minute jam.

CALIFORNIA LINE OF STEEL EXPECTED TO BAFFLE THE CARDINAL IN THE BIG GAME

Sixty-five Thousand Fans Are Expected to Witness the Annual Gridiron Classic at Palo Alto Tomorrow.

By DOUG. MONTELL.

With the dawn of tomorrow will come California's opportunity to invade the land of the Cardinal to play the final game of inter-collegiate football of the present season in the Pacific Coast Conference. The day has been long awaited—from California's viewpoint the days have been dragging their way along while to Stanford undoubtedly the fatal day has rushed forward altogether too quick. But now that it is at hand it is to see one of the greatest of all Stanford-California games. In past years there have probably been tenser situations and a greater number who were uncertain as to the outcome of the annual grid classic, but this year there is a certain air of mystery that makes one actually doubt what is to come—doubt the inevitable. Tomorrow Stanford is due to lose. It is written in the cards by the hand of dope and tomorrow night at this time the big game will be history, nought but echoes will remain.

Will it be a California triumph in a hard-fought game? Will it be a slaughter, as many predict? Will Stanford upset the dope? Have the Cardinals a chance? Unsettled, uncertain, Stanford waits the coming of the Golden Bear with grim determination to fight. It is all any team can do and the eleven good men and true who trot into the new Stanford field tomorrow afternoon to oppose the championship California eleven will have that set expression that bodes ill for the team that trifles. California should win tomorrow. California will win tomorrow, and it will be by a large score. An upset from these calculations would cause greater surprise than a bootlegger at a church social.

If California Should Take the Jump—Lookout.

Stanford tonight is in a position similar to the trusting soul who stood on the sands and bade the waves recede. And the waves didn't recede, so the gentleman got his feet wet. Stanford will probably suffer a similar fate tomorrow afternoon. It should take the California Bears about four minutes to make their first touchdown, allowing that Stanford does not take possession of the ball at the start and delay the game unduly before punting. For Stanford, although they receive the kickoff and return to a reasonable position in midfield, will encounter a line of steel and will be forced to punt before making first downs. It will be at this stage of the game that the 65,000 fans may expect to see a sample of the tremendous California offensive unloosed. Charlie Erb will crank up the Bruin steamroller, step on the gas and the juggernaut will be off over the nice new lawn, leaving a stream of wreckage in its wake. Not a pleasant picture, but a grim reality that must be faced. Should it not come to pass California would be thunderstruck, and should Stanford hold and check the Blue and Gold offensive the score would stay within reason.

Bears Will Guard Against Stanford Score.

But two things can happen tomorrow. California can step out from the opening whistle and drive for as many touchdowns as the time allowance permits or they may play a waiting game, fearing lest a break might give Stanford encouragement and permit them to score. California is frankly out to give the Cardinals a blank for their day's efforts. They did it last year and the Bruins have a better football team this year in many ways. The line does not appear to be as strong through center. Cort Majors is missed, sorely missed. Opposing teams have gained a goodly amount of yardage over Latham and Clark and touchdowns have resulted over this spot. At tackles Barnes and McMillan are both the better for a year's additional experience and coaching under the wizard Smith. At ends California has three who are the best in the West. Stephens and Berkey are slated to start, both All-Conference stars. "Brick" Muller will sit on the bench awaiting orders. He may play, probably will, but he will not be needed, and if Andy Smith sends him into action it will be in order to give Brick the personal satisfaction of having participated in the final collegiate contest of the year and to add points to the score.

Stanford Line Has Weight On the Bruins.

Taking the two lines that will probably oppose each other on the field of play it is to be seen that Stanford has the advantage in weight by a matter of a few pounds. Three men on the Stanford line tip the scales over 200 and one more sits on the bench, Bob Stice, who weigs 220. Truly the Stanford men are big men and as Enoch Bagshaw of Washington said, a good big team can beat a good little team. California is not little and the Bruin linemen, although outweighed, can be reckoned to give a good account of themselves. The day has passed when mere bulk in the line means anything. In modern football it is aggressiveness in the charge and follow up that counts. Boles Rosenthal has drilled the California linemen in this important feature of play so that the Bruins have been able to charge low and hard. They are expected to carry their heavier Stanford opponents back on the offense and will have a marked advantage on defense, for Stanford possesses a slow moving line that is easily checked after the first clash.

Bruins' Ends and Tackles Show Superiority.

California has a tremendous advantage at end. Berkey can be figured to play rings around Pershing. Pershing was a good tackle, but Van Gent made him over into an end and he has not been a success. Mertz is not a match for Stephens, who will outplay men several sizes larger and continue throughout the game at top speed. The Blue and Gold flanks are their strongest positions. Next in on the line comes the tackles, another position at which California has the edge in both cases. Stanford has a good player and a hard fighter in Harley Carter, but Ludeke is green and will be outplayed by Stan Barnes from the start. Dan McMillan an All-American second team star, is more than a match for Carter, although outweighed slightly. The center of the California line is not their strongest, but Cranmer is a three-year veteran and has an edge over Dick Faville, a newcomer in our midst who has made a good showing, but who is not up to All-Conference caliber as yet. Clark of California will be opposed by Red Betts, a veteran of 1919 and a clever guard. This will be the evenest position on the line.

Kicking Game Will Favor Blue and Gold.

Captain Latham is a three-year veteran for the Blue and Gold and is considered as one of the most accurate passers of the ball on the coast. Gains have been made over his position this year because of the weakness of Clark at times during the season when he was injured. Tomorrow Latham looks to be a match for big DeGroot, Stanford's best bet on the line at center. The kicking game will see Archie Nisbet, California's record breaking fullback, doing the honors at the start against Capt. Patrick, the Cardinal full, or Art Wilcox, halfback of Van Gent's team. Wilcox is the better punter of the two, but due to the fact that he will be busy in other departments, Patrick may do the booting. California will have the advantage on the exchange of kicks and this may be an important factor in deciding where the score rests at the close of the game.

Erb Stands Out As Best Quarterback.

There is no comparison between the two rival quarterbacks. Charlie Erb stands forth today as the greatest field general in the country and his great work has made California the championship eleven that she is. Erb is on the receiving end of many passes and is a demon on secondary defense. He will outplay Schlaudeman in handling the team and his strategy will give the Bruins the superiority that is claimed for them. Schlaudeman shows to advantage in a broken field and in returning punts. California's ends are expected to check him in the latter sport tomorrow. The halfback situation is Toomey and Nichols for California versus Doughty and Wilcox for Stanford. Toomey is the best halfback on the coast, a dogged line plunger, shifty in the broken field, a sure man in returning punts and an excellent drop kicker. His worth will show over Doughty, who is more or less of a "dark horse." Once past the line of scrimmage Doughty is dangerous. Toomey is always dangerous. Wilcox is the best Cardinal bet. He will account for more gains than any other man on the team tomorrow. His punting is a feature when the Cards are in the hole, averaging better than 40 yards. He is a dodging, whirling man, hard to down on end runs and is on the receiving end of many of Schlaudeman's forward passes for short gains that are turned into long runs in an instant. Wilcox is the man to be watched tomorrow. Nichols is the fleetest of California's backs, one who has risen from nowhere this year to be one of the stars of the coast. He has scored more touchdowns than any other man on the team and has, single handed, accounted for more than half of California's yardage from scrimmage, as well as having returned the punts the bulk of the distance.

Two Scores a Quarter Favor Bears 63-0.

There you have the personnel of the opposing teams. California is certain to outshine Stanford in eight positions unless injuries force regulars from the game in the early stages. After seeing what the second team did to Washington there is little cause for worry should the entire California team get crippled up, as far as the outcome is concerned. Stanford has an advantage at one halfback position to start and an even break at center and one guard position. It doesn't look to be enough. If California gets her offensive under way in the first quarter the score may mount to a figure close to that of last week. The Bears figure to average two touchdowns a quarter, which would bring them to 56. Allowing that they go better in the second and third quarters figure on three in each of them and allowing for a slow start one in the first period. That would bring it to 63-0. Stanford may surprise the world and hold it down. California may go score crazy and run it up. Who can tell—the answer lies beyond our reach, after the game is over tomorrow afternoon on Stanford field.

CALIFORNIA ROOTERS LOOKING FORWARD TO OVERWHELMING SCORE

Expect New High Score Record to Be Set in Annual Big Game With Stanford Tomorrow

By HERB. WINKLER.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 18.—After a victorious season, in which the Berkeley Bears have met and defeated the best teams in the west, the Blue and Gold will invade the Stanford campus tomorrow to stage the annual Big Game with Stanford university. The enthusiasm of former years has not been in evidence these last few days before the big contest on the California campus, evidently due to the fact that the vast majority of the Blue and Gold rooters take it as a matter of course that the Golden Grizzlies will trample on the Cardinal in another topheavy score that will make the annual clash devoid of interest. Just such an attitude has caused good teams in the past to go into a crucial contest with a spirit of over-confidence and no one realizes the danger of such a feeling more than does Andy Smith, California's chief coach.

Tomorrow afternoon there is more at stake than the mere honor of beating Stanford, which in itself is some performance. The championship title of the Pacific Coast Conference, and the entire West for that matter, hinges on the impending conflict, and in the past weeks of practice Andy Smith has been pointing his entire offensive strength directly at Van Gent's powerful Stanford team in the hope of being able to successfully trounce the Cardinal for the third straight time since the Stanford institution resumed relations after the return to the American game.

Bears May Set New High Score With "Brick" Muller.

Many look for a new Stanford-California high score record to be set in the contest tomorrow afternoon in the new Stanford stadium and secretly Andy Smith and the entire California team is hoping for that to happen. Last year California, with her so-called "wonder team" annexed the annual fray 38-0, thus setting the high water mark since Stanford and California first played football in 1892. There was, of course, the year 1918 in there in which the S. A. T. C. teams of the two institutions met, California winning 68-0, but that was not to be counted as a year of intercollegiate football and the men on that team did not have the year charged against them as inter-collegiate participation. This year California has high hopes of passing the top point and of winning from the Cards by at least a margin of 40 points. It seems quite probable that the Bears may be able to do it, for with "Brick" Muller back in the game once more, the California forward passing offensive will be loosed in its fullest strength against Van Gent's team and it will take a squad of super-men to fathom the varied attack that will be sent at Stanford.

California Superior On Straight Football.

Where California's strength and weakness lies may be seen at a glance at the table of statistics for the California season to date. It is seen that the Bears have rambled a little more than a mile from scrimmage, making close to 1900 yards on bucks and end runs against 150 odd by opposing teams. If the same ratio holds good tomorrow the Bruins may be expected to gain better than 3 to 1 through the Stanford line and this alone will carry the Golden Bears to at least four touchdowns. A score a quarter on straight football may easily be put over, but when one stops to think of the wide variety of plays that will be placed at the disposal of Charlie Erb, one cannot see how the Californians can be stopped short of the 49 mark. The difference in the scores may or may not be the exact total scored by California. In other words—Stanford may score. It is to be expected that Van Gent's team will put over a tally, probably in the early stages of the game, if at all.

Stanford Must Score Early If At All.

Should the toss allow Stanford to receive and should Nisbet kickoff as poorly as he did against Washington last Saturday the Cardinal would have the ball in mid field and would be in a position to open up a volley of forward passes that might catch the Bears off balance for a sufficient period of time to get the first score. California's defense is good, better than the Stanford defense, but the Bruins have shown a certain inability to break up forward passes on the part of opponents that has allowed opposing teams to gain nearly as much ground from completed forward passes as the Blue and Gold have gained themselves. The one danger in the forward passing game lies in interception and in this respect California's aerial game has been more successful than that of any other team seen in action this year. The long forward pass is as good as a punt and with Muller throwing, the Bruins would gain practically the entire distance of the heave so that it would have defensive as well as offensive value. California's lateral pass, as seen in the Washington game, is almost impossible to intercept, for the receiver is protected by two-man interference and the gain is usually from 10 to 20 yards.

Art Wilcox Is the Big Stanford Hope.

Stanford's passing game involves three men, Wilcox, Schlaudeman and Mertz. Van Gent may have cooked up additional plays for these three and may have foxy stuff as well, but the most remarkable is the combination Schlaudeman to Wilcox. The play may be run either as a forward pass or an end run and if properly executed, may account for a Stanford score. In punting Stanford will rely on the booting ability of Wilcox and Patrick. Neither is in the same class with either Nisbet or Morrison and should California elect to play a cautious kicking game at the start of the game, play would be confined entirely to the Stanford end of the lot. Nisbet has maintained a season average on punts of better than 38 yards on a total of 78 punts. Considering that a large number of these were quick kicks, intended for but gains of 30 yards, and considering also, that several punts having gone out of bounds, the average is remarkable. The Oregon game, on a wet field, should have cut the average down farther than it did, but the California fullback made good against the Oregonians just as he has in all games to date.

Blue and Gold Rooters Foresee Easy Victory.

Californians can see but one thing in tomorrow's contest. They believe that the Blue and Gold is superior to the Cardinal in every department of the game and that it is a mere matter of form to go down to Stanford and play the game. Those who have followed California-Stanford contests for any length of time will remember that the boys from "down on the farm" always have the faculty of fighting harder against California than any other team. The 1919 game should have taught the California boosters the danger of overconfidence, but it has evidently not taken hold of the present generation. California may win by 49 points, but if they do the California team will have put over a wonderful victory and the Cardinal will be ready to acclaim the Bears as the recognized champions of the West, something that they are not ready to do before the final gun is fired.

DO MEN KNOW HOW TO WEAR COLLARS?

Local Haberdasher Says A Collar School for Men Should Be Established

A western business man claims that not one man in a hundred knows how to properly surround his neck with a collar. He claims that a pique soft collar is the only sensible, dressy, and comfortable type to wear—and that every man should buy collars a quarter to a half size larger than the shirt he wears.

The short-necked man should avoid anything but extra low collars, and the long-necked individual should not wear a collar that is too high. If the collar is too tight it wrinkles and "breaks down." If it is too large it looks sloppy and without style.

He recommends the Grayco soft collar for general wear because it is made from high grade pique, comes in six different patterns and there is a size and style for every neck.

VALUE OF STATISTICS IN FOOTBALL TOLD BY EXPERT STATISTICIAN

California's Accomplishments For Season Up To Stanford Game Shown in Figures.

By NORMAN C. RAAB

The value of statistics in following the play in a modern football game can be clearly seen when one desires to know the exact comparative strength of two rival teams. Statistics show at a glance in what departments of the game a team has the advantage and by closely analyzing statistics of a football game the average fan is able to tell just why a game was won or lost. This is important, for in many cases where dope is upset it is impossible from reading a play by play description of the contest to tell just where one team has the advantage over the other. A glance at the table of compiled statistics for the California team in all games to date for the season tells exactly where Andy Smith's team has won and why—shows how the Bears were able to gain touchdowns where their opponents, who in many cases were formidable teams, lost the advantage and went down to defeat.

Analysing California's play in the eight games to date it is to be seen that the Bruins have outplayed their opponents in every quarter on advancing the ball from the line of scrimmage by means of end runs and line plays. The second period of play has found the Bears ready to tear their way through for the greatest amount of yardage and in the third quarter the California defense has been the strongest. It has been the policy to make use of substitutes to a greater extent in the fourth quarter than any other and it is here that the opposing teams have made their great gains. California's total gained from scrimmage is better than two to one over all opposing teams and this ratio may be expected to be forthcoming tomorrow afternoon against Stanford, whose line is considerably weaker than that of the Pacific Fleet, Washington State, the Olympic club, and U. S. C. teams through which California has gained consistently.

California Was Slow in Using the Passing Game.

The forward passing game has not netted the Blue and Gold the great amount of yardage that one might be lead to expect, but when one considers that in the first four games California attempted very few passes the aerial attack having been perfected for the Washington State and Southern California games, this is not surprising. All other teams have come to meet the Bears with their passing game perfected but on the net gain from passes attempted California has made 7.2 yards per pass, as against 5.5 yards for opposing teams, California having thrown 49 passes, as against 61. California has had but five passes intercepted, while the Bears have pulled in ten of their opponent's passes. It has been California's rushing tactics that have hurried opposing passers and forced them to hurry their throws that has spoiled many a perfect formation.

Kicking Game Is the Greatest Asset of Bears.

Probably the most valuable asset the Bears possess is their kicking game. Nisbet and Morrison are experts at executing the famous quick kick, and it is a most dangerous weapon in the hands of these two fullbacks. California has made a total of 78 punts during the season for a total yardage from scrimmage of 2929 yards. This has brought the Bruins an average of 37.6 yards per kick, and inasmuch as the California ends have been down under nearly every kick, the net gain per punt for the Blue and Gold has been 36.5 yards. California's opponents have not been so fortunate in their application of the kicking game. Washington probably made the best use of it of any team that the Bears have opposed this year, Wilson's kicks gaining considerable yardage. Opposing teams have punted for a total yardage of 2867 yards on 95 punts, seven of which were blocked by California's ends and tackles. The average gain on punts was 30.2 per kick, which the California backs reduced on an average of 6 yards per punt by returning, leaving a net gain of 24.2 yards. This gave California a net gain for the season to date of 548 yards on exchange of punts, more than five lengths of the field. A vast superiority to say the least.

Bears Have Made Their Downs Count.

Furthermore, the Bears have displayed a knack of making every yard count when they were on a drive for a touchdown. By keeping the ball in the territory of their opponents by scientific use of the kicking game, the Bears have awaited the breaks and have taken advantage of them to make their first downs count. California gained 113 first downs as against 55 for opposing teams. From these California has made 38 touchdowns, or a score of every three first downs made. Opposing teams have registered but three touchdowns on 55 first downs, one tally to each 18 downs that came as a result of hard work in their own territory or mid field. In so doing they failed to gain from scrimmage on 84 occasions, while the Blue and Gold were checked but 52 times, showing California's greater defensive strength in resisting line plays.

Fumbles have been about even, the Bears making 25 and their opponents 27 for the season. But the Bears have been following the ball more closely, as is shown by the fact that they have recovered the ball on 19 occasions losing possession of it through their own misplays but 6 times, while their opponents gave California the advantage 11 times by fumbling and losing possession, in nearly every instance in a position where the Bears were ready to start a telling drive. Penalties for the year were very even, California having suffered 25 times for infractions of the rules, while their opponents were penalized 38 times or a loss of 237 yards. California lost but 225 yards by violations of the football code. This dope will run fairly accurate in the contest tomorrow and fans who follow the machine-like operations of the two opposing teams will find that the results, when tabulated, will not vary greatly from the table shown.

HISTORY OF STADIUM DEDICATED TOMORROW

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—Two years ago 20,000 people witnessed the Stanford-California football game.

Last year about 30,000 people saw the game.

This year 60,000 people will see the annual Stanford-California struggle, in the Stanford stadium at Stanford University.

Stanford's stadium is second only to the Harvard bowl, which seats 77,000.

The first plans for the stadium were formulated at a big luncheon of the alumni at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco in December. Following the alumni's action the board of athletic control met and sanctioned the plans of the project. A special engineering commission, consisting of Professors C. B. Wing, C. D. Marx and W. F. Durand of the Stanford faculty drew the plans. These men have by various methods reduced the cost of the stadium far below the first estimate, which was $750,000. In accordance with their advice, wooden seats have been substituted for the original proposal of concrete. It is this feature which makes it possible to have the stadium ready for use at the game next Saturday, instead of the year after, as was first contemplated.

GROUND BROKEN IN JUNE

Ground-breaking exercises were held on June 1, 1921, and with President Ray Lyman Wilbur turning the first spadeful of earth the construction was officially begun.

Huge steam-shovels were set to work scooping up mouthfuls of dirt, and after three months they had eaten a hole twenty-three feet beneath the former surface of the ground.

Then large scrapers were used and the height of the top embankment forced thirty-six feet above the present slope; this leveled off and the seats laid.

Finally shrubbery and small trees were planted on the sides, and the turf sown. All that now remained to be done was the tagging of the seats and small places here and there to be leveled.

Now, after four and one-half months of intensive work, Stanford has a place where athletic contests may be held with room for everybody to witness them.

Shirley Baker, '95, and Edward E. Carpenter, '98, composed the engineering firm. They were the engineers in charge of the construction of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Under the direction of these men, Palmer & McBride, the biggest firm of dirt removers in the West, excavated 230,000 yards of earth to form the bowl. They are the builders of the Western Pacific Railroad.

THE DIMENSIONS.

Type, sunken; horseshoe in shape.

Depth of playing field below present surface, 23 feet.

Height of top of embankment above present slope, 36 feet.

Length of oval at surface of field, 562 feet.

Width of track, 15 feet.

Width of straightaway, 30 feet.

Distance of highest seat from center of field: Sides, 172 feet; ends, 285 feet.

Distance of highest seat form center of field: Sides, 303 feet; ends, 415 feet.

Width of esplanade at top, 15 feet; outside, 12 feet clear.

Slope of seats, 8 inches to 13 inches rise in 2 feet.

Slope of present bleachers, 14 inches rise in 2 feet.

Slope of outside embankment, 2 feet horizontal to 1 foot vertical.

Seats spaced 2 feet apart.

Width of aisle, 4 feet.

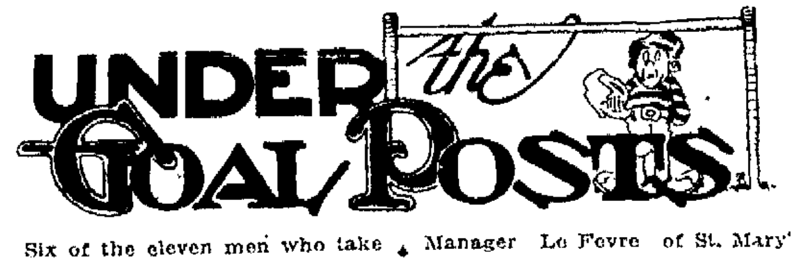
Yale Is Favorite To Defeat Harvard In Game Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—After getting nothing but the razz for five or six years, Yale cannot be blamed for going crazy about her football eleven.

The Bulldogs, perhaps, will be a two to one favorite over the Crimson before their annual classic Saturday.

If Yale wins, a clean title to the 'big three championship will be established for the first time in three years. But with such teams as Penn State, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson running around wild, that amounts to little.

If Yale wins over Harvard, it is understood that team will be invited to meet California and the invitation probably will be accepted.



Six of the eleven men who take the field against Stanford tomorrow under the Blue and Gold colors will be playing their last game against the Cardinals. Five linemen, Stephens, Barnes, Cranmer, Latham and McMillan, are in their last year and Crip Toomey, star halfback, is finishing his collegiate career. Two other Bruins, not slated to start, are in their last season. Dutch Eells, the hard-luck player of the West, injured for three years running, is hopelessly out of it but Charley Toney, one of the brainiest football players on the squad, light for guard, may be given a chance.

The fact that "Brick" Muller has not been announced to start is not worrying anyone. Muller will be seen in action when the psychological moment arrives and the big end, fully recovered, will be more dangerous than ever.

Oh, the life of a Graduate Manager. We tried to call Graduate Manager Le Fevre of St. Mary's College to confirm or deny the rumor that St. Mary's was due to play Centre College in San Francisco in a post season game. We received the reply over the phone that Mr. Le Fevre was asleep and had given orders not to be disturbed, but that he would call us later. That was at 8:30 a. m.

A last minute switch in line-up added several pounds to the Stanford line and sent the team average up at least one pound per man. Big Joe Douglas was announced at guard in place of Betts. Douglas makes the fourth man on the Cardinal line tipping the beam at 200 or better. If brain and brawn don't go together Stanford won't be able to figure what it's all about till it is all over.

After watching the Stanford team play Nevada a good story came out. It seems that every time a play was directed through the Stanford line the Cardinal linemen were playing straight up, and the play went right through them. One who knew football watched the performance for a while and then remarked: "Wouldn't those Stanford linemen make wonderful Traffic Cops?" Now the Bears claim that they are going down to play with the traffic cops tomorrow at Stanford.

Coaches and Captains Are Optimistic

By Coach Andy Smith.

May the best team win and no the California team is the best alibis afterwards. I believe that group of players, mentally and physically, I have ever coached, and I know they are fighters.

By Asst. Coach Rosenthal.

I don't care to make any advance statement. I will let the actions of the California line speak for themselves tomorrow.

By Asst. Coach Price.

We are very glad that Stanford has built a nice, new stadium for us to go down and win in and California is ready to take the major part in the christening.

By Capt. George Latham.

The Stanford fight is all the bunk. California is going down to beat the Stanford team in their new field, tradition or no tradition, and we are going to win.

Coach Gene Van Gent.

Our aim and purpose is to win Saturday. The men and coaches are directing every effort to accomplish this result.

Captain Jack Patrick.

The men realize fully the power of the California team, and we expect to put up a harder battle than anyone thinks us capable of.

"Dink" Templeton.

The boys are going to play a better game than at any time this year.

Apology Sent For Painting Of the Big 'C'

If Stanford Did It and Got Away With It, Why Not Claim the Honor?

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—The sophomore class stood guard at the Stanford stadium last night. Following the painting of the big "C" with the Cardinal colors the other night, Stanford rooters are fearful of a Blue and Gold invasion of the campus for the purpose of smearing some paint on the new stadium. As a result guards were posted around the Stanford quad as well as around the stadium. Tonight the junior class will guard the structure.

Stanford students deplored the painting of the big "C." There is an agreement between the two universities which provides that there shall be no invasion of either campus by groups of students.

Precautions were taken here this year to see that Stanford kept its part of the agreement. Letters were sent all the members of the freshman class informing them of the agreement and stating that punishment would be meted out by the men's council if there was any violation.

President D. W. Evans of the Stanford Associated Students today sent the following letter to W. L. Tenney, president of the University of California student body, concerning the affair:

GREAT INDIGNATION.

"It is with a feeling of great indignation that we note that vandals have painted your big "C" with our colors. If this were done by Stanford men it would be a breach of the agreement entered into with respect to invasions of rival campuses, and as such would deeply shock both universities.

"Due to the measures we have taken here to bring this agreement before the minds of all the students we cannot help but feel that this is the work of some irresponsibles unconnected with Stanford. If, however, we should find that it was done by Stanford men we will spare no efforts to discover the guilty parties and prosecute them to the limit.

"We ask your earnest co-operation in this, and would appreciate any information that you can send us."

California Coffin Burned by Cardinal; Boys Hold Big Rally

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—The annual big game football rally was held in the Stanford assembly hall last night. Coach Gene Van Gent, Assistant Coach Joe Fitzgerald, Captain Jack Patrick, Charles K. Field and Leland Cutler were the speakers at the gathering, which cheered the team on to victory.

As the seniors and holdovers were busy guarding the bonfire during the rally and the sophomores were detailed to protect the stadium and other parts of the campus from a possible Bruin invasion last night, only the freshmen and juniors were free to attend the rally. In spite of this there was a crowd on hand that filled the hall to overflowing.

Van Gent, Fitzgerald and Patrick all assured the students that Stanford would fight not to hold down the score, but to come through with a victory tomorrow. They all declared that they were fully aware of the strength of the Bruins, but this was only going to make the team fight harder.

ARMY VS. MULTNOMAH.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 18. — Players of the ninth army corps football team arrived here last night for the game here Saturday with Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. Multnomah Club, with the best team it has had in years, is looking forward to a hard battle.

STANFORD, IN AND OUT TEAM, EXPECTED TO BE AT ITS BEST TOMORROW

Abundnce of Weight in Line Give Cardinal a Fighting Chance Against the Bears.

Follow TRIBUNE Signs To the Football Game

Follow The TRIBUNE red arrows to the big game tomorrow!

From the Municipal Auditorium in Oakland to the parking station near the Stanford stadium, assigned to autoists approaching from the south, The TRIBUNE will post red arrow signs along the boulevards and highways so that persons making the trip will not congest traffic searching for the right roads.

The red arrow signs will be placed in all of the cities through which the autoists will pass, even through San Jose, near the stadium, where a large parking space has been assigned for Eastbay residents and others on the continental side of the bay, The TRIBUNE red arrows will point the way to the correct location, saving congestion as the traffic grows heavier near the site for the big game.

Follow The TRIBUNE arrows—they will point the way!

Maps of the route to the field of action have been prepared by The TRIBUNE are being distributed at the San Pablo avenue branch.

By S. N. PIERCE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 18.—Everything is set for the big game kickoff at 2:45 in the Stanford Stadium tomorrow afternoon. After a week of secret practice Coach Gene Van Gent and his staff of assistants should have the Stanford varsity in fine shape for tomorrow's gridiron classic. Every member of the team is in good shape and the Cardinal lineup should be stronger than it has been at any time this season.

Every detail connected with the preparation for the game has been taken care of. The grass, which was planted on the playing field about a month ago and over which there has been much anxiety, has come through in fine shape and has made an excellent turf for the game. Those in charge of the stadium are glad that they followed their decision to plant grass rather than transport the turf from another part of the campus.

During the past week a gigantic scoreboard has been installed at the open end of the stadium and flag poles have been planted about the esplanade at the top.

The campus is spick and span. For the past two weeks a force of Comptroller A. E. Roth's workmen have been cleaning up every nook and corner of the grounds. Stanford is determined that its 60,000 visitors shall see it at its best tomorrow.

Stanford Hopes to Repeat Victory of 16 Years Ago.

As for the football contest itself. Will it be like those great battles that have marked Stanford-California clashes in the past? In spite of the fact that Stanford appears to be outclassed it should. Doposters overlook the fact that Stanford teams alway put up a much better battle against the Bruins than they do against any other team. Added to this is the fact that tomorrow's game dedicates the new stadium and the Cardinal boys want to do up that dedication right with a victory over the Blue and Gold, just as their predecessors did sixteen years ago in their initial game on the old field. These are the things that are going to make tomorrow's scrap well worth coming a long way to see, in addition to the fact that an enormous crowd is going to make a great spectacle in itself.

Cardinal Is An In-and-Out Team.

Furthermore Stanford has shown this season that it can play football. At times the eleven has appeared much stronger than the 1920 team. For instance, the day the Cardinal clashed with the Oregon Aggies the team looked like the goods. If the men come through tomorrow like they did that day the score should be considerably different than a lot of people think.

On the other hand, if the team plays like it did against Nevada last Saturday, or performs like it did in some of the early season contests, then it is likely to be a slaughter.

There has been something about Gene Van Gent's attitude the last week that gives one the impression that he may have a few cards up his sleeve which he won't be ready to disclose until shortly after 2:45 tomorrow afternoon.

As for Captain Jack Patrick, he has been confident from the start that his team will be returned the victor. Jack declares that he and his team mates realize the strength of the Bruins, but they are prepared to give them a battle few people have imagined the Stanford team capable of.

Jack has lots of ability as a football player with which to back up his air of confidence. Patrick is a great line plunger. His kicking has greatly improved this season under the direction of "Dink" Templeton.

Card Backs Stronger Than Their Line.

Stanford will go into the battle with a stronger backfield than line. Bob Shlaudeman, the regular quarter-back, is the hardiest man on the team. He can stand more wear and tear than any two other men on the team. Shlaudeman demonstrated his ability in running back punts in the game with the Sun Dodgers. He is also adept at hurling forward passes.

In "Art" Wilcox and Ray Doughty Stanford has two great halfbacks. Wilcox, who was captain of the 1920 varsity, was the star of the Stanford offensive in the Oregon Aggies game. The coach kept him out of the fray last week and he is in fine shape for tomorrow's battle.

Doughty is playing his first year at Stanford. His long runs have been features of the preliminary games. It was Doughty's 30-yard run in the Nevada game last Saturday that led to the second Stanford touchdown. Once he gets away he is a hard man to stop.

The line has lacked the punch all season. Right now the Cardinal seems to be the weakest at the two end stations. "Shorty" Mertz, at left end, has been the best looking end the team has had this season. However, he let "Rabbit" Bradshaw get by him and go sixty yards to a touchdown last Saturday. But the Nevada quarter-back is apt to do that to any end.

At right end there are several possibilities for tomorrow's contest. Dick Pershing is slated to start there, but it is by no means certain. Pershing demonstrated in the early season contests that he is a much better tackle than he is an end. "Kewpie" Sproull will be available to play here, but it is doubtful whether the coach will risk using a man who has just had the cast removed from a broken wrist.

Big Men From Tackle to Tackle.

Stanford is fortified with two good tackles. Harley Carter, at left tackle, has been one of the most consistent players in the Cardinal line this season. He is a great fighter. In the Oregon Aggie game, although badly injured, he refused to be removed from the game until Stanford had clinched the victory.

Fred Ludeke, the other tackle, is also a great line man. He has played at center and at guard and plays equally well in any of these stations. Both Carter and Ludeke weigh in around the two hundred mark.

The guards in tomorrow's game will be chosen from "Red" Betts, Dick Faville, Joe Douglas and "Scotchy" Campbell. Betts is the veteran of this trio, having played on the 1919 varsity. His playing was of a high order in the game with the University of Washington.

Faville will start the game, but whether it will be as a guard or at end is an open question. Some Cardinal supporters believe that Coach Van Gent will spring a surprise and shift him to end. Joe Douglas played guard last week. He is a big fellow, weighing over two hundred, and the coach may elect to use him for this reason. "Scotchy" Campbell has proved to be a valuable man on the defense whenever he has started and he should get into the battle at some stage of the game tomorrow.

Dudley De Groot will play center. De Groot has held down this job most of the season and he does his work well. He is another two hundred pounder.

CLASS A MANAGERS OF TRIBUNE LEAGUE MEET TONIGHT

BASEBALL FANS ARE DUE TO WITNESS GREAT BUSH GAMES; 'A' TEAMS END FIRST HALF OF RACE

Managers of Class A Clubs Gather Tonight

Allendale Protest and Other Important Matters to Be Acted On.

The first meeting of the Class A managers of The Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter League since the opening of the season will be held tonight at The TRIBUNE building, and while George Hans, chairman of the advisory board, and Fred L. Krumb say they have several matters of importance to take up with the managers, there is nothing that is going to cause any of the club leaders to leave the meeting dissatisfied. At least that is what George and Fred say. Whatever George and Fred have done in the past has always been for the good of the league and the amateur players. Maybe they have some dope on some players who are not eligible to be in the league, and then again it may be something altogether different, but whatever they have, they say it is going to be of interest to every manager, and is going to help in keeping the rules of the league lived up to. They are also desirous of having a meeting with the umpires of both the Class A and B leagues, so every manager who cares to attend the meeting will be welcome.

Every Sunday since the opening of the season has seen Fred and George out to one or more games, so they have a pretty good idea of what is going on. Of course the meeting will not be complete without Lou Kennedy and William (Doc) Moskiman, other members of the board of directors, so they will be on the job. Lou is scouting for young ball players, and, like Krumb and Hans, he has been out to games practically every Sunday.

The protest filed by the Allendale Merchants, following their game with the Poplar Candy last Sunday, will also be acted on. There are a few Class B protests on file, and if there is time, Chairman George Hans will bring them before his board.

Tonight's meeting is for the Class A managers and captains, the umpires and those involved in the trouble at Alberger Field last Sunday, which resulted in the Allendale Merchants filing their protest. Manager Frank Smith, Jimmy Foster, Captain Ed. Mattos, and possibly Jack Foster of the Allendale Club are expected to appear before the advisory board on business concerning the protest. The meeting will take place at 7:30 sharp in the big hall on the roof of The TRIBUNE building. Entrance to the meeting will be gained on the Franklin street side of the building. Remember it starts at 7:30 sharp, and only managers and captains of Class A teams and all umpires will be permitted to attend.

Pleasanton Jockey Club Announces Auto Races Thanksgiving

The Pleasanton Jocky Club will be the scene of some classy races on Thanksgiving Day, when many of the speed demons of the coast will assemble to take part in four auto races that will be the best seen in this section for the past several months. The fast dirt tracks will allow the assembled speed drivers to set up fast times over the four distances to be competed. Races of 5, 10, 20 and 25 miles will be on the Thanksgiving Day card and Red Murray, well known racing driver of the coast, has signified his intention of being on hand to take part.

Auto racing in this section is coming along fast, for with the Cotati track and the Pleasanton speedway staging events in which the best drivers in the West are taking part, and with the new San Carlos speedway in San Francisco under course of construction, auto racing fanss may look forward to many thrilling exhibitions of dare-deviltry in the months after the first of the year.

New Federation Will Hold a Meeting Here Tonight

The Bay Cities' Athletic Federation will hold its second important meeting tonight at the Hotel Oakland where definite plans will be discussed for the coming months of amateur sports in the bay region. Representatives from all the Industrial teams, Retailers' League, Bankers' Institute teams and Y. M. C. A.'s will be present and any other bodies caring to affiliate with the new Federation are urged to have representatives present at the meting tonight at eight o'clock.

Eastbay Coaches And Officials to Meet

The first meeting of the 1921-22 season of the Eastbay Coaches and Officials' Association will be held next Tuesday evening, November 22, at the store of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., on Fourteenth street. L. D. Emmel, head of the local branch of that firm, will be in charge and plans for the coming basketball season will be drawn up. The entries for The TRIBUNE basketball league close next week with W. A. Kearns at the Oakland Y. M. C. A. A large entry list is already in and managers, desiring to have teams in the largest league of its kind on this side of the bay are urged to hurry along their entry.

Chaney and Dundee Will Tangle Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The junior lightweight boxing championship, a new fistic class for pugilists of 130 pounds, will be launched tonight in Madison Square garden, with Johnny Dundee of New York and George Chaney of Baltimore as contestants for 15 rounds. A jeweled belt will be presented to the winner by Tex Rickard.

WELL BALANCED CLUBS PRODUCE BEST BRAND OF BALL FOR THE FANS

With Professionals Barred, Youngsters Are Putting Up Great Fights for Pennants

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The races in The Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter League will reach the half way mark with the playing of the games next Sunday afternoon and of the fifty-two clubs listed in the league, only one club has failed to break into the win column. That club is the Imperials in the Class C League, but nobody is ever going to rule the youngsters off for not trying. In fact no club in The Oakland TRIBUNE League can be ruled off for that reason, and fans all over the country are saying that The Oakland TRIBUNE League is dishing up the best baseball of any league about the bay. A peep at the scores each Monday following the games explains why The Oakland TRIBUNE League is considered the best around the bay. In every division, the teams appear to be well balanced, and as a result there are few one-sided scores to be found.

A baseball fan is a funny individual. Although he wants to see his favorite team cop a victory, he will go home kicking if his team should win by a one-sided score. The games where both clubs have a chance, and which keeps one guessing almost until the final inning is the kind the real baseball fan wants. Those are the kind that are dished out in almost every meeting of teams in The TRIBUNE League each Sunday. A league race becomes too one-sided when there are a couple of clubs in it that appear to have the bunting cinched before the race is half over. Of course, a few one-sided games have been played in The TRIBUNE league, but not enough to permit the fan to go out and say the team on the short end of those scores are to be counted out of the running. Take for example, the Calatone-Allendale game of a couple of weeks ago. The Allendales walked all over the Calatones, but the Calatones beat the team that made the Allendale gang fight to the last. Yes, fans, The TRIBUNE league as an amateur organization is as well a balanced one as has ever been organized, and proves that the best baseball is given the fans when the professionals and amateurs are not mixed with each other.

Whelans Will Use New Chucker Against Natives.

A triple tie for the first place features the race for the honors in the American Division of the Class A League, while in the National Division of the same league, the Whelan Markets lead the procession to pennantville, with three teams running neck and neck in second place.

Unless the Oakland Natives, No. 50, can take the Whelans into camp at the Oakland Coast League Park next Sunday afternoon, the Market boys will never be stopped from copping the bunting, so claim Frank McCormack and Danny Whelan, the leaders of the Whelan Club. With the exception of the Alameda Club and the Oakland Natives, the Whelans have knocked past every other club in their division. They went down to a defeat before the Alamedans in a tough struggle, and it now remains to be seen what their fate will be with the Oakland Natives. With the game booked at the Coast League Park, where there will be seats for everybody, and no chance of a repetition of what happened at Alberger Field last Sunday, managers of both teams predict that their boys will play before the largest crowd to witness any game in the league this season. If the Natives win, it will mean the teams are again tied for first place, and a possibility of four clubs geing tied for that position. Gene Van Houtte will heave for the Natives, while Captain Eddie Ratner of the Whelans has advised Danny Whelan and Frank McCormack to start "Lefty" Hobson in the box. Hobson is an Oakland boy who has been pitching up around Napa, and is thought a great deal of by Ratner and his teammates.

Durants Promising Trouble To the Melrose Merchants.

The Natives have every other club in their division tooting for them to put over a win. The race has reached the stage where the managers are on pins and needles. Paul Edstrom, manager of the Melrose Merchants, saw his athletes go down to their second defeat at the hands of the Alameda Club last Sunday, and Paul is not any enthusiastic about having to lead his crew against the Durant Motors at the Melrose diamond next Sunday afternoon. Fans will have to hand it to Paul for taking his defeat last Sunday like a real sport. Following the game, Paul had a lot of nice remarks to make about the good umpiring of Walter Agnew, who made his debut in the league by umpiring the Alameda Club-Melrose Merchant game. Although he is going around with his eye all plastered up as a result of being beaned last Sunday, Ed. Vitt, manager of the Durant Motors is going to lead his club against the Merchants, and promises to give Paul Edstrom's boys a hot tussle. Babe Keller, who pitched such a beautiful game last Sunday, will most likely work for the Durants, with Dick Arlett doing the honors for the Melrose boys.

Look out for the Lee Bertillion Hatters now that they have found their way into the win column after a lot of hard luck. The Hatters did the trick last Sunday by beating the Oakland Natives, which is a victory that any ball club in the bushers can be proud of. Next Sunday the Hatters will meet the Maxwell Hardware at the Fitchburg diamond, Sixty-ninth avenue and East Fourteenth street.

The win column shows where Frank Dreisbach's Zenith Mill and Lumber nine won but one game, but like the Lee Bertillion Hatters, the Millers have nothing to be ashamed of, for they have been playing rattling good ball all season, and are certain to give the Alameda Club a merry battle at Washington Park in West Alameda next Sunday. Harry Bray, who pitched the great twelve-inning game for them last Sunday, will be in the box against Tommy Hammond.

Tight Games Are Promised In the American Division.

Berkeley baseball fans will get their first peek at the Poplar Candy nine, and the chances are that the university city fans will be out to San Pablo playgrounds by the thousands, as the chances of their team, the Calatone Water, remaining at the top depends upon the result of this game. They will also get their first chance to see Bill Plummer on the hill for the Kandy Kids. Earl Jones and "Chic" Hafey will work for the Calatones. With the two teams tied for first place, they should put up a good contest.

The Mel Anderson Clothiers have been coming along strong since Mel Anderson has decided to get out on the field himself and urge the boys along. Mel's only regret is that he did not sign a contract himself, so he would be eligible to get on the coaching lines. Only a game keeps his Clothiers from the lead, so you can bet that they are going to show a lot of fight when they meet the Allendale Merchants at Allendale Playground. "Lefty" Sprinkle will be on the hill for the Clothiers, with Bobby Foster working for the Allendales.

The Del Monte Packers, No. 6, pulled through with a victory over the Kohler and Chase at Durant Field last Sunday, so they are tied with the Clothiers in the race to catch up with the leaders. The Del Monte had a tough time of it at Durant last Sunday, because the field was very dusty. Some of the boys objected to playing there again, but men will be busy today and tomorrow putting the infield in first-class shape for the game, and it is hoped that there will not be a could of dust when the boys slide into the bags. The failure of any rain to fall has left the soil very loose and dusty, but the good soaking and rolling today and tomorrow will eliminate that trouble. Sunday the Packers will meet the Fruitvale N. S. G. W. Jack Wade or McCarthy will pitch for the Natives, while Ezettis and Mervin Shea will do the honors for the Packers.

At Alberger Field, at 12:30, the Clement Drug nine, which is in a triple tie with the Del Montes and Andersons, will meet the Kohler and Chase nine. Fans will have time to take in this game and then witness the clash between the Whelans and Natives at the Coast League Park.

BOXING CHATTER

By BOB SHAND.

William Bernheim, manager of Eddie Landon, writes a long letter explaining why Eddie did not lick Henry Borba the other night and resenting rumors that Landon did not try his best. According to the manager, Landon simply had an off night, just like Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard and other boxers of Eddie's class occasionally have. He wants to box Herrera and O'Hara again and then meet Borba.

Which is plenty fair enough, but Mr. Landon is going to have an "off night" every time he meets a boxer who will wallop him in the pantry. Landon never won a fight in his life against a boy who aimed for the galley and it is unlikely that he ever will. Against the Herreras and O'Haras and that kind he makes a better showing because they stand off and box him, but Eddie never did like to do business against the rushing gents. Wednesday night Landon did well enough until Borba shot two hard rights to the stomach and Edward spent the rest of the evening protecting his mid-section. When he did stick out his left hand it was simply in self-protection, for he was half turned around and in no position to hit solidly.

Outside of that there was nothing the matter with the contest. Borba was trying his best, but Henry will have to go back to the ranch and take a long rest before he regains his old form. He had too many fights and needs to get fat and then train it off. But Borba was trying every minute against Landon and Landon was also trying—to protect his stomach. Allegations of crookedness are foolish.

In the meantime, while Eddie is worrying about his stomach, maybe Manager Bernheim will study the methods of John Burdick and other experienced handlers of boxers. A lot of noise in the corner never wins a fight in this man's town and "spinning" tactics are not popular.

Jim Bauer, the heavyweight who boxes across the bay tonight, has been "discovered." The mysterious gent had his picture in the paper yesterday and the boys down at the Point immediately recognized him as Frank Corkey, who used to work in a Hayward cannery and who was stopped by Jim Barry at the local auditorium in the third round. Al Wainright was first to note the resemblance and then Harold Broom got wise. Tommy Simpson dug into the files and got the real dope on the "Mystery." When he boxed here he said he had met Jess Willard in 1911. The referee had to pry Barry off the old timer in the third round.

There will be no boxing show at the auditorium next week, as a lot of hens and roosters and ducks and things have secured the building.

Sailor Bert Faunce was a bit bewildered by the bright lights and the big crowds Wednesday and he wants another chance to show what he can do. The big gob is a good sport and he looked good until Gibbons pulled that uppercut. He had no excuses outside of the "big crowd" and he admits that Gibbons is some puncher.

The defeat of Boy McCormick by Kid Ted Lewis in London last night was quite a surprise to local boxing fans. McCormick looked the classiest light-heavyweight in the country when he was boxing here and his showing against Sailor Petroskey at Mare Island two years ago was one of the greatest exhibitions of boxing skill ever seen in this section. And to think that Lewis, who was a welterweight a year ago, beat up McCormick so badly that the referee had to stop the fight in the fourteenth round! The red-haired Irishman must have gone back fast.

BUSHERS OWN CORNER

Because of the big game at the levee and the St. Joseph's Sodality will meet the K. C. at Lazear playground, it has been decided that enough Class B attractions will be on for the bush fans about Fruitvale and Twenty-third avenue, so the game scheduled between the Delphi and Oakland Sciots, at Fruitvale depot, for the afternoon, has been switched to Bushrod playground for 1:30 p. m. George West, for the Delphis, and Billy Hurll, for the Sciots, will be the chuckers.

The main event in the Class C league will be at Hawthorne playground in the morning at 10:30, when the Imperi club and Kirshner Shoe Cubs will meet.

There will be two other Class C games. The Oakland Cubs meet the Archie Cigars at Melrose in the morning and the Merritt club meets the Golden Gate Merchants at Golden Gate playground at 1:30 p. m.

As there will not be any Class B game played at Fruitvale Depot grounds Sunday afternoon the Lloyd Repairers of Elmhurst and the Imperials will meet at that diamond at 2:15 sharp. Lloyd Hughes, manager of the St. Joseph's Sodality team, has promised that the diamond will be in first-class shape for the youngsters to play on. The game was originally scheduled at Sixty-ninth avenue for the morning.

The Class B fans are looking for many close games to be played by the boys in the Juniors divisions of the league. With a triple tie in two other Class B divisions, fans are showing more interest than they did even at the start of the season. The big game next Sunday will be at the Twenty-third Avenue levee, where the Hayward N. S. G. W. and Twenty-third Avenue Merchants will tangle. The teams are tied with the Niles Victory Motors for first place in the California division. Because the Motor boys have a big following and will meet a very hard team in the Telegraph Avenue Merchants, their game will be played at Bushrod playground in the morning at 11:30 a. m. The Alameda West End Merchants, who tied with the Florio & Figone and Thrasher Parks in the Eastern division, will meet the S. F. Emporium at Washington park in Alameda, while the Thrasher Parks will meet the Key Systems at Alberger field, at 2:15, and the Florio & Figones will meet the Lee Bertillion Juniors at Durant field at 10:30 a. m.

Harry Klein, who cavorts around first base for the Alameda West End Merchants, augmented his supply of socks last Sunday morning at Washington park for getting a double and two singles out of five times at bat, said socks being offered as a prize by Joe Brown, Webster street merchant. As no home runs were made, the prize went to the first player making the most hits.

FOOTBALL FANS LOOK!

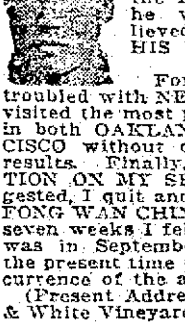
Spent Over $3500 With Doctors and Got No Relief



So declared Mr. R. Lewis, formerly proprietor of the large jewelry store at Eleventh and Washington sts., in the center of Oakland. After drinking the Fong Wan Herb Tea he was completely relieved.

HIS UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL.

For several years I was troubled with NERVOUS ATTACKS. I visited the most prominent physicians in both OAKLAND and SAN FRANCISCO without obtaining permanent results. Finally, when an OPERATION ON MY SPINE had been suggested, I quit and began drinking the FONG WAN CHINESE HERBS. After seven weeks I felt entirely well. This was in September, 1916, and up to the present time there has been no recurrence of the attacks. R. LEWIS.

CARPET CLEANING CARPET CLEANING

Lester Carpet Cleaning Co.

Monarch of the Cleaners

Clean carpets wear longest. Dirt is the destroyer of all things, and the carpets and rugs underfoot naturally receive special abuse by this common enemy. A clean carpet or rug will brighten up the dreariest room. The fundamental consideration, then, in the care of the home, is to keep the rugs and carpets clean. Old-fashioned methods of beating have been found inadequate, and science has come along with gentler and much more effective means of removing dirt, germs, spots and restoring original colors. Any one who has ever attempted to clean a carpet on the floor knows the dire results, of the struggle, an uneven, blotchy carpet, and general dissatisfaction. LESTER LEADS THE WAY. Each carpet or rug cleaned separately. Our large cleaning machine is the only one of its kind in California. Inspection invited. There are no tumblers used. With the leadership of carpet and rug cleaning has grown a system of service. Here you are assured of quick, courteous and efficient service. All of this service is as close to the people as their telephone. Considering the relative cost of so great a service, there would seem to be no excuse for dingy, germ-breeding carpets or rugs. Let us begin today on a clean carpet drive. It is not necessary (if it is customary) to wait until spring. The original cost of carpets and rugs justifies their upkeep. The home is as clean as its floor covering.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

A NEW freight steamer line between San Francisco and Portland is projected by the Stark Steamship Lines, Incorporated, which applied to the railroad commission today for authority to issue 997 shares of capital stock of $100 par value.

The president of the corporation is Captain H. C. Coburn, former officer in the United States navy and previously engaged in the shipping business. It is proposed either to charter the steamship Georgina Rolph and Annette Rolph, or to charter or purchase two other vessels, probably motor ships of 1500 tons burden. Directors of the company include William T. Hollingworth, F. M. Stark and John A. Sinclair.

UNION SHELL MERGER TO BE EFFECTIVE ABOUT JAN. 1.

According to President C. H. Schlaacks of the Union Oil of Delaware, the merger of that company with the American interests of the Royal Dutch Company, known as the Shell Oil Company in California, which was approved yesterday in New York, will become effective the latter part of December or the first of the coming year. Properties of the Union Company not in the merger will be liquidated and the proceeds distributed among the stockholders.

All American interests of the Royal Dutch Company go into the consolidation except its oil tankers. The ratification enables the two corporations to begin creation of a new corporation as yet unnamed with a capital stock of 10,000,000 shares (no par value) Royal Dutch receiving seventy-two per cent and Union Oil twenty-eight per cent.

On completion of the new company Union Oil will be allowed the choice of fourteen directors out of 19, who are to constitute the board. It is understood Union Oil also will dominate the list of leading officials or executives.

TARIFF MAN SEEKS TO ADJUST FRACTIONS IN RATES.

In order to avoid fractions of cents in rates on rock, sand, gravel, hay, straw, fertilizer and dried fruits, F. W. Gomph applied to the Railroad Commission today for authority to adjust tariffs. Gomph is the agent for the Pacific Freight Tariff bureau composed of western carriers. The fractions complained of resulted from percentage increases granted in August, 1920. In no case will the requested change in rates be more than a quarter cent per hundred pounds and both increases and reductions will result from the adjustment.

The California Wool Growers' Association will hold its annual meeting on November 28 in Fresno.

Fred A. Ellenwood, the association's president, and Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, who are among the leaders in the tariff campaign before Congress, will report to the convention on the work in Washington, D. C. Representatives of the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture, including the Forest Service, are to be on the program.

The subjects for discussion include wages, shearing, grazing fees, range rentals and other problems confronting the sheep industry in the state.

ALAMEDA SUGAR SHOWS WAY TO AVOID ASSESMENT.

President C. H. Crocker of the Alameda Sugar company, is urging stockholders to take up $478,000 bonds of the Alameda Farms company, which the sugar company has in its treasury, as a means of avoiding the assessment of $2.50 a share, which has just been ordered levied. Crocker suggests that the holders of the 60,000 shares of sugar company stock take these bonds at 95 pro-rata in the proportion of $10 for each share of stock.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage lien on 10,379 acres at Meridian, Sutter county, or at the rate of $120 per acre. They are 6 per cent bonds, callable at 105. Under the sinking fund feature, $236,000 have been retired, $786,000 are outstanding in the hands of the public, and $478,000 are in the treasury.

SURTAX PROSPECTIVE INCREASE AIDS BEAR.

The Wall Street Journal's Financial Review today says:

Traders sold stocks early in the day on the rejection by the house of the president's compromise proposal of 40 per cent in the surtax rate and his acceptance of the Senate's maximum figure of 50 per cent. The bearish effect was more than overcome by the resumption of dividends by Chesapeake & Ohio and a decided easing in the time money rate.

Many stocks appeared heavy on this professional selling early in the day but the losses in the majority of instances were covered in the final dealings.

Call money, after renewing at 4½ per cent, got up to 5½ per cent later in the session.

MARKET REACTS, MANY LEADERS SHOW DECLINE

Central Railroad of Jersey Rises 10 Points After Its Coal Sale.

NEW YORK Nov. 18.—Uncertain price tendencies, due to specific causes, characterized the early trading in the stock market today. Central Railroad of New Jersey rose 10 points on two transactions, presumably on the advantageous sale of its coal properties. Industrial Alcohol fell 2⅝ points as a result of the suspension of the dividend announced after the close of yesterday's session. In general, the list was inclined to react, oils motors, equipments and tobaccos recording losses extending from fractions to 1 point.

Shippings and sugars and several of the prominent steels and coppers were firm.

Shippings and coppers, especially Mercantile Marine preferred, American Smelting and Anaconda together with numerous utilities and obscure equipments, sustained the list during the first hour, but a general reaction set in before noon.

Mexican Petroleum fell 2⅝. General Asphalt 2, and Industrial Alcohol added another point to its early loss.

Motors, leathers, tobaccos, sugars, textiles, chemicals and chain store issues were lower by 1 to 2 points. Oils moved sluggishly, showing no material change. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 4½ per cent.

Chesapeake and Ohio fulfilled predictions by resuming dividends and added two points to yesterday's rise. Other coalers, notably Reading and Lehigh Valley, were strong and Mercantile Marine preferred extended its gain to over 5 points. Declaration of the regular dividend on National Cloak and Suit preferred was accompanied by a sharp rebound.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Crop damage reports from Argentina led to a moderate advance in the wheat market today, during the early dealings. Opening quotations ranged from ½c off to ⅝c gain, with December $1.04¾ to $1.06, and May, $1.08 to $1.08¼, followed by upturns all around.

Subsequently reports of a hot wave in Australia and of crop deterioration there brought about a further upturn. The close was firm, 2⅞c to 3⅛c net higher, with December $1.08¼ to $1.08⅜, and May, $1.11⅛ to $1.11¼.

Corn and oats, although dull, showed firmness in line with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅜c higher, May 53¼c to 53⅜c, corn held near to the initial range.

Later the market scored a material advance with trade somewhat broader and Government plans to help finance corn being given increased attention. The close was firm, 1c to 1⅜@1½c net higher, with May 54¼c to 54⅜@

Oats started a shade off to ⅛@¼c up, May 37¼@⅜c to 37⅜c and then hardened a little.

Higher quotations on hogs tended to strengthen provisions.

Corn—No. 2, yellow, 49¼@49½c; No. 2, mixed, 48c.

Rye—No. 3, 81c.

Barley—50@56c.

Timothy Seed—$5@6.

Clover Seed—$12@18.50.

The close:

Wheat — December, $1.08¼; May, $1.11⅛.

Corn—December, 49c; May, 54¼c.

Oats—December, 33¼c; May, 38⅛c.

Pork—January, 14c.

Lard—January, 8.35c; May, 8.77c.

Ribs—January, 7.02c; May, 7.40c.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The cotton market opened 3 to 7 points lower today with only a slight trade. The selling was by spot houses, Liverpool and local interests, based mainly on heaviness at Liverpool. New Orleans, Japanese interests and Wall Street were buyers. After the start the market showed a steady tone around the initial levels.

EGGS TAKE NEW JUMP AS DEMAND EAST INCREASES

Frost Putting Quietus on the Truck Crop Remnants in This Part of State.

Eggs took another sharp rise today. Extras went from 68 to 73½ cents a dozen, extra firsts from 63 to 70 cents, extra pullets from 52 to 54 cents, first pullets stood at 50½ cents and undersized took on a cent from 47 to 48. A cold weather market in the East is given as the cause for the advance. There are reported a million and a half cases of storage eggs soon to be released. As production also will increase about December 1 dealers are predicting that there will be little further advances and very probable drops as the holiday season approaches.

Frost last night did much damage to peppers, berries, carrots, peas, celery, beans and other crops of which remnants are still being gathered in and about the bay region and adjacent portions of the interior valley. Celery was in sharp demand with offerings short and the price at from 13 to 14 cents. Peppers are reported to have been most seriously injured by the cold.

Strawberries and raspberries will get their quietus in the northern part of the state if present temperatures continue two or three nights more, [illegible] the supply is very limited [illegible] prices stood at a dollar minimum [illegible] drawers of both varieties.

[illegible] potato market continues very firm. Demand on northern markets from Chicago is increasing. Texas and Southern California are persisting in drawing heavily on the river growers, thus both in California and the Northwestern states the market is balanced and looks to be poising itself for another spring.

The crop report of November 1 indicated that conditions had steadily improved in many of the northern districts of the state up to the end of the growing season, and that the crop is materially larger than previously estimated, although still short of the five-year average. The whole industry, however, seems to be confident that prices will be fairly well maintained, in view of the fact that a great many merchants in the country towns are stocked with potatoes which must retail at fairly high prices if normal margins of profit are to be obtained.

Until a few days ago it was not apparent that any considerable proportion of the shipments were going into large commercial storages and there is reason to believe that nearly all of the unprecedented carlot movement up to the middle of November has gone rather directly to the immediate localities in which the stock will be consumed. The shipment of 2210 cars on October 15 constitutes a new daily maximum for any year.

The turkey market continues very firm. There is demand for more live birds than have been offered up to date. The dressed article, however, is coming in fair quantities with sidewalk sales at from 43 to 45 cents. The Sacramento valley ranchers are the majority of the consignors thus far.

BUILDING SHOWS LARGE GAIN OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY

Nearly $2,000,000,000 Worth of Contracts Let During Year to Date.

Building operations have taken on new life of late. In twenty-seven states 10,455 new projects have been started during the last month for which returns have yet been tabulated, and of these upward of 8000 actual contracts have been recorded. The majority of these contracts called for the erection of dwellings.

Up to October 1, 57,000 odd building contracts have been awarded, calling for an expenditure of about $1,750,-000,000. Of these contracts 53,500, totaling almost $600,000,000 were for dwellings, all of which must be furnished and decorated. Much of the remainder of the immense investment is for commercial and public buildings on which a large sum must be spent for furnishings.

While some of these buildings have been completed the majority of them have not yet received their finishing touches, yet there is in sight a large volume of sales of merchandise ranging from our coverings to the shades, etc., on the topmost windows.

This business is distributed over a wide area extending from Maine to Minnesota and from New York to the Carolinas. There has also been a considerable volume of building in the remaining twenty-one States of the Union, which will call for the expenditure of additional sums for furnishings.

In addition there is a project on foot to urge the immediate letting of a lot of additional building contracts as a partial solution of the unemployment problem.

New Stage Line to Oakland Protested

PATTERSON, Nov. 17.—The Patterson Chamber of Commerce has elected officers as follows for the ensuing year: E. H. Tienken, again chosen president; J. K. Kinsman, vice-president; C. M. Mack, director for two-year term; H. S. Ellis, E. P. Halley, J. L. Munson, directors for the three-year term.

Resolutions were passed to be presented to the railroad commission, protesting against the granting of a permit to Handeerkin & Landis to operate an auto freight service between Oakland and Newman. It was held that the railroad now gives all the service necessary and that the granting of this franchise would delay the time when the railroad would provide additional service for the West Side.

During the evening E. P. Halley presided as tostmaster and a number of speakers were heard, among them L. A. Mills, president of the Stockton Progressive Business Club, who brought a message of community greeting and stated that the club had gone on record in favor of the proposed West Side paved highway from Tracy to Fresno.

The New York Herald says: "The new Mexico oil field in Texas appears to be looming large in petroleum. Although it is in its infancy, considerable speculations to the effect that production there will have on prices is being heard among oil producers. The Pure Oil—Humphreys interests, the Magnolia Oil Co., the Houston Oil Co., and the Kansas and Gulf Co., have been mentioned with most prominence in connection with the operation in that territory. It is said the Sinclair Cons Oil corporation are making arrangement to buy much oil of Mexica producers and pipe it to middle western refineries."

Canadian Pacific earnings on second week in November show decrease of $951,000. From January 1st the decrease is $15,900,000.

Investigations indicate that short covering has been chiefly responsible for the sensational advance in Pierce Oil, at stated improving business with higher prices of oil have caused inside accumulation particularly of the preferred issue. It is also intimated in some quarters that financial developments are favorable where time ago were discouraging.

The strength in Pere Marquette is reported to be due chiefly to two developments—rapidly increasing earning power and better financial status, owing to payment by Government of war debts and also on account of the fact that the road has been getting rid of some "sucker" lines unprofitable to it. The company is understood in good physical condition with ample rolling stock.

Current Events says: "Cross currents are suggested by the development of trading policies operating for the buying of rails for turns, while selling industrials for reaction. The professional element is expected to use against the market the unexpected passing of senate 50% surtax bill by the house over the protest of the president."

GREAT EXPANSION IN POWER PLANS SOUTH AND EAST

Industrial Activity Grows As New Lines Are Strung To Many Cities.

Exclusive to The TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—One of the light and power companies of New England is now in the money market seeking a loan of $4,000,000 to be represented by cumulative eight per cent preferred stock. This corporation is capitalized in common and preferred stock for nearly one-half million dollars. Yet a few years ago the property now represented by this capitalization was latent, undeveloped. It was the energy which was in one of the rivers of Connecticut and which had flowed uncaptured from prehistoric times to the sea. Capital and courage, however, combined to utilize this power and it is now in material and visible form by means of hydro-electric plants and nearly a hundred miles of high tension transmission lines by means of which power and light are furnished to large industrial communities in western Connecticut.

POWER EXPANSION.

In the far South hydro-electric energy has been made available for operating many factories and trolley lines, although by reason of the continued drouth of the past summer the rivers have run low so that it has been necessary to obtain the electric energy by steam power. These two illustrations are well worth considering in view of the remarkable study of the so-called super-power possibilities along the eastern coast and for some distance inland. There will be, of course, recollection of the recommendation which was made by John C. Calhoun when he was secretary of war, in the administration of President Monroe. Today, a hundred years after, Calhoun recommended the construction of an interior coast line waterway stretching from Boston as far South as South Carolina, the project is revived and to some extent principally at Cape Cod and in New Jersey has been completed. It is along the line recommended by Calhoun where now the government of the United States is preparing to establish a super-power system. When Calhoun wrote and spoke commercial electric energy was unknown. It was ten years later that Farraday discovered the mystic law which thirty years later made possible the construction of the first dynamo and the present day construction of stupendous power producing dynamo mechanism. Therefore, Calhoun was compelled to rely upon an interior coast line artificial waterway, not only for protection but for coastwide commerce. We had little or no manufacturing at that time. New England was just beginning to develop the cotton manufacturing industry. The wonderful expansion of industry and manufacture in New England, in eastern New York and Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland, didn't begin until about the time of our Civil War.

SUPER-POWER SURVEY.

The investigation by the United States authorities which was authorized with an appropriation by Congress will undoubtedly stimulate the development of new and well concentrated power throughout this district stretching from Boston as far south as Washington. What a few hydro-electric companies in New England and in New York State have accomplished furnishes an example sufficient to justify an undertaking whereby advantage may be taken of the water powers so as to concentrate into large generating plants or systems power sufficient to operate the industries, the railroads, the trolley lines and to furnish light all along this coast district extending perhaps a hundred miles into the interior. If this be done there will be a saving in the cost now entailed in the production of power. A report is made to President Harding that the project if carried out will eliminate waste and it is had been in operation two years ago it would have made possible the saving of 25,000,000 tons of coal and by 1930 will save 50,000,000 tons besides furnishing at low cost and from one great distributing plant the energy which is needed for operating industries which on the whole are greater than those in any section of the United States. It is possible and some of the engineers regard it as probable that the demonstration recently made at Pittsfield, Massachusetts of the production of the equivalent of a million in electric voltage and the probability that this may make possible very long distance transmission of electric energy, is associated with the demonstration, of the practicability and economy of the proposed super-power system and the concentration into a single plant of the energy which is needed for wide distribution.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

Thirty-five days from Cardiff, the Norwegian motor ship Niels Nielson has arrived at Oakland Harbor, and docked at the King Coal Company's bunkers, where she is unloading 5000 tons of coal loaded at that port. This is the first cargo of Cardiff coal brought to this port in five years. During the last six months the King Coal Company has been receiving coal from Denver, Australia, Japan and Cardiff, and at the present time is supplying all the fuel to incoming vessels that are burning coal instead of oil, besides furnishing fuel for homes and factory. There are three different coal companies in Oakland Harbor, all doing well, and only one bunker on the San Francisco waterfront.

According to the long passages, which are being made by several sailing vessels en route to and from this port to the South Seas and Australia, it seems that the weather is very calm, as sixty days from Australia is considered an average passage, and some of the craft are out several days over that. The schooner Robert Lewers is three weeks overdue at Honolulu from Puget Sound with a lumber cargo, although no fears are felt by the owners.

Nothing has been heard of the three halibut fishing schooners, Swiftsure, Sherman and the Baltic, which were last seen on October 1 in Alaska waters, just prior to the big gale that came up in that locality. Three government vessels have been searching those waters for several weeks but they have been unable to locate the vessels or crews, or any signs of wreckage of the vessels. These craft are owned and operated out of Seattle.

The wrecking steamer Homer of the Hanlon shipyard has returned to Oakland from Point Conception, where she has been attending the steamer Thomas Crowley, which was on the rocks there. After getting the stranded vessel off and taking her to Los Angeles the Homer returned to Point Conception and picked up her moorings and other wrecking gear and returned home after a successful salvage job.

The steamer Mayfair also reached her dock at the Sunset Lumber Company, East Oakland, from Eureka, with 580,000 feet of redwood lumber, and the steamer C. A. Smith arrived at Bay Point with 1,500,000 feet of lumber from Coos Bay.

The power schooner Osprey is aground on a sand bar at Marshfield, Ore., and is unloading her cargo so as to get off at high water. She had reached Gold Beach at the mouth of Rogue river, and on account of the channel having shifted, the skipper was not aware of it, and kept on the old channel which had not enough water to pass her over the bar.

A wireless report from the steamer Victoria received here today, states that the vessel, which is bound to Seattle from Nome, has encountered a very heavy gale since passing out of Unimak Pass. She will stop at Seward to take on some cargo and then proceed home. All this season the Victoria has had a series of bad weather while on her route between the two ports.

The steam schooner Thomas Crowley, which was on the rocks near Point Conception for two weeks, is due to arrive at Oakland tonight, and will go direct to the drydock for repairs. Temporary repairs were made on her at Los Angeles.

The first heavy frost of the season covered the entire district of all the bay cities, and especially along the waterfront. At some of the docks it resembled real snow, but the sun soon came out and melted the frost. At sundown until sunset tomorrow the weather will be very cold with southerly wind, but very light, and frost in the morning, the weather reports asserts.

Captain Joseph Shanks, steamer Derbyline.

Captain George W. Gove, steam tug Sea Eagle.

Captain H. Rufer Holms, steamer Mukilteo.

Captain J. H. Jones, steamer Charlie Watson.

The hero in "Way Down East" faced no greater risks than Priscilla Dean faces on the roaring timber in the log jam scene in "Conflict."
